No. 2561T.C.

NOTIFICATION.

Government Purchase of Tea for the United Kingdom.

Northern India.

TENDERS are invited by the undersigned from Northern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917, and should state whether a quantity in excess of 40 per cent. can be supplied if necessary. This percentage will include all tea shipped to England from Indian ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917, each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of an estate being unable to supply the full required percentage of every grade the fact should be stated in the form of tender, and any adjustment necessary in price will be made before the contract is completed. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs, and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment. 1916 tea will be accepted as part of the 40 per cent. allotment, provided it is shipped immediately. The price of 1916 tea shipped by London controlled estates will be arranged by the Food Controller in consultation with owners, while that of similar tea shipped by Indian controlled estates will be fixed by the undersigned at a reduced rate.

The contract price, which will be f.o.b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows :—

I. Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production, at rate of exchange 1*s.* 4*d.*

II. Estates selling on the Calcutta market.—The average Calcutta auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping, and minus sale charges and other Calcutta charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has, in consultation with the Indian Tea Association, decided that a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

N.B.—The allowance for increased cost of production may be raised hereafter to three farthings, if the Food Controller is satisfied that the higher rate is justified

III. Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta market.—The average sale price realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV. Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta, and new estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The average for the three years should be calculated by dividing the total sale-proceeds by the total crop for the three years, the result being worked out to two places of decimals of a penny or an anna as the case may be. Where a concern consists of two or more estates each manufacturing its own teas, separate figures should be furnished for each estate. The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale-proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold the teas.

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. The delivery of the amount contracted for will be taken in equal monthly instalments so far as freight arrangement permit, but, in any event, delivery in warehouse of the whole quantity will be taken and payment made on or before the 31st August 1918, payments made in August bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the 1st August. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas.

In order to enable the undersigned to conclude the contracts with estates, the following information in respect of each estate controlled in India should be furnished to him without delay, on a form which will be supplied on application to this office or to the Secretaries, Indian Tea Association, Assam and Surma Valley Branches, Indian Tea Association, Duars, Terai and Darjeeling Planters' Associations :—

CHINA SEA—NEW STORM SIGNAL CODE.

No. 2 (Second publication).—The following Notice to Mariners (No. 648 of 1917) issued by the Coast Inspector, Shanghai, is republished :—

Notice is hereby given that on the 1st February 1918 the appended new Storm Signal Code will come into operation at the Storm Signal Stations of the Maritime Customs, at the French Municipal Storm Signal Station at Shanghai, and at the British Storm Signal Station at Weihaiwei.

Copies of the Code in single sheet form can be obtained from the several Harbour Masters' Offices of the Maritime Customs.

CHINA SEAS STORM SIGNAL CODE.

(Operative from the 1st February 1918.)

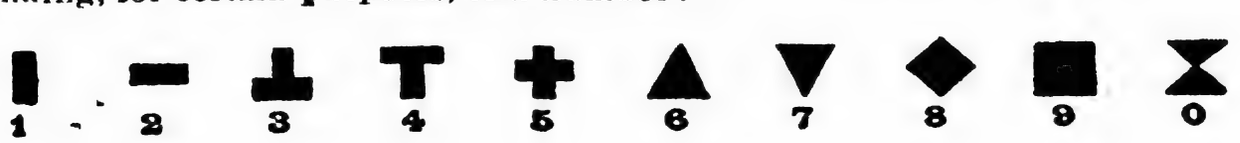
GENERAL EXPLANATION.

1°. The Signals are made by means of certain Symbols, each corresponding, for certain purposes, to a number :—



2°. The Signals are hoisted at the yard-arms and masthead of the Storm Signal Mast and have the following general characteristics :—

Typhoon and Continental Depression Signals :

(a) 4 symbols at one yard-arm showing the position of the centre.
(b) 3 symbols at the other yard-arm showing the direction of motion and/or certain characteristics (see Tables Nos. 1, 2, and 3).
(c) 1 symbol at the masthead showing the time the warning was issued by the Observatory (see Table No. 4).

Gale Signals :

(d) 1 symbol at one yard-arm showing the region threatened (see Table No. 5).
(e) 2 symbols at the other yard-arm showing the general direction of the wind (see Table No. 1).
(f) 1 symbol at the masthead showing the time the warning was issued by the Observatory (see Table No. 4).

The two upper symbols of group (a) indicate by their corresponding numbers the latitude and the two lower symbols the longitude of the centre of a circle of specified size within which the centre of the typhoon or depression lies. The symbols for longitude give the units and tens only ; thus, 32 indicates longitude 132.

The two upper symbols of group (b) indicate the direction in which the typhoon is travelling (see Table No. 1) or, alternately, certain conditions of the typhoon (see Table No. 2). The third and lowest symbol of group (b) indicates the radius of the circle whose centre is shown by the latitude and longitude. This symbol may also indicate degree of intensity. In the case of a continental depression it indicates that it is such, and the corresponding latitude and longitude is the centre of an indefinite area affected. (See Table No. 3.)

Caution.—It should be clearly understood that the position indicated by the latitude and longitude signalled does not purport to be the position of the centre of the typhoon. It indicates merely the centre of a circle of a specified radius within which the centre of the typhoon is believed to lie.

Table No. 1.—Direction Signals.

Two upper Symbols of hoist.

These indicate the direction in which a typhoon is travelling or the direction from which a gale may be expected.

Note.—The numbers corresponding to the symbols indicate the number of points from North.

Table No. 2.—Condition Signals.

Table No. 3.—Radius and Intensity Signals.

The lowest of three Symbols.

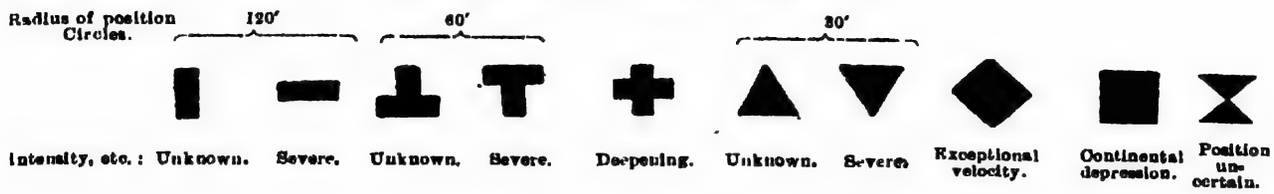

Table No. 4.—Time Signals.

Single Symbol at masthead.

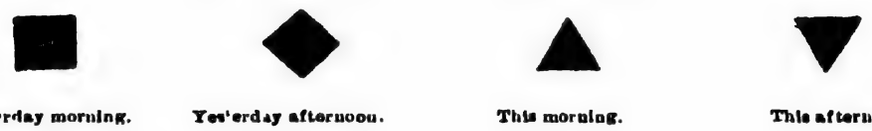

Table No. 5.—Gale Signals.

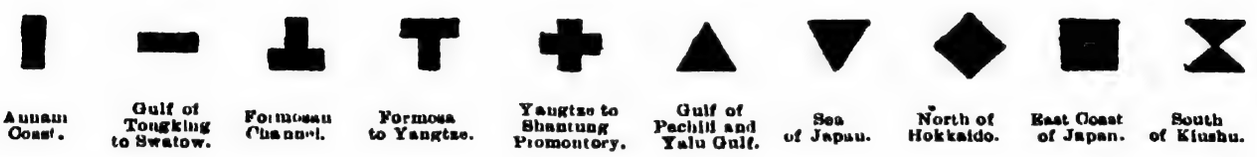
One Symbol at yard-arm.



It is important that seamen should realise that the position of the centre of the typhoon as signalled is the position according to the data possessed by the Observatory at the time of the issue of the warning. That data may be as much as 12 hours old. Thus, if the time signal indicates that the warning was issued "This morning," it may be that the position corresponds to data concerning yesterday afternoon.

If the signal "Deepening" is made, it indicates that there is reason to believe that the barometric gradient and, consequently, the intensity of the typhoon are increasing.

If the signal "Exceptional velocity" is made, it indicates that there is reason to believe that the rate of progression is 25 per cent. or more greater than the average rate.

If the signal "Position uncertain" is made, it indicates that the data possessed is unreliable and that the position signalled is a mere probability.

The several tracks which a typhoon may follow in the several months are very varied, and the velocity of progression is liable to be erratic. It is not safe to count on a typhoon maintaining a velocity indicated by previous positions of its centre. The velocity is liable to increase very suddenly. Seamen are recommended to study from available sources the tracks and average velocities for the month and locality concerned. In the absence of more exact information the following table of velocities in knots for the several latitudes may be useful.

Latitude.	Before Recurving.				After Recurving.
	Ordinary limits.	Mean.	Exceptional Velocity as signalled.	Maximum recorded.	Ordinary limits.	Mean.	Exceptional Velocity as signalled.	Maximum recorded.
5° to 15°	5 to 12	9	11	22	...	...	...	...
15° „ 20°	5 „ 14	10	12½	24	5 to 17	10	13	22
20° „ 25°	7 „ 16	11	13	19	14 „ 23	17	21	30
25° „ 30°	7 „ 13	11	13	15	11 „ 23	18	23	47
30° „ 35°	...	...	...	10	11 „ 36	20	25	42
35° „ 40°	...	...	...	16	12 „ 36	21	26	50
40° „ 45°	...	...	...	...	17 „ 36	21	26	48

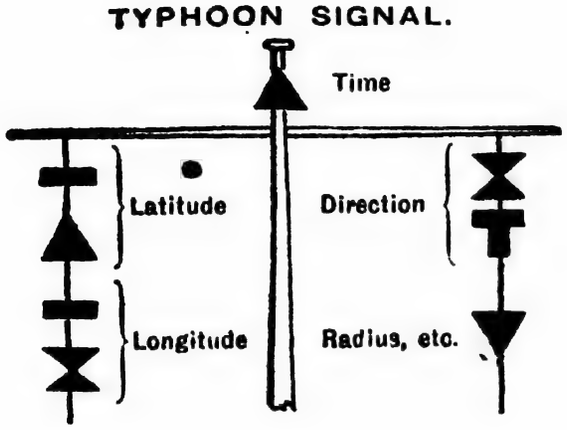
50° „ 55°	...	...	...	...	12 „ 37	21	26	49

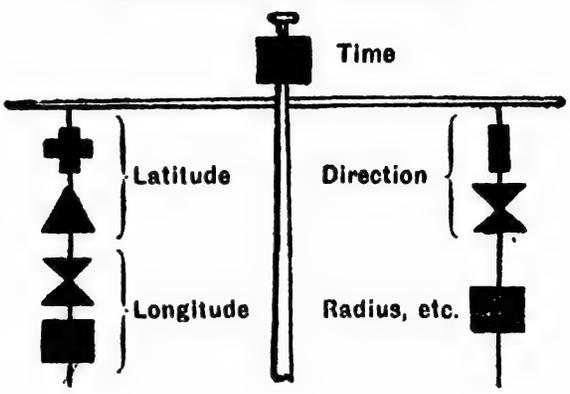
Seamen should realise that, whatever may be the probability of a certain velocity in a given case, there is always the possibility that it may be greatly exceeded. The safest guide is to make allowance for extreme velocity.

TYPHOON SIGNAL.



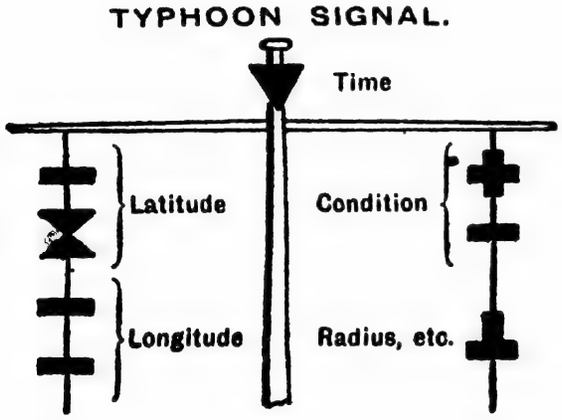
A severe typhoon within 30 miles of lat. 26° N., long. 120° E., travelling N.E. Warning issued this morning.

DEPRESSION SIGNAL.



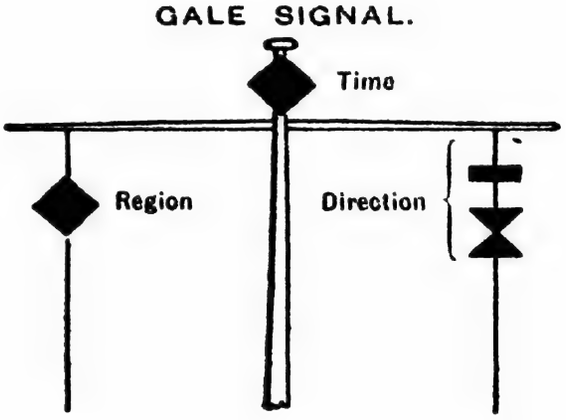
A continental depression in lat. 56° N., long. 109° E., travelling E.S.E. Warning issued yesterday morning.

TYPHOON SIGNAL.



A typhoon within 60 miles of lat. 20° N., long. 122° E., splitting in two. Warning issued this afternoon.

GALE SIGNAL.



The north coast of Hokkaido threatened by a gale from S.W. Warning issued yesterday afternoon.

The China Seas Storm Signal Code is used at the following Storm Signal Stations :—

1. (a) The Stations of the Maritime Customs at New-chwang, Taku, Chefoo, Chinkiang, Woosung, Gutzlaff, Pagoda Anchorage, and Amoy ...	In connexion with Storm Warnings issued by :
(b) The French Municipal Station at Shanghai
(c) The British Station at Weihaiwei ... (Storm Warnings are also issued to, but are not signalled from, Antung, Chinwangtao, Hankow, Ningpo, Chinhai, and Wenchow.)	Sikawei Observatory.
2. The Station of the Maritime Customs at Swatow	Royal Observatory, Hongkong.

The China Seas Storm Signal Code is issued by joint agreement between the Observatories at Sikawei and Hanoi, and the Chinese Maritime Customs. It will come into operation at the Storm Signal Stations named above on the 1st February 1918. The date of it coming into operation at the Storm Signal Stations of the Hanoi Observatory will be notified later by that Observatory.

CONSTITUTION OF THE CALCUTTA SANSKRIT ASSOCIATION.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Education Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 21ST JANUARY 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 142Edn.

READ—

(1) Resolution No. 1073T.-G., dated the 19th June 1908, and subsequent orders regarding the Sanskrit Examination Board.

(2) Resolution No. 966, dated the 10th February 1913, convening a Conference on Sanskrit learning, the report of the Conference and connected correspondence.

(3) Correspondence with the Assam Administration and the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, regarding the constitution of the Calcutta Sanskrit Association.

BY Resolution No. 1073T.-G., dated the 19th June 1908, the Government of Bengal constituted a Sanskrit Examination Board, consisting of 11 members, to select examiners for the first, second and title examinations, to receive the reports of the examiners, to grant titles and certificates to successful students, to distribute stipends to pupils and rewards to teachers on the results of the examinations, to notify the results of the examinations, and to communicate to Government lists of titles and certificates and of stipends and rewards. The Board was also expected to advise Government in regard to the courses of studies to be followed for the various Sanskrit examinations and in the several classes of Sanskrit institutions, the fees to be paid by the candidates for the examinations, the distribution of grants-in-aid to Sanskrit tols and the rules to be framed for the first, second and title examinations. The original period for which the Board was constituted expired in June 1911, and since then it has been retained on a temporary basis pending the introduction of a scheme of re-organization.

2. By Resolution No. 966, dated the 10th February 1913, a Conference, presided over by the Hon'ble Sir Ashutosh Mukharji, was appointed to advise Government on the future constitution and functions of the Examination Board as well as on other questions relating to Sanskrit learning. The Conference were of opinion that the existing system of Sanskrit examination required modification and expansion. They recommended that the Board should be replaced by an organization, to be called the Calcutta Sanskrit Association, which would comprise a large deliberative Convocation and a Council, which should be the sole executive.

They proposed that the Convocation should be as large a body as its functions permitted, and that the maximum number of members should be fixed at 500. Any member of the Convocation should have authority to move a resolution in the Convocation on any question relating to the encouragement of indigenous Sanskrit learning. Such resolutions should be forwarded, with the opinion of the Council, for the consideration of Government. The original members of Convocation should be nominated by Government, and on the occurrence of vacancies fresh appointments should be made by Government on the recommendation of the Council. Members of the Convocation should hold office for five years and should be eligible for re-nomination, the original members retiring by rotation.

The Conference recommended that the Council should be the general agent and adviser of Government in all matters connected with indigenous Sanskrit learning, that it should conduct examinations, award titles and perform the other duties assigned by Resolution No. 1073, dated the 19th June 1908, to the Sanskrit Examination Board. It should consist of fifteen ordinary members, six representing Calcutta and the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, six representing the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions, and three representing the province of Assam, and of five additional members who would be scholars trained in Western method. One of the pandits from both Western and Eastern Bengal should be elected by the pandits themselves, the remaining members being appointed by the Governments of Bengal and Assam. The President of the Council should be appointed by Government, and the Principal of the Sanskrit College should be the Secretary: they should also be President and Secretary, respectively, of the Convocation. The members of the Council appointed by Government should hold office for three years, the original members retiring by rotation, while the two members elected by the pandits should hold office for one year only.

3. The Governor in Council has approved of the constitution of the Calcutta Sanskrit Association on these lines, and the administration of Assam has agreed to participate in the scheme. The Governor in Council is therefore pleased to constitute the Council of the Calcutta Sanskrit Association, including the three members nominated by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Assam, as follows:—

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1917-18.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1915-16 the area under Wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under Wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1915-16 averaged (a) 39·1 per cent., and (b) 15·9 per cent., respectively.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The first forecast deals only with the area sown and general character of the season.

Area Sown.—The total area sown with the crop up to date this year, according to District Officers' estimates, amounts to 122,700 acres against 123,700 acres and 128,800 acres shown in the first and final forecasts, respectively, of last year.

Character of the Season.—In September the rainfall was about normal, but in October the fall was much in excess throughout the Province. The sowings were generally late in consequence. Subsequent dry weather has, somewhat, improved the situation. The present outlook of the crop is reported as fair.

Government Purchase of Tea for the United Kingdom

Northern India.

TENDERS are invited by the undersigned from Northern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917, and should state whether a quantity in excess of 40 per cent. can be supplied if necessary. This percentage will include all tea shipped to England from Indian ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917 each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of an estate being unable to supply the full required percentage of every grade the fact should be stated in the form of tender, and any adjustment necessary in price will be made before the contract is completed. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs, and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment. 1916 tea will be accepted as part of the 40 per cent. allotment, provided it is shipped immediately. The price of 1916 tea shipped by London controlled estates will be arranged by the Food Controller in consultation with owners, while that of similar tea shipped by Indian controlled estates will be fixed by the undersigned at a reduced rate.

The contract price, which will be f.o.b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows :—

I. Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production, at rate of exchange 1*s.* 4*d.*

II Estates selling on the Calcutta market.—The average Calcutta auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping, and minus sale charges and other Calcutta charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has, in consultation with the Indian Tea Association, decided that a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

N B.—The allowance for increased cost of production may be raised hereafter to three farthings, if the Food Controller is satisfied that the higher rate is justified

III. Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta market.—The average sale prices realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV. Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta, and new estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The average for the three years should be calculated by dividing the total sale-proceeds by the total crop for the three years, the result being worked out to two places of decimals of a penny or an anna as the case may be. Where a concern consists of two or more estates each manufacturing its own teas, separate figures should be furnished for each estate. The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold the teas

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. The delivery of the amount contracted for will be taken in equal monthly instalments so far as freight arrangement permit, but, in any event, delivery in warehouse of the whole quantity will be taken and payment made on or before the 31st August 1918, payments made in August bearing interest at 3 per cent. per annum from the 1st August. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas

In order to enable the undersigned to conclude the contracts with estates, the following information in respect of each estate controlled in India should be furnished to him without delay, on a form which will be supplied on application to this office or to the Secretaries, Indian Tea Association, Assam and Surma Valley Branches Indian Tea Association, Duars, Terai and Darjeeling Planters' Associations :—

to supplement, and in certain matters to supersede, the Royal Charter of Incorporation and the Statutes and Regulations of the Serampore College.

Preamble

WHEREAS, on the 23rd day of February, 1827, the institution established in Serampore, Bengal, and known as the Serampore College, was incorporated by Royal Charter granted by his late Danish Majesty, King Frederick the Sixth, with the powers and privileges in the said Royal Charter set forth, including the power of conferring upon the students of the said College degrees of rank and honour according to their proficiency in science;

And whereas by Article VI of the Treaty of Purchase, dated the 22nd February, 1845, transferring Serampore to the British Government, it was provided that the rights and immunities granted to the Serampore College by the said Royal Charter, as translated and contained in Schedule I to this Act, should not be interfered with, but should continue in force in the same manner as if they had been obtained by a Charter from the British Government, subject to the general law of British India;

And whereas Statutes and Regulations for the better government of the said College and management of its concerns, as contained in Schedule II to this Act, were, on the 12th day of June, 1833, made and established under the powers conferred by Article 4 of the said Royal Charter;

And whereas, under the provisions of the said Royal Charter, the Council of the College consists of a Master or President and two or four members elected as provided in the said Statutes and Regulations, and the management of the College and its general order and government is vested in the Master and Council, and the said power of conferring degrees of rank and honour is vested in the first Council and their successors for ever;

And whereas it is considered that in order to give effect, under the conditions now existing, to the intentions of his late Danish Majesty and of the founders of the said College, that is to say, to promote piety and learning, particularly among the native Christian population of India, the amendment of the constitution of the College, by the enlargement of the Council on an interdenominational basis, with power to delegate some of its functions, in manner hereinafter appearing, is required;

And whereas the present Council of the said College consists of the Reverend George Pearce Gould, M.A., D.D., Master and President, George Barclay Leechman, Esq., Sir George Watson Macalpine, LL.D., the Reverend Robert Forman Horton, M.A., D.D., and the Reverend George Howells, M.A., PH. D., Principal of the College;

And whereas it is deemed expedient by the Governor in Council, with the consent of the said

Council of the Serampore College, that a Faculty and Senate be constituted for the said College in manner hereinafter appearing and that suitable standards be imposed in regard to any secular degrees that may hereafter be conferred by the said Council under the terms of the said Royal Charter;

And whereas it is necessary to make provision for the above purposes by subjecting the said Royal Charter, Statutes and Regulations to an Act of the legislature under the general law of British India in accordance with the terms of the aforesaid Treaty;

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council has been obtained to the passing of this Act;

Marshman shall be the first Council of the said College, and that in the event of its appearing to them necessary during their lifetime, or in the case of the death of any one of the three members of the said first Council, the survivors or survivor shall and may under their respective hands and seals appoint such other person or persons to be members of the Council of the College, and to succeed each other so as to become members of the said Council in the order in which they shall be appointed, to the intent that the Council of the said College shall for ever consist of at least three persons.

4. And We do hereby further ordain, grant and declare, that for the better government of the said College and the better management of its concerns, the said William Carey, Joshua Marshman and John Clark Marshman, the members of the first Council, shall have full power and authority for the space of ten years from the date of these presents, to make and establish such Statutes as shall appear to them useful and necessary for the government of the said College, in which Statutes they shall define the powers to be entrusted to their successors, to the Professors, the Fellows or Student Tutors and the other officers thereof, and the duties to be performed by these respectively for the management of the estates, lands, revenues and goods—and of the business of the said College, and the manner of proposing, electing, admitting and removing all and every one of the Council, the Professors, the Fellows or Tutors, the officers, the students and the servants thereof, and shall make and establish generally all such other Statutes as may appear to them necessary for the future good government and prosperity of the said College, provided that these Statutes be not contrary to the laws and Statutes of our realm.

5. And We do hereby further ordain, grant and declare that the Statutes thus made and established by the said three members of the first Council and given or left in writing under their respective hands, shall be valid and in full force at the expiration of ten years from the date of these presents, so that no future Council of the College shall have power to alter, change or vary them in any manner whatever, and that the Statutes shall for ever be considered the constitution of the said College. And We do hereby appoint and declare that these Statutes shall be made and established by the said William Carey, Joshua Marshman and John Clark Marshman alone, so that in case either of them should die before the expiration of ten years, the power of completing or perfecting these Statutes shall devolve wholly on the survivors or survivor; and that in case all three of them should die before the expiration of ten years, the Statutes which they have left in writing under their hands, or under the hand of the last survivor among them, shall be considered "The Fundamental Statutes and Constitution of Serampore College", incapable of receiving either addition or alteration, and shall and may be registered in our Royal Court of Chancery as "The Statutes and Constitution of Serampore College".

6. And We do hereby further appoint, grant and declare that from and after the completion of the Statutes of the said College in the above said time of ten years, the said Council of the College shall be deemed to consist of a Master or President and two or four members who may be Professors or otherwise as the Statutes may direct so that the said Council shall not contain less than three, nor more than five persons, as shall be defined in the Statutes. And We do hereby further appoint, grant, and declare, that after the expiration of the said ten years, the said Council of the College and their successors for ever shall have power to make and establish such orders and bye-laws as shall appear to them useful and necessary for the government of the said College, and to alter, suspend or repeal those already made, and from time to time make such new ones in their room as shall appear to them most proper and expedient provided the same be not repugnant to the Statutes of the College or the laws of our realm, and that after the expiration of these ten years any member of the Council shall have power to move the enactment of any new bye-law, or the alteration, suspension or repeal of any existing one provided notice of such motion shall have been delivered in writing to the Master and read from the Chair at one previous meeting of the Council of the said College, but that no such motion shall be deemed to have passed in the affirmative, until the same shall have been discussed and decided by ballot at another meeting summoned especially for that purpose, a majority of the members then present having voted in the affirmative; and in this as in all other cases, if the votes be equal, the Master or President shall have the casting vote.

Given at our Royal Palace in Copenhagen on the twenty-third day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, in the nineteenth year of our reign.

SCHEDULE II.

[See Preamble and sections 10 (1), 14 and 15.]

Statutes and Regulations of the Serampore College.

June 12th, 1833.

1. Article the Third of the Charter granted by His Danish Majesty, having authorized the first Council of Serampore College in their life-time to nominate under their hand and seal such other person or persons for colleagues or successors as may to them appear most proper so that the Council shall always consist of at least three persons, their successors in the Council shall be competent in like manner to nominate in their life-time under their separate hand and seal such person or persons as they may deem most proper to fill vacancies then existing or which may occur on their demise; members thus nominated and chosen shall succeed to the Council in order of their nomination.

2. It being fixed in the Charter that the Council must consist of the Master or President and at least two, but not more than four members, and that on the demise of the Master no act shall be done until another be elected, the Master and Council for the time being shall appoint the next Master under their separate hand and seal. If on the demise of a Master no one be found thus appointed under the hand and seal of a majority of the Council, the senior member of the Council shall succeed as Master.

3. The Charter having given the casting vote to the Master, in all cases when the votes are equal the casting vote shall lie with the Master, and if there be no Master, it shall lie with the Senior Member of the Council.

4. Learning and piety being peculiar to no denomination of Christians, one member of the Council may at all times be of any other denomination besides the Baptist to preserve the original design of the Institution. However if on the election of a Master a number of the Council be equally divided, that part which is entirely of the Baptist denomination shall have the casting vote, whether it includes the Master or not.

5. The management of the College, including its revenues and property, the choice of the Professor and Tutors, the admission of students, the appointment of all functionaries and servants and the general order and government of the College, shall ever be vested in the Master and the Council. The Master shall see that the Statutes and Regulations of the Council be duly carried into effect, and take order for the good government of the College in all things. His signature is necessary to the validity of all deeds, instruments documents and proceedings.

6. "The first Council and their successors for ever" being authorized by the Charter "to confer such degrees of rank and honour as shall encourage learning' in the same manner as other Colleges and Universities, they shall from time to time confer degrees in such branches of Knowledge and Science as may be studied there, in the same manner as the Universities in Denmark, Germany and Great Britain. In doing this the Master and Council shall ad libitum call in the aid of any or all the Professors of Serampore College. All such degrees shall be perfectly free of expense to the person on whom they may be conferred, whether he be in India, Europe or America.

7. No oaths shall be administered in Serampore College either to the Members of the Council, the Professors and Tutors, or the students. In all cases a solemn promise, duly recorded and signed by the party, shall be accepted instead of an oath.

8. Marriage shall be no bar to any office or situation in Serampore College, from that of the Master to that of the lowest student.

9. The salaries of the Professors and Tutors in Serampore College shall be appointed and the means of support for all functionaries, students and servants be regulated by the Council in such manner as shall best promote the objects of the Institution.

10. It is intended that neither the Master nor any Member of the Council in general shall receive any salary. But any Master who may not previously reside in the College shall have a residence there free of rent for himself and his family. And if the Council shall elect any one in Europe or in America, whom they deem eminent for learning and piety, a member of the Council, with a view to choosing him Master should they on trial deem him worthy, the Council shall be competent to appoint him such salary as they may deem necessary, not exceeding, however, the highest given to a Professor.

11. As the founders of the College deem the belief of Christ's Divinity and Atonement essential to vital Christianity, the promotion of which is the grand object of this Institution, no one shall be eligible to the College Council or to any Professorship who is known to oppose these doctrines, and should any one of the Professors or any member of the Council unhappily change his views after his election as to oppose these fundamental doctrines of Christianity, on this being clearly and decidedly proved from his teaching or his writings, he shall vacate the office he previously held. But every proceeding of this nature on the part of the College Council shall be published to the Christian world, with the proofs on which it may rest, as an Appendix to the succeeding Report.

12. Members of the Council are eligible from among the Professors of the College, or from among any in India, Europe, or America, whom the College Council may deem suitable in point of learning, piety, and talent.

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

(Schedule II.—Statutes and Regulations of the Serampore College.)

13. Students are admissible at the discretion of the Council from any body of Christians, whether Protestant, Roman Catholic, the Greek, or the Armenian Church; and for the purpose of study, from the Musalman and Hindu youth, whose habits forbid their living in the College. No caste, colour, or country shall bar any man from admission into Serampore College.

14. Expulsion shall be awarded in cases of open immorality, incorrigible idleness, neglect of the College Statutes and Regulations, or repeated disobedience to the officers of the College.

15. Any Person in India, Europe or America shall be at liberty to found any Professorship, or to attach to Serampore College any annual exhibition or prize for the encouragement of learning in the same manner as in Universities of Great Britain, regulating such endowment according to their own will; and it shall be the duty of the College Council to carry such benefactions into effect in strict consonance with the will of the donors as far as shall be consistent with the Statutes of the College.

16. It shall be lawful for the first Council of the College or their successors to make and rescind any bye-laws whatever, provided they be not contrary to these Statutes.

17. The Charter having declared that the number of the Professors and Students in Serampore College remains unlimited, they shall be left thus unlimited, the number to be regulated only by the gracious providence of God and the generosity of the public in India, Europe and America.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of the Bill is to make certain changes in the constitution of the Serampore College, which is embodied in the Royal Charter of the 23rd February, 1827, and in the Statutes and Regulations made thereunder. The College was founded in the year 1818 when Serampore was Danish territory. On the transfer of Serampore to the British Government in 1845, it was laid down in the Treaty of Purchase that the rights and immunities granted to the College by the Charter should not be interfered with, but should remain in force in the same manner as if they had been obtained by a Charter from the British Government, subject to the general law of British India.

The College authorities desire to utilize the powers given them under the Charter to confer theological degrees on students of all Christian churches; and they recognise that this object will be furthered if the denominational basis upon which the College rests is modified by the creation of an enlarged Council and of a Senate consisting of members belonging to different Christian churches.

Under the Charter, power is taken to grant degrees in other branches of knowledge besides theology. It is considered expedient that this power should be subject to safeguards similar to those prescribed by the Universities Act of 1904. It is therefore provided in the Bill that, if at any time the Council of the College shall intend to grant non-theological degrees, such degrees shall be confined to students of the College and that before it grants such degrees it shall satisfy the Government as to the adequacy of the establishment and the equipment of the College, the academic standard to be maintained and the financial provision made therefor.

CHINA SEA—NEW STORM SIGNAL CODE.

No. 2 (third publication).—The following Notice to Mariners (No. 648 of 1917) issued by the Coast Inspector, Shanghai, is republished :—

Notice is hereby given that on the 1st February 1918 the appended new Storm Signal Code will come into operation at the Storm Signal Stations of the Maritime Customs, at the French Municipal Storm Signal Station at Shanghai, and at the British Storm Signal Station at Weihaiwei.

Copies of the Code in single sheet form can be obtained from the several Harbour Masters' Offices of the Maritime Customs.

CHINA SEAS STORM SIGNAL CODE.

(Operative from the 1st February 1918.)

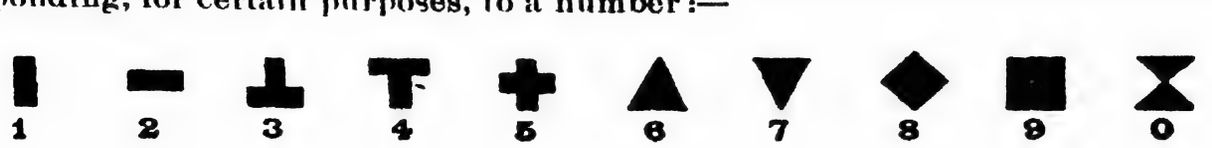
GENERAL EXPLANATION.

1°. The Signals are made by means of certain Symbols, each corresponding, for certain purposes, to a number :—



2°. The Signals are hoisted at the yard-arms and masthead of the Storm Signal Mast and have the following general characteristics :—

Typhoon and Continental Depression Signals :

(a) 4 symbols at one yard-arm showing the position of the centre.
(b) 3 symbols at the other yard-arm showing the direction of motion and/or certain characteristics (see Tables Nos. 1, 2, and 3).
(c) 1 symbol at the masthead showing the time the warning was issued by the Observatory (see Table No. 4).

Gale Signals :

(d) 1 symbol at one yard-arm showing the region threatened (see Table No. 5).
(e) 2 symbols at the other yard-arm showing the general direction of the wind (see Table No. 1).
(f) 1 symbol at the masthead showing the time the warning was issued by the Observatory (see Table No. 4).

The two upper symbols of group (a) indicate by their corresponding numbers the latitude and the two lower symbols the longitude of the centre of a circle of specified size within which the centre of the typhoon or depression lies. The symbols for longitude give the units and tens only ; thus, 32 indicates longitude 132.

The two upper symbols of group (b) indicate the direction in which the typhoon is travelling (see Table No. 1) or, alternately, certain conditions of the typhoon (see Table No. 2). The third and lowest symbol of group (b) indicates the radius of the circle whose centre is shown by the latitude and longitude. This symbol may also indicate degree of intensity. In the case of a continental depression it indicates that it is such, and the corresponding latitude and longitude is the centre of an indefinite area affected. (See Table No. 3.)

Caution.—It should be clearly understood that the position indicated by the latitude and longitude signalled does not purport to be the position of the centre of the typhoon. It indicates merely the centre of a circle of a specified radius within which the centre of the typhoon is believed to lie.

Table No. 1.—Direction Signals.

Two upper Symbols of hoist.

These indicate the direction in which a typhoon is travelling or the direction from which a gale may be expected.

Note —The numbers corresponding to the symbols indicate the number of points from North.

Table No. 4.—Time Signals.

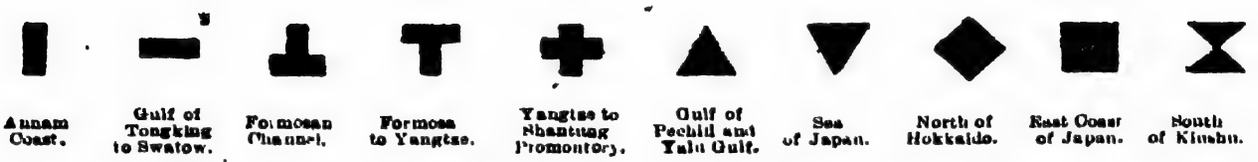
Table No. 5.—Gale Signals.

One Symbol at yard-arm.



It is important that seamen should realise that the position of the centre of the typhoon as signalled is the position according to the data possessed by the Observatory at the time of the issue of the warning. That data may be as much as 12 hours old. Thus, if the time signal indicates that the warning was issued "This morning," it may be that the position corresponds to data concerning yesterday afternoon.

If the signal "Deepening" is made, it indicates that there is reason to believe that the barometric gradient and, consequently, the intensity of the typhoon are increasing.

If the signal "Exceptional velocity" is made, it indicates that there is reason to believe that the rate of progression is 25 per cent. or more greater than the average rate.

If the signal "Position uncertain" is made, it indicates that the data possessed is unreliable and that the position signalled is a mere probability.

The several tracks which a typhoon may follow in the several months are very varied, and the velocity of progression is liable to be erratic. It is not safe to count on a typhoon maintaining a velocity indicated by previous positions of its centre. The velocity is liable to increase very suddenly. Seamen are recommended to study from available sources the tracks and average velocities for the month and locality concerned. In the absence of more exact information the following table of velocities in knots for the several latitudes may be useful.

Latitude.	Before Recurvin .				After Recurving.
	Ordinary limits	Mean.	Exceptional Velocity as signalled.	Maximum recorded.	Ordinary limits.	Mean.	Exceptional Velocity as signalled.	Maximum recorded.
5° to 15°	5 to 12	9	11	22	...	...	...	...
15° „ 20°	5 „ 14	10	12½	24	5 to 17	10	13	22
20° „ 25°	7 „ 16	11	13	19	14 „ 23	17	21	30
25° „ 30°	7 „ 13	11	13	15	11 „ 23	18	23	47
30° „ 35°	...	...	..	10	11 „ 36	20	25	42

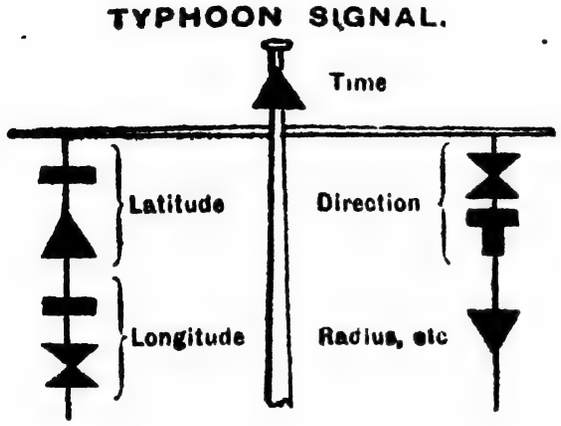
50° „ 55°	...	...	...	...	12 „ 37	21	26	49

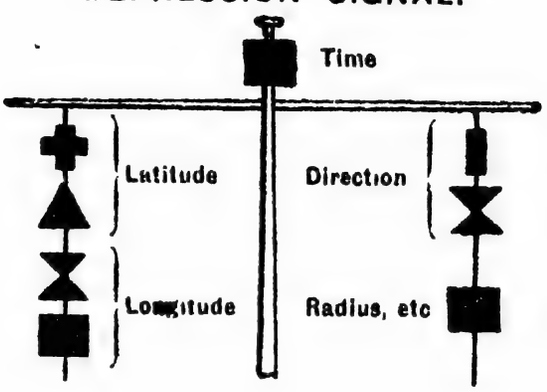
Seamen should realise that, whatever may be the probability of a certain velocity in a given case, there is always the possibility that it may be greatly exceeded. The safest guide is to make allowance for extreme velocity.

TYPHOON SIGNAL.



A severe typhoon within 30 miles of lat. 26° N., long. 120° E., travelling N.E. Warning issued this morning.

DEPRESSION SIGNAL.



A continental depression in lat. 56° N., long. 109° E., travelling E.S.E. Warning issued yesterday morning.

The China Seas Storm Signal Code is used at the following Storm Signal Stations :—

1. (a) The Stations of the Maritime Customs at New-chwang, Taku, Chefoo, Chinkiang, Woosung, Gutzlaff, Pagoda Anchorage, and Amoy ...	In connexion with Storm Warnings issued by :
(b) The French Municipal Station at Shanghai	Sikawei Observatory.

It will come into operation at the Storm Signal Stations named above on the 1st February 1918. The date of it coming into operation at the Storm Signal Stations of the Hanoi Observatory will be notified later by that Observatory.

(3) Any authority having power to make an order under sub-rule (2) (a) may, for the purpose of testing the accuracy of any return made in accordance therewith or for obtaining information in a case where an order under that sub-rule has not, in the opinion of such authority, been sufficiently complied with, empower by general or special order any person to enter and search any place, in which such person has reason to believe that any commodity in respect of which an order has been made under sub-rule (2) (a) is kept or stored and to take such measures as such person thinks necessary for testing the accuracy of the return or for obtaining such information.

(4) If any person except as authorised by the authority under whose orders the information was obtained discloses or makes use of any information obtained in accordance with the provisions of this rule, he shall be deemed to have contravened these rules.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

The following questions which had been starred were put and answered :—

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

The Howrah flood.

*1. (a) Is it a fact that the paddy-fields of mouzas Sonamukhi, Gazipore, Khanpore, Chaksadar, Jyot Bireswar, Latibpore, Khandarpore, Khardaha, Bhagabatipore and Udong in the Ulubaria subdivision of the Howrah district are still under water?

(b) Are the Government aware that great damage is being done to the winter rice crop owing to water being still in the fields referred to above?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps are being taken by them for the speedy draining out of the water from these fields?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of giving agricultural loans to the raiyats affected by the water in the said area?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) Yes; to the extent of 1½ to 2 feet, as is usually the case at this time of the year.

(b) Yes; the crop has been damaged owing to the fact that water is still in the fields, but in this area the crop grown is generally broadcast paddy.

(c) Government are not taking steps to carry out any work for the speedy drainage of this area. The area, as the Hon'ble Member has already been informed, will be efficiently drained when effect is given to the Amta Drainage project.

(d) It has been ascertained that in September the Subdivisional Officer of Ulubaria offered agricultural loans in this area, and that the applications amounted to Rs. 292. This amount was advanced, and no further application has been received."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Canal obstructions in Uluberia.

*2. Are the Government considering the desirability of issuing instructions to the Subdivisional Officer of Uluberia for the removal of all attas, i.e., bamboo apparatuses for catching fish, and other obstructions for the free passage of excess water from the Banspati Khal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" The Banspati Khal has not been declared a public watercourse under the Drainage or Embankment Acts. Government are not therefore in a position to order obstructions in the khal to be removed."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Selling of seed potatoes.

*3. Is it a fact that last year a large quantity of seed potatoes was sold to some merchant in Calcutta by the Agriculture Department and that the potatoes were sent at quarter parcel rate—a concession granted to the Department for bona fide cultivators taking potatoes for seed purposes?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The Eastern Bengal Railway allow quarter rates for potatoes sent on bona fide Government purposes. The Agricultural Department select seed potatoes in Darjeeling, and the potatoes which had been purchased in Darjeeling and rejected on selection as being unsuitable for seed were sent to Calcutta at quarter rates and sold there."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Complaints regarding seed potatoes.

*4. (a) Is it a fact that several complaints have been made by cultivators about the inferior quality, ununiform size and high price of seed potatoes supplied by the Agriculture Department?

(b) If there is any truth in these complaints, will the Government be pleased to state who is responsible for this state of affairs?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR KERR :—

"(a) Complaints have been made about the small size of seed potatoes and about the high price.

(b) Small potatoes germinate as well as large ones. The rise of price in 1917 as compared with 1916 was due to a short crop. In spite of these complaints, the demand for seed potatoes supplied by the Agricultural Department at the end of 1917 was considerably in excess of that of the previous year."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Duties of a Deputy Director of Agriculture.

*5. Will the Government be pleased to state what are the duties of a Deputy Director of Agriculture in Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The duties of a Deputy Director of Agriculture in Bengal are the supervision of experimental farms, the systematic study of the agricultural conditions and requirements of his circle, the demonstration of improved agricultural methods and of the use of manures, improved seed and suitable implements."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Agricultural work in Bengal.

*6. Will the Government be pleased to state what work has been done by the Department of Agriculture in Western Bengal during the last ten years, and the amount of money spent during the last five years by the Department in Western Bengal as compared with what was spent in Eastern Bengal during the same period?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the annual reports of the Department. The expenditure incurred in Western Bengal is not shown in the accounts of the Bengal Presidency separately from that incurred in Eastern Bengal."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

*7. Will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to improve the output of sugar in Bengal and to improve the conditions of the sugar industry in the province? Output of sugar in Bengal

Answer by the Hon'ble MR DONALD :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply given to a question asked by the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray at the meeting held on the 7th August, 1916, which gives the information up to that date.

In September 1916, Mr. Annett, the Agricultural Chemist, was deputed to special duty in the United Provinces in connection with the war, and his work on date-gur has unavoidably been held in abeyance.

The examination of a number of Bengal varieties of sugarcane in regard to the sucrose content of their juices is proceeding at the Dacca Farm, and sugarcane setts are distributed from the agricultural stations."

Alleged torture of a détenu by the police.

XVII. (a) With reference to the allegations of torture made against the police by détenu Nalini Kanta Ghosh, which was stated to have formed the subject of an inquiry in the answer to unstarred question No. XXXIX asked at a meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 3rd July, 1917, will the Government be pleased to state the result of the said inquiry?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the statement made by the said Nalini Kanta Ghosh, to the District Magistrate of Dacca, as also the medical report about him by the Civil Surgeon of Dacca and the Assistant Surgeon of Narayanganj?

(c) Is it a fact that there is an entry in a register kept at the Dacca Central Jail, indicating the marks of violence on the person of the said Nalini Kanta Ghosh at the time of his admission into the said jail? Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table any such entry or statement which may be contained in any of the jail records?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"Nalini Kanta Ghosh was arrested on the 5th August, 1916, and arrived at Calcutta in custody on the 11th August. On the 17th August he was sent to Allahabad to stand his trial. He was produced before a Magistrate there but made no complaint of ill-treatment in Calcutta, and there is no record of any injuries being found on him then. While at Allahabad he wrote two letters, one to his uncle and the other to his brother, in which he mentioned the fact that he had been kept at Calcutta for seven days and asked for arrangements to be made for his defence, but there was not the slightest hint of any ill-treatment at the hands of the police. On the 31st August he was sent to Narayanganj to stand his trial there, and was produced before the Subdivisional Officer on the 2nd September, when for the first time he complained of ill-treatment by the police in Calcutta between the 10th and 17th August. He was examined by the Civil Assistant Surgeon, who reported that there were a number of scratches, bruises and abrasions on his person, some of which he described as severe. Nalini Kanta Ghosh was transferred to the Dacca Jail and examined on the 18th September by the Civil Surgeon, who reported that there were some faint marks on his wrist, upper arm and back, the results of very superficial scratches; he described them all as slight.

On receipt of these reports an inquiry was made by Government, with the result that they considered it established that the allegations against the Calcutta police were false. Government do not consider it desirable to lay on the table the reports and statements regarding the case The case is now nearly eighteen months old, while Nalini Kanta Ghosh has been an absconder for over a year."

(i) if it is usual for Heads of Departments to make such observations in regard to discussions in the Legislative Council; and (ii) what rules, if any, written or unwritten, are there governing the action of Heads of Departments in this matter?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The remark was made by the author of the report on the basis of the published information available to him, from whatever sources it may have been derived. The unwritten rules governing the matter are those based on etiquette and good feeling, and in the present instance Government see no reason to suppose that they have been infringed."

Civil suit against a Police Superintendent.

XIX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to make a full statement of the facts and circumstances of a Civil suit which was instituted in the Munsiff's Court at Balurghat a few months ago by a private gentleman against Mr. Burton, Superintendent of Police, and in respect of which a decree has been passed?

(b) Is it a fact that on appeal by Mr. Burton, the decision of the Munsiff of Balurghat has been upheld by the District Judge of Dinajpur? What findings were arrived at by the two Courts on the points at issue?

(c) Was any special application made by the defence to have the appeal heard by the District Judge? If so, what were the reasons for such an application?

(d) Is it a fact that the Government Pleader of Dinajpur was engaged in both the Courts to defend Mr. Burton at the cost of Government? If so, what total cost has been incurred by Government in the defence of the suit up to date?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR KERR :—

"(a) and (b) The facts of the case and the findings of the two Courts are given in the judgment of the appellate Court, a copy of which is laid on the table.

(c) No. The Government pleader, on his own initiative and to suit his own convenience, verbally requested the District Judge not to transfer the appeal from his file.

(d) No. It was only in the lower Court that the Government pleader conducted the defence at the cost of Government; in the appellate Court Mr. Burton himself engaged him. The cost incurred by Government in the defence of the suit has amounted to Rs. 489-13-3."

HEADING OF DECISION OF APPEAL.

APPEAL NO. 36 OF 1917 M.

The 17th December, 1917.

Appeal from the decision of Babu S. C. Mukharji, Munsif of Balurghat dated 29th January, 1917.

Mr. L. H. Burton ... ... Appellant,

Versus.

Lalit Chandra Das ... ... Respondent.

For appellant ... ... Babu Jatindra M. Sen, Government Pleader.

For respondent ... ... Babu Ramesh Chandra Neogy, Government Pleader.

Judgment.

1. THE plaintiff-respondent Lalit Chandra Das sued Mr. Burton, Superintendent of Police, of Dinajpur, for Rs. 150 damages for wrongfully breaking down a barbed wire fence separating the Porsha thana compound from a plot of land on the north. Plaintiff says that he took settlement of this land in 1910 and put up the fence in 1911 to protect his crops from the cattle and horses of the thana officers and that on 17th February, 1915, Mr. Burton crossed his land at night on an elephant and finding his passage obstructed by the fence broke his way through it and next morning had the whole fence, 125 cubits long, destroyed

2. Defendant's case is that the plaintiff is only a benamidar for his brother Satis who was Sub-Inspector of Porsha from 1908 to 1910 and who acquired some 300 bighas of land while he was there. He says that a cart tract over the plaint land has existed for over 30 years and has been continuously used by the public. The passage was first obstructed in May, 1913, but the fence was at once broken down by the officer in charge of the thana. A fence was put up again in September, 1914 and the police objected to it and Satis Babu promised to remove it but did not do so. On 17th February, 1915, Mr. Burton and his assistant Mr. Bell found their passage obstructed by the fence, and Mr. Bell took his elephant over it and next morning the defendant instructed the police to remove so much of the fence as was necessary to open the passage. A few posts were accordingly pulled up, but no damage was done to the wire. The defendant claims that what was done was justifiable as an assertion of the right of way and that in any case the total damage did not exceed Rs. 5.

3. The learned Munsif has decreed the suit in part estimating the damage at Rs. 45.

4. In appeal it is contended that the plaintiff must be only a benamidar for his brother Satis, because he had not enough money to buy the land, and because he and Satis contradict each other as to how the purchase came to be made, and because it is extremely unlikely that the plaintiff who lives at Bogra, would buy land in such a distant and out of the way place as Porsha. It is also pointed out that Satis Babu more than once paid the rent and did so without instructions from the plaintiff.

5. There are certainly grounds for suspecting that Satis Babu is the real owner, but the title deeds are in the plaintiff's name and there is evidence that it was the plaintiff who provided the money. It is obvious that Satis Babu must have advised and negotiated the purchase, but there is nothing incredible in the story that the money was paid by his brother who is a Munsif's Sheristadar. The inconveniences of holding land in so remote a place as Porsa would be felt by Satis Babu just as much as by the plaintiff, since Satis Babu was not permanent at Porsa. It appears from Satis Babu's own evidence and from that of plaintiff's witnesses 6 and 7 that Satis Babu has in fact acquired some land at Porsa on his own behalf and that that land is immediately north of the plaint land. But there is no evidence beyond some suspicious circumstances to show that the plaint land too belongs to him. The suit cannot be dismissed on mere suspicion of this kind.

6. I think the learned Munsif is wrong in doubting whether any path ever existed. Apart from the evidence of police officers there is the evidence of D. W. 2 a patwari, who several times used the path. And it is incredible that this dispute would ever have arisen unless there was a path there at some time or other.

7. The learned Munsif's own finding is that Mr. Burton lost his temper because the passage over the plaint land was unexpectedly found closed. Mr. Burton had four times inspected Porsa thana and had once spent the Christmas holidays there. If he expected to find the passage open it is obvious that he must have found it open on previous occasions. The learned Munsif apparently has so poor an opinion of the temper of an European officer that he credits the Superintendent of Police with having ordered the immediate demolition of the whole fence, not because it blocked a previously existing path, but simply because it happened to stand in his way. I know nothing about Mr. Burton, but I am not prepared to believe that any responsible officer of Government would commit wanton damage for such a childish reason. And I have no doubt that when Mr. Burton who must have known the way to the thana, crossed the plant land in the dark on an elephant, he did so because he had been that way before. Mr. Burton was Superintendent of Police in this district from February, 1913 to November, 1915, and he cannot have expected to find an open passage there if the fence has existed since 1911 as the plaintiff and his witnesses say.

8. The learned Munsif has believed the plaintiff's witness and disbelieved the defence witnesses on all points on very insufficient grounds in my opinion. I particularly disagree with his manner of rejecting the whole of the evidence of Sub-Inspector Raj Kumar Chakrabatti and calling him "a deliberate perjurer" on the mere ground that he said that he was once degraded for six months, when the Gazette showed that he was degraded for a year. The Gazette notification was never brought to the Sub-Inspector's notice and he had no opportunity of explaining it. It was apparently shown to the Munsif behind the back of the witness and without the knowledge of the defence pleader. There was no motive for a deliberate perjury on such a trivial point as whether the period of degradation was six months or a year and I have no doubt that the Sub-Inspector could have explained the matter if he had had a chance. In my opinion the Sub-Inspector's evidence read as a whole, is much more reliable than that of the plaintiff's principal witnesses who have certainly lied on several points. The plaintiff and his brother Satis contradict each other several times about the purchase of the land, and Satis Babu contradicts Sris Babu about the wholesale destruction of the fence. I have no hesitation in accepting the defence evidence that a cart track across the plaint land did exist and was in constant use up to September, 1914.

9. But I cannot accept the argument of the appellant's pleader that the mere existence of the path was a sufficient justification for breaking down the fence. The plaintiff primâ facie had a right to fence his own land. And the defendant was not justified in breaking any portion of the fence unless he had a right of way over the land. The defence claims a right of way on the ground of user for over 20 years. But there are only two witnesses who speak of ancient user, namely, a dafadar and a cultivator, defendant witnesses 5 and 6. And they cannot be relied on because they contradict each other as to the description of the path of which they enjoyed the use. They both agreed in the first instance that it was a cart track 8 or 10 cubits wide, but in cross-examination the cultivator said that where the crops were standing the path was never more than 2½ cubits wide, while the dafadar said that 8 or 10 cubits were always left free of crops. The dafadar, moreover, has had no occasion to use the path for a longer period than 10 or 11 years, and it is not clear why the cultivator should have used the path at all. I hold that it is not proved that the path has been in existence for over 20 years.

10. I think, however, that it is highly probable that it has been in existence so long. For (though there is some evidence that the land was in cultivation before the purchase) the plaintiff particularly mentions that he purchased fallow land, and if the land was fallow when the thana was built 40 years ago, it is obvious that the thana officers and people visiting the thana would cross it rather than go round it. In view however of my finding that 20 years user is not established by the evidence I hold that the defendant has not proved that he had any right to break a passage through the fence. His plea of justification ought to have been supported by conclusive evidence of 20 years user.

11. The Easement Act (Act V of 1882) does not apply to Bengal, but I notice that by section 36 of that Act the owner of an easement cannot himself abate a wrongful obstruction of it. I apprehend, however, that he can do so in Bengal if he is prepared to prove that the easement exists.

12. The amount of damage done has undoubtedly been exaggerated by Sris Babu, who says that every bit of the fence was destroyed and who is contradicted by Satis Babu himself on that point. For Satis Babu found some post still standing. On the other hand the defence witnesses must have made too little of the damage done. They say that no wire at all was cut. But the Dafadar's evidence shows that the uprooted posts were carried away. And it stands to reason that the thana officers did not leave barbed wire lying on the ground to cut their legs and feet. So it looks as if one full length of the wires must have been removed I do not know the usual length of a strand of barbed wire, but it can hardly be less than 50 feet. And if the wire was cut, I imagine that at least 50 feet of the fence must have been removed. The opening must, therefore, have been unnecessarily large. And the plaintiff has exaggerated it into a destruction of the whole fence in order to defeat the plea of justification. The old materials were used in re-erecting the fence so the actual damage to the plaintiff was probably only the cost of the labour. Some of the posts may, however, have had to be replaced as the fence was not put up again for six months. I think the learned Munsif's estimate of Rs. 45 as the amount of damage caused to the plaintiff may under the circumstances not be too large, though if the fence had been re-erected at once the defendant's estimate of Rs. 5 would probably been nearer the mark.

The result is that I affirm the decision of the lower Court and dismiss the appeal with costs.

Proposed amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act.

XX. (a) With reference to the answer given on the 5th March, 1913, in the Bengal Legislative Council, to a question asked by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, regarding the amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act of 1904, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of the report submitted by the Committee referred to in the said answer and the amendments suggested by them?

(b) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a resolution adopted at the recent Conference of Bengal Zamindars regarding the desirability of having a legislative enactment to protect the estates of zamindars against partition and encumbrance?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to say whether they are considering the desirability of appointing a Committee to suggest the lines on which the Bengal Settled Estates Act may be amended so as to make it more popular?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) The purport of the Committee's report is stated in the answer to the question referred to by the Hon'ble Member.

The amendments suggested were as follows:—

(1) that the functions of the Local Government should be confined to the determination of the question whether the family of the applicant for settlement is of the necessary status, and that the subsequent proceedings should be conducted by a Civil Court selected for the purposes of each case by the Local Government or the Commissioner;

(2) that the period of settlement should be extended to an additional generation;

(3) that the powers of revocation by succeeding sons should be strictly limited;

Questions and Answers.

(4) that the fee payable upon an application should be reduced to a nominal sum or abolished, and that the duty should be realized as a probate duty on each occasion on which a succession occurs; and

(5) that the financial condition of the estate should not be published.

(b) Yes.

(c) The subject of appointing a Committee is not at present under the consideration of Government. It appears from the resolution referred to in clause (b) of the question that the Conference of Bengal Zamindars intended to have the subject examined by a Committee of Zamindars before memorialising Government."

XXI. Will the Government be pleased to explain the system of supervision over village chaukidars which is stated to have been introduced by Mr. Whalley, Superintendent of Police, Jessore, with success? Supervision over village chaukidars.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The object of the system is to secure systematic and efficient patrols by chaukidars at the most dangerous periods of the night. A fixed number of chaukidars of each union parade at a different fixed point within the union on each night of the week. They do not arrive at the fixed point before 10 P.M. and must leave again for their homes between 3 and 4 A.M. looking up bad characters on the way. The points are fixed, preferably near the residence of a member of the panchayat or other responsible villager willing to supervise the arrangements and the chaukidars are selected so that as large a portion of the union as possible is covered. The chaukidars report vital statistics, facts regarding bad characters and anything else of importance, and the panchayat, villager or daffadar, who receives this information, despatches it to the president panchayat and to the thana officer. Similarly, any information and orders received from the thana are communicated to the chaukidars at the fixed point. The ordinary parades before the president panchayat and thana officer are abolished, excepting the quarterly pay parade

The District Magistrate reports that public opinion welcomed the scheme and that the results are promising. The Range Deputy Inspector-General in inspecting the district also observed that crime had been checked owing to the greater vigilance enforced."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

XXII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of new thanas which have been created in each district since 1912? Creation of new thanas.

(b) How far has the number of cognizable crimes been affected in each area since the creation of such new thanas?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) A statement containing the information is laid on the table.

(b) The fluctuations of cognisable crime are governed by various causes and Government see no advantage in undertaking a troublesome compilation of figures which would compare the variations by one standard only, and to that extent would be merely misleading."

XXXV. Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons that led to the enhancement of fees payable by the students in the Sibpur Civil Engineering College from Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 monthly and in the Medical College from Rs. 96 to Rs. 125 annually? Enhancement of fees in Sibpur Engineering and Medical Colleges.

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" The Hon'ble Member presumably refers to the tuition fees payable for the intermediate course of the Engineer Department. These have not been enhanced. They continue to be Rs. 120 a year, but are payable in eight instalments of Rs. 15 instead of in twelve instalments of Rs. 10.

The fees at the Medical College were raised because the amount paid by each student was held to be an inadequate contribution towards the cost of his instruction. It may be noted that the previous rate of Rs. 96 did not include fees for the practical classes, while the fee of Rs. 125 is a consolidated one, including fees for practical classes. The net increase was only half the apparent increase."

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of moving the Government of India with a view to relaxing the present rules so as to enable any private individual to manufacture salt, duty free, sufficient for his private consumption?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) and (e) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the statement that will be made in the course of the debate on the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Roy's resolution on the subject of the manufacture of salt.

Commutation proceedings under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

XXXVIII. (a) With reference to the rule laid down at page 71 of the Technical Rules and Instructions of the Settlement Department, 1916, in connection with commutation proceedings, to the effect that " a rent exceeding one-fifth of the value of the gross produce is ordinarily excessive, and the rent settled by commutation should not exceed such a value, except for special reasons which must be fully recorded," will the Government be pleased to state the considerations that led to the determination of the maximum proportion referred to above?

(b) Is it a fact that section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, contemplates that each individual case of commutation is to be determined according to its own facts and circumstances?

(c) Did the Government obtain legal opinion before issuing the instructions above referred to, with regard to the legality of laying down a uniform maximum rate for the different localities without regard to the circumstances of each case of commutation? If so, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of such legal opinion?

(d) Are the Government aware of the opinion that has been expressed that the maximum rate fixed is considered inadequate and unjust by the landlords?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR KERR :—

" (a) The proportion of one-fifth of the value of the gross produce was taken from clause 75 of the Bengal Tenancy Bill, 1883.

(b) Yes, and rule 7 of Chapter XI of the Technical Rules and Instructions prescribes the individual examination of each tenancy.

(c) No legal opinion was taken or required. The rules do not lay down an uniform maximum rate for different localities without regard to the circumstances of each case. The whole of the sub-paragraph from which the Hon'ble Member has taken an extract reads as follows :—

' The money rent should, according to circumstances, be ordinarily fixed at the average money rent payable by occupancy raiyats for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity, plus a suitable proportion of the difference between it and the average value of the rent received by the landlord. It should be remembered that a rent exceeding one-fifth of the value of the gross produce is ordinarily excessive, and the rent settled by commutation should not exceed such a value except for special reasons which must be fully recorded.'

(d) Government are aware that there are differences of opinion as to what is a fair rent on commutation."

Supply of fry by Fisheries Department

XXXIX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state from what sources the Department of Fisheries obtains its supply of fry?

(b) Does the Department guarantee the purity of the fry supplied by it to private parties; or are the kinds of fry so supplied in any way different from those ordinarily obtained?

(c) At what rates on an average are the different kinds of fry purchased by the Department, and at what are they sold by it?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Nearly all the fry are obtained from the Damodar river.

" (b) The Department does not guarantee purity. The fry are superior to those ordinarily obtained, because they are examined generally by the Director of Fisheries and his staff with a view to the rejection of consignments which contain either predatory fish or the fry of fish other than carp. It is not possible in view of the large quantities dealt with that such examination should be complete, but it is believed that such examination as is possible has the effect of deterring the fisherman employed from wilfully collecting fry known to be impure, and that the result is that the fry supplied by the Department are much purer than those supplied by itinerant vendors.

(c) The Department sell the fry at the same rates at which they purchase it. The rates vary according to the season and the average rate is Rs. 2 per 1,000."

After further observation Major Peebles reported on 26th September that in his opinion Jyotish Chandra Ghosh was feigning insanity, but there was a noticeable improvement in his bodily and mental condition since his transfer to the Asylum. THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1917.

LIST OF BUSINESS- ITEM No. 3.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING moved that the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917, as amended by the Council on the 18th December, 1917, be taken into consideration.

He said :—

"Sir, the motion which stands in my name is a purely formal one ; but it is required in view of the circumstances under which the discussion of the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill was postponed at the last meeting of the Council. I desire formally to move that the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917, as amended by the Council of the 18th December, 1917, be taken into consideration."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble Babu Brajendra Kishor Ray Chaudhuri, with the leave of the President, withdrew the following motion which stood in his name, and which was by way of amendment to the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming's motion :—

That the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917, as amended by the Council on the 18th December 1917, be recommitted to the Select Committee for further consideration.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY moved by way of amendment to the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming's motion that the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917, as amended by the Council on the 18th December, 1917, be recommitted to the Select Committee, with instructions to make such additions and alterations in sections 49H and 49J as will safeguard the interests of the landholder as well as of the tenant, without making any unnecessary encroachments on the vested rights of either of them.

He said :—

"Sir, it is neither in a spirit of opposition to the Bill nor with any intention of casting a reflection on the members of the Select Committee that I have moved this motion. In fact I was the first man in the Council who welcomed the measure when it was first introduced here and no one is more grateful to the Select Committee than I for the honourable compromise that it effected in the Bill between the extreme Civil Service views and the honour of the Bengal zamindars. But, as a member of this Council, I have certain duties to perform, and what I consider to be the chief amongst them, is this, that, to the best of my ability, I should faithfully interpret the public to the Government as well as the Government to the public. The Bill in question undoubtedly proposes serious interferences with the rights enjoyed by the landlords as well as by their aboriginal tenants, and naturally there is a strong feeling against the Bill amongst the interested people. But the very noble and humane motive that the legislature has in view, namely, of saving the thriftless but simple aboriginals from falling an easy and helpless prey to ill-intentioned neighbours, usurious money-lenders and unscrupulous zamindars, has also made it imperative that some of the rights so long enjoyed by the zamindars and by the aboriginals themselves should be curtailed to a certain extent, and so, whenever this curtailment of their rights has been found necessary, I have given my whole-hearted support and tried my best, by my utterances in this Council and elsewhere, to allay the antagonistic feeling that I found to exist against this measure. But, again, there are certainly some provisions in this Bill which really make unnecessary encroachments on

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray.

our rights and regarding which there exists a bitter feeling of opposition which I can hardly ignore and so shall be failing in my duty as a councillor if I do not bring this fact to the notice of my brother councillors who are assembled here to-day to advise the Government on the subject of the Bill. I here beg to refer to sections 49H and 49J of the Bill. From the very day that the Bill was introduced in the Council strong objections have been taken to them by different speakers; they were severely criticised, both by officials and non-officials, when the Bill was circulated for opinions and when it was in the Select Committee, there was presumably a great tussle over these sections, inasmuch as they were practically recast, and even then neither to the satisfaction of the official nor of the non-official members of the Committee as will be seen from the amendments to these sections subsequently moved by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming and also from the attitude of the non-official members of the Committee when divisions were taken in this Council, on the private amendments to these sections. Again, when the Bill was taken into consideration on the 18th December last, of the total number of 15 sections and 37 amendments no fewer than 16 amendments referred to the two sections 49H and 49J, and of the total of eight divisions taken, six were taken on the amendments on these two sections. This description of the situation created by these two sections speaks for itself. Sections 49H and 49J deal with highly technical subjects; it will be taxing the patience of the non-zamindar members too much if I were to go into details to show the unnecessary character of the many encroachments made on our rights by these two sections. But in order to convince my esteemed colleagues let me take one instance from each of the two sections. Section 49H empowers the Collector to eject a dishonest transferee from a holding and to settle the same with the transferor or his heir but fixes no time-limit within which the settlement is to be effected nor makes any provision for making good the loss to be suffered by the landlord during the period the land is unoccupied. It is to be borne in mind that the landlord is not in the least responsible for the fraudulent transfer of the land. Now is it right or fair to make the landlord suffer for no fault of his own? I will now show that this interference with a zamindar's right of enjoyment of the full value of his property is not at all necessitated by the objects that the legislature has in view in introducing this Bill. I have already alluded to these objects. For this purpose alienation of lands by an aboriginal without the Collector's approval has been prohibited. In spite of this if an aboriginal sells his land fraudulently, the Collector is empowered to eject the transferee. This provision is undoubtedly necessary to scare away dishonest purchasers, but the subsequent provision that the land is to be restored to the transferor takes away all the frightfulness from the former provision because as registration of transfer deeds without the Collector's sanction is prohibited, these transfers will be generally verbal affairs and the deed will not be a deed of transfer but that of a simple loan for which the person of the aboriginal will be liable and which the de facto purchaser will keep as security with which to threaten him, should he refuse to allow the purchaser to enjoy the land after it has been restored. The net result of this peculiar provision will be that it will considerably lessen the price of the land on account of the risk involved and will in addition mean pecuniary loss to the innocent landlord for the period intervening between the ejectment and the subsequent restoration. The best method to attain the desired end would have been to hand over the land to the landlord immediately after the ejectment, with a proviso that the same should be settled with an aboriginal, or failing an aboriginal, with the Collector's approval, with other people. In this way the fraudulent transfers would be effectively stopped as the landlord being interested in the matter would also help the Collector to detect such transfers. Now let me take up section 49J and give an instance of unnecessary interference with our rights sanctioned by it. There is a provision in this section which interferes with the liberty of action of the zamindar in the matter of resettlement of a holding abandoned or surrendered by an aboriginal and makes it incumbent on the zamindar to obtain the Collector's approval before exercising his rights; in defence of this encroachment on our rights it has been said by the member in charge of the Bill, on a previous occasion, that unless this is done the aboriginals through collusive or forced abandonments would be left at the mercy of unscrupulous zamindars. But I ask again, is it right or fair to punish all zamindars for the crime of a few? I will now show that this interference with our rights is absolutely unnecessary for the purpose which we have in view and not only that I will further show that this provision by its implied insinuation casts a most unwarranted reflection on the character of the Bengal zamindars.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray.

In the first place the aboriginal could be easily saved from unscrupulous zamindars by empowering the Collector, in the event of a collusive surrender, to enter upon the land and settle it in any way he deems proper; and also by attaching a heavy penalty to the settlement of such a holding by the landlord. This procedure would at once put a check on an unscrupulous zamindar from adopting unfair means to dispossess his aboriginal tenants and at the same time would not interfere with the time-honoured privilege of a zamindar of unimpeachable character of exercising his rights freely in respect of really abandoned holdings. Let me tell the Council that a very great bitterness is felt by respectable zamindars by this attempt to take away this privilege from them and forcing them along with dishonest zamindars to dance attendance at the Collectorate with its unscrupulous amlas whenever there would be an occasion to settle an abandoned holding.

The bitterness that is felt by us will be better understood if I here give an analogy: The lowest police officer is empowered, by the Criminal Procedure Code, to enter into the house of the highest in the land and search his innermost apartments, if the said officer has reason to believe that stolen articles are kept there But we do not grudge him his extraordinary power because we know that so long as we are not receivers of stolen articles, our home is our castle and the police can never enter it. But in order to prevent the possibility of any stolen article being conveyed to our house, if the law of the land provided to station constables at our door with instructions to search every man or woman or every box or bundle that went into our house, I ask the soberest gentleman present here if he would put up with this insult to his honour for a single moment without feeling bitter at the monstrosity of the legislation. Sir, encroaching upon one's rights even for a good cause is an unpleasant task in itself, and it can be easily imagined how difficult and dangerous the situation becomes when one is called upon to give up rights for which not the least justification can be vouchsafed. Sir, we are now passing through troubled times and already there is too much bitterness in the country to combat with. Why then add another bitterness to that already existing when the objects of the present Bill can be secured equally well by the use of a little tact and judgment? I have already indicated the lines on which we can work, but I am sure that if the ten heads of the members of the Select Committee are put together it will be quite an easy affair for it to devise means which will serve our purpose without unnecessarily interfering with vested rights and thus creating a feeling of bitterness where no such thing exists at present. I, therefore, appeal, to the Council to recommit these two offending sections to the Select Committee with instructions to make necessary additions and alterations in them. I also appeal to the member in charge, with all the earnestness that I command, to accept my motion. I am not asking for anything unreasonable. There can be no harm if these two sections are referred back to the Select Committee. On the other hand, it will reassure the public that the matter has been considered in all its aspects before being enacted into a law of the land.

Sir, I am not a trained lawyer who could put his arguments with legal deftness, nor am I a gifted orator who could move the Council with his choice rhetoric, and to add to my difficulties, the subject-matter of my motion is highly technical. I know not what chances of success I stand if my motion is opposed by the Government. I, therefore, once more appeal to the member in charge of the Bill for a sympathetic reconsideration of the whole matter."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, I cannot congratulate the Hon'ble Member on the attitude which he has thought fit to adopt in connection with this legislation. I gather from his amendment that his view is that sufficient safeguards have not been given to protect the vested interests of the landlords and tenants ; but from his speech it is a fair inference that it was directed almost entirely to the interests of landlords ; and I am the more surprised, because, at the present moment, one would have imagined that a representative of the landlords' interests in this Council would not be anxious to emphasize that there was a cleavage of interests between them and the tenantry of this Province. Indeed, the Bengal Landholders' Association adopted a very different attitude by submitting a minimum of adverse comment on this Bill. When the Bill was introduced, they said that the Bill initiated a principle which was recognized as early as 1793, and they approved generally of the provisions of the Bill. The only provision of the Bill to which they took exception at that time has since been altered in the course of the proceedings of the Select Committee. The legislation is, I maintain, Sir, beneficent legislation ; and at this stage I am not prepared to accede to any change or to any further delay which may have the effect either of minimizing the good results of the legislation or of making the execution of its provisions impracticable. I may say at once to the Hon'ble Member, with reference to this amendment, that he cannot possibly expect that the Select Committee will reconsider questions of principle that have already been decided by the Council as a whole.

At the risk of burdening the Council, I should like to recapitulate as shortly as I can, first, the facts regarding the initiation of this legislation, and secondly, the action taken since its introduction. First of all, regarding the initiation of this legislation, the condition of the Santhals and similar aboriginal tribes on the borderland of the Santhal Parganas has been a matter of grave consideration for no less than 45 years. Their grievances were examined by the Magistrate of Birbhum in 1872 ; and the discontent of that period led to the passing of the Magna Charta of the Santhal Parganas,—Regulation III of 1872 for the Santhal Parganas. There was a special inquiry in 1883 by a Deputy Collector who, by his personal influence, was able to bring about a temporary adjustment ; and again in 1908, the present Director of Land Records, Mr. McAlpin, made a detailed inquiry from Birbhum down to Balasore. He made certain recommendations, which, for certain reasons, did not crystallize in legislation till 1914. In that year, a draft Bill was circulated throughout the Province, and in 1916, a revised draft Bill was submitted to the Government of India ; in the spring of last year, the Government of India assented to the proposed legislation, and the result is the Bill before the Council. I do not think, Sir, that the Government have been over hasty in initiating this legislation, or that it can be said that the terms of the Bill have not been prepared very carefully.

The next point under this head which I should like to mention is in order to correct a misapprehension on the Hon'ble Member's part. The Bill is not directed against landlords as such ; for I see that all through his speech the Hon'ble Member seems to indicate this. The purpose of the Bill is primarily to prevent the transfer of lands to money-lenders and to maintain the communal system of the aboriginal tribes as far as possible. Of course, if the Hon'ble Member is not prepared to accept this principle, then we are poles apart. But I think that the Council, as a whole, accepted the principle that it is desirable to maintain the communal system as far as possible. The evils were very patent, as Mr. McAlpin's inquiry revealed ; and it was shown that it was the money-lender and not the landlord, except in a very few cases, who was to blame. In fact it was shown that the Santhals under existing circumstances were losing their lands and becoming simply serfs, and that 50 per cent. of the Civil Court decrees were ex parte. Indeed, the landlords of the areas in question rather prefer Santhal tenants, and the Santhals themselves have an innate feeling of loyalty to hereditary landlords. The root idea of the Bill is the prohibition of the alienation of land. As I have previously explained in this Council, this is not a new idea ; it has been adopted in the Santhal Parganas Regulation, in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Bill, in the Central Provinces Tenancy Act and in the Punjab Alienation of Land Act. The Santhals in the west of Bengal know their own weaknesses of thriftlessness and intemperance. They are aware that in the neighbouring districts their tribes have received protection, and they asked to be protected against themselves. I may say under this head that all the opinions of persons, whether official or non-official, who have a personal knowledge of the tract, is overwhelming in favour of such prohibition of alienation.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray ; The President ; Mr. Cumming.

As to the second head,—what we have done since the Bill was introduced,—let me recapitulate shortly the facts. It should be remembered in passing that the Select Committee submitted an unanimous report. One of the main changes was that the castes and tribes of aboriginals to which the Act may be applied have now been specified. The original draft Bill was indefinite on this point. Then again in the case of settlement by landlords of lands from which transferees have been ejected, it is not now necessary to have in all cases the approval of the Collector. The landlord is allowed to make settlement of such land provided that he settle it himself with an aboriginal. Similarly, in the case of surrender and abandonment, to which so much attention was drawn in the course of the debate, it is not now necessary in all cases that the landlord should have the approval of the Collector for resettlement. The power of interference by the Collector has been removed in cases in which the landlord settles the land with an aboriginal. Next, provision for the transfer of a decree to the Collector was omitted, and the execution of decrees has been left to the Civil Courts."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHIKHARESWAR RAY said :—

"Is the Hon'ble Member in order in referring to these matters ?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I think that the Hon'ble Member in charge is quite in order."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING, continuing, said :—

"I have been recapitulating the facts. The provision for the transfer of a decree has been omitted, and the execution of decrees is now left to the Civil Court ; and, further, the prohibition against suits to set aside the order of the Collector has been modified to this extent that suits on the ground of fraud and want of jurisdiction are now permitted. Finally, in the case of surrender of abandonment, the Collector may only withhold his assent to a settlement made by a landlord when he is satisfied that the surrender or abandonment is collusive. These are, I submit to the Council, no small changes and indicate that a reasonable attempt has been made to meet the various objections that were raised during the circulation of the Bill. For these two main reasons that the Bill is the result of long consideration, and that all reasonable objections have been met, I desire to resist this amendment of referring the Bill again to a Select Committee. There is, however, a further reason which I may mention at this stage, and that is a new one since we last met. In December last, I said that I was not prepared to say that it was imperatively urgent that the legislation should be passed at that meeting, but I do say now that there should be no further delay in the passing of the Bill. In the Bankura district the stage will shortly be reached at which the preliminary record-of-rights will be prepared, and I maintain that it is desirable that the Santhals of that area should have the benefit of this legislation before that stage is reached.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Mr. Cumming; Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

In conclusion, Sir, with reference to this amendment, I should like to quote some remarks of a general character. They are applicable to the case not only of the Santhals but also of the other aboriginals whose cases have been mentioned in the schedule. The remarks are those of one who was once in charge of this Province. The question is whether it is wise for a civilized Government to counteract the unfortunate effects of the inroad of civilization. On this point, Sir William Duke once said that he was fully convinced of the necessity of protecting aboriginal and semi-aboriginal tribes against unrestricted alienation of their holdings. He said that he knew that many, who freely admitted the incapacity of such people to maintain themselves against others who were more sophisticated and instructed in legal processes, insisted that it was the inevitable result of the march of progress that such backward races should go down, and that if they continued to exist at all they should do so as hewers of wood and drawers of water. Sir William Duke has recorded that this view was unjust and cruel and founded on arbitrary ideas of what constituted progress. He said that the communal system of most aboriginal tribes did not regard land as a saleable commodity and that this system was not founded upon the Contract Act. We have, he said, forced upon them a civil polity which was not their own; and it was unfair to say that if it ruined them it was their own lookout.

Sir, I wish to identify myself with these remarks made by one whose opinion should carry weight in this Council. I desire to oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said :—

"Sir, I am sorry to have to oppose Kumar Shib Shekhareswar in his moving this amendment. He has paid in opening his speech a compliment, which he thinks to be a compliment, to the members of the Select Committee for their work in connection with amending the Bill. When one looks at the agenda paper and finds the number of amendments proposed by the Kumar himself one really wonders what are the objectionable features in these two sections for which he wants this Bill ,to be recommitted to the Select Committee, for I find that he has got one solitary amendment for clause 49H. Then, again, he has said in his opening remarks that the members of the Select Committee—by this he undoubtedly means the non-official members of the Select Committee—came to an honourable compromise regarding this Bill. If according to him they came to an honourable compromise, I do not see what good those members in the Select Committee are going to do by the recommittal of this Bill to them. But, if he does not really mean that, he probably means a censure on the work of the Select Committee, which, of course, as a member of that body I am not prepared to take lying down. Then again, if one looks at the original intention of this Bill one finds that it really arose not only from what the Director of Land Records, Mr. McAlpin, reported, but also what the Commissioner of my division reported regarding the Santhalis in the districts, particularly of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore. I have not been able to ascertain as yet the number of my Santhali tenants in Bankura as my Superintendent has been away, nor am I certain of the Midnapore Santhalis in my estate, but in Birbhum district I have a big mahal where there is a large number of Santhalis and my khas mahal Dewan, to whom I wrote, writes as follows: 'It appears from the tahsil records of lat Hukumapur (Birbhum) that in 1318 B.S., 1,820 bighas of land were in the occupation of these aboriginal tribes. In 1823, B.S., 2,110 bighas of land are in their occupation. Thus the land in their occupation is increasing. It appears from the register of mutation of names that within the last ten years only 8 bighas of land have been transferred and that from one Santhal to another of the same tribe by sale. From the khas entry register it appears that about 30 bighas of land have during the last 10 years been purchased khas by the execution of rent decrees'. From this, Sir, it will appear that at least there are some zamindars who do not grudge the Santhali having lands in his own khas mahal zamindari. In fact I know of zamindars in these parts who welcome them as being good tenants. I, therefore, think that for those zamindars at least the defence that the Kumar has made does not apply, because they can defend themselves and their good understanding between themselves and their aboriginal tenants. Regarding the other tracts I am not, of course, in a position to say anything, but I am not only sorry but in fact unhappy in the way the Hon'ble Kumar has tried to defend the rights of zamindars in his fighting speech, according to his light. I cannot help thinking that at the present moment more than at any other time it is essential for the zamindars not only to show that spirit of friendliness and co-operation towards their tenants, but it is also, I think, not fair to the other zamindars to try and make out that the zamindars in their desire to protect their rights—and I am more zealous about protecting their rights than anybody else, for I have a right to be—are trying—which unfortunately is the impression that has been created in my mind at any rate by the Kumar's attitude—to wrest from the hands of the Government those rights and privileges, in such a way as would be misconstrued or would give the impression that the zamindars are anxious more to safeguard their rights than to extend protection to their own tenants. That would indeed be a most unfortunate impression to be created in the Council, especially at a time when the zamindars are on their trial. For these reasons I am sorry I am unable to accept the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Kumar."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Kumar and I associate myself with the remarks that fell from the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan. We have waited too long for legislation on this question and the zamindar's interests were represented on the Select Committee by the foremost zamindar in the land. And I cannot myself conceive what rights or vested interests of the zamindars have been violated by this Bill. The Bill is intended primarily to protect the Santhals and other aboriginals against themselves. The Bill was not drafted at the instance of an official but because the people themselves wanted it, and in protecting the Santhalis and other aboriginals from themselves some restrictions had to be put on the rights of the zamindars because otherwise the intentions of the Bill will be frustrated because the zamindars would sometimes interfere and make the provisions of the Bill absolutely useless. The Bill, moreover, has been before the public for a long time and every zamindari association in the Province and those interested had an opportunity of submitting their opinions to Government and to this Council and all these opinions were considered. I believe that at the last meeting of the Council the Bill was not passed on a technical ground, but, as stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming, the time has come when this Bill should become the law of the land. With these few words I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir, sitting on this Council as a nominated official I owe Government a silent vote and I think I owe it nothing more. If I take part in the debate I am free to express my own feelings. My principal feeling at the sight of this amendment is one of dismay, and I devoutly hope that this Council will not sanction this extremely novel procedure of starting the discussion of a Bill all over again after it has reached the very last stage. This Bill has been through the ordinary course of legislation in this Council. There was an opportunity of discussing the principles of the Bill when it was committed to the Select Committee and it was dealt with by the Select Committee. The Select Committee presented an unanimous report and a day was devoted to the discussion of amendments. The Hon'ble Kumar had a full opportunity then of asking this Council to amend the Bill in any form that he desired. Then at the last moment when it was on the verge of being passed into law, by availing himself of a rule which has not been brought into use before I believe an Hon'ble Member is enabled to start the proceedings de novo. To-day we have a number of fresh amendments on the agenda and I understand that there is nothing in the rules to prevent this operation being repeated ad infinitum. If this is to happen on the discussion of a small Bill of 12 clauses I tremble to think what will happen when legislation of real importance and magnitude is under consideration. Speaking for myself I should very much dread the results if this Council gave its sanction to this innovation. Although the Hon'ble Member has not given us any very clear indication of the precise amendment which he desires to be carried and although his motion is that the Select Committee is to make such additions and alterations in sections 49H and 49J as will safeguard the interest of the landholder as well as of the tenant, without making any unnecessary encroachments on the vested rights of either of them, the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming has said that the speech dealt only with the rights of zamindars. And on this I may say that if any member had any fear that this is a piece of grandmotherly legislation to protect the Santhalis against themselves and against their wishes I may mention one fact which I think will throw a light on that. As has been mentioned there was special legislation in force in the Santhal Parganas on the lines of this Bill to protect the interest of the aborigines. When I was Deputy Commissioner of that district there was in my office a petition sent in by a large number of villagers in the adjoining district of Birbhum. I think there were about 40 Santhals who joined together and sent in that petition direct. They hoped that they might be given the benefit of the legislation which protects the rights of aboriginals and which was in force in the Santhal Parganas. They said in that petition—give us that law and we will undertake all the corresponding duties as they do in the Santhal Parganas. They have to maintain their village roads free of cost and they are liable to certain other forms of public works. These Santhalis earnestly petitioned that they might be allowed the burden on their shoulders in order that they might receive the protection as early as possible of this kind of legislation. I do not think, however, that we need worry about the encroachment on the vested interests of the raiyats.

There is one other point to which I may refer. I think the Hon'ble Kumar is entirely mistaken in treating this Bill as if it were an attack on unscrupulous landlords. There is no question of anything of that nature. As long as the law permits an aboriginal the right of transfer to one of another race there is no reason whatever why the landlord should take any interest in the matter or interfere, but if a law is introduced which forbids such transfers there is no reason to suppose that the landlords or the agents of landlords will take any active interest in interfering with a law which does not benefit or interest them in any way. It will, therefore, be idle to trust to action on the part of a man who has no possible interest in enforcing the law and we are not dealing with unscrupulous landlords. Any one who knows the administration of zamindaries, knows that in the great majority of zamindaries these matters have to be entrusted to Nawabs and tahsil officers. We have not a set of resident landlords devoting themselves to the detailed management of their estates. There is no question of anything in the nature of an attack on unscrupulous landlords. As has already been said this is a question of protecting the raiyat against himself and not against his landlord."

The HON'BLE KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY said :—

Sir, I am not surprised at the attitude taken up by the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur—he has to keep up the family tradition. With regard to my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Abul Kasem's remarks, I am quite at one with him when he says that we should give up certain of our rights but only those that are necessary. Why should the Government in the name of protecting Santhal tenants unnecessarily encroach upon our rights. Let them encroach upon those rights which are necessary, in that I agree with him, but I do not understand why he opposed my motion. With reference to the remarks of the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan that I have got only one motion in regard to clause 49H I may say that in fact I sent notice of five motions and I do not know why they were thought out of order and were rejected, so there is now only one motion against my name on the agenda paper.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray.

With regard to the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming's reply to my observations, he does not say anything about which I have not already dealt with in my previous speeches, but there are two things which I should like to refer to now. He has spoken of the opinion expressed by the Bengal Landholders' Association. We should not try to hoodwink the Council, we all know that when the opinion was asked for, Mr. B. Chakravarti, the life and soul of the Association, was busy with Home Rule affairs, and he probably could not give time to the consideration of this question. Otherwise the opinion would have been on the lines of that of other Zamindari Associations.

(Cries of "Order, order.")

With reference to the legal aspect of the question whether it can be referred back to the Select Committee, that is a legal matter and it is for the Advocate-General to decide. Besides this there is nothing further to add to what I have already said in this Council. I prayed for justice and fairness and it is my keen disappointment to realize that I prayed in vain. However, I have one consolation in that the official reply has hopelessly failed to prove that I stand not on firm grounds of fairness and justice, and this fact sends a ray of hope to my disappointed soul and thus encouraged I stand before the Council for its verdict on my humble, and I think not unreasonable, prayer.

The Ayes being 3 and Noes 36, the motion was lost.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming's original motion (item No. 3 in the List of Business) was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. I.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING moved that for the figures "1917", in clause 1, the figures "1918" be substituted.

He said :—

"Sir, we now proceed to the consideration of the various amendments tabled for to-day's meeting. Personally I desire to express an apology to Hon'ble Members of the Council for the fact that in connection with this Bill they should have to give another day's consideration to what is after all a minor piece of legislation. The first motion which stands in my name has become necessary in view of the delay which has occurred in the passing of this Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. II.

Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL HAQ moved that the words and brackets "Maghs (Bakarganj district)" in line 12 of sub-section (2) of section 49A be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir, I regret I have to be guilty of the offence of taking advantage of this occasion to move this amendment with reference to clause 49A on which so many amendments had been proposed on the last occasion. I confess that these words did not seem to me of such importance personally speaking, but I have received several letters from several influential people of my district of Bakarganj who have suggested to me that these words should be omitted, and they have given very weighty reasons for saying so. I may mention that these Maghs are really Burmese settlers who have come over to the Sunderbans portion of the Bakarganj district and have settled down there as ordinary cultivators. As far as I am aware there is hardly anything to distinguish these people from the ordinary Bengali peasants and I do not see how, except by doing violence to the language itself, these people can at all be considered to be of a class which is ordinarily meant by the term aborigines. I admit that it is very difficult to define the word 'aborigines' and I think that it is for this reason that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has preferred not to attempt any definition, but to leave the term to be defined by a description. And considering the matter even from that point of view, I do not think that there are sufficient reasons why these Maghs

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill 1917.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul Haq; Mr. Cumming.

should be included in the term and given the benefit of this legislation. So far as they are concerned, their interests can be sufficiently safeguarded when the Bengal Tenancy Act comes to be amended as a larger measure, and for the present, therefore, I do not see any reason why this legislation should be extended to them. I would not have moved this amendment had it not been for the fact that so far as I am aware these Maghs are not exactly in the same helpless condition in which Santhals and other aborigines admittedly are in certain parts of Bengal. The Maghs are very shrewd cultivators; in some cases they are much shrewder, more business-like and more careful of their interests than the Muhammadan cultivators who live in that part of the district. Unless, therefore, there are strong reasons why these Maghs should be taken out of the ordinary category of Bengali cultivators, I submit that no case had been made out for including these people in this special piece of legislation. I think, Sir, that unless such a case is made out, it is very undesirable that legislation of this character should be made too comprehensive. As a matter of fact, this legislation should be extended to include only the cases of those who would otherwise be helpless and powerless to protect themselves. I would deprecate any policy which would make this Bill something like what we have read of the old man in the sea in the Arabian Nights who once got up on a man's shoulder and then on the neck and head and in a minute he was all over the body. And this Bill commencing with certain aborigines is now extending its hands all over Bengal and even into the peaceful district of Bakarganj. And if this process is allowed to go on, I do not know how far it will go. I submit, therefore, that so far as the Maghs are concerned, they should be left to themselves to be dealt with when the Bengal Tenancy Act is to be amended later on. If, however, any special case can be made out against them I shall certainly be the last person to oppose their inclusion in the term. But as at present advised, and in view of all the communications I have received from my district, there is a strong feeling that the provisions of this Bill should not be extended to these people. With these few words I commend my amendment to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR CUMMING said :—

"Sir, the Hon'ble Member desires that Maghs should be excluded from this schedule, on the ground that they are practically ordinary Bengali cultivators. It is true, he says, that he took no exception to the inclusion on a previous occasion, but in view of certain representations that have been made to him, he now desires their exclusion. The reason for their inclusion in the schedule, which, I may remark in passing, is only a description of aboriginals, is that the Collector of Bakarganj described them in the following terms: He said that, as a race, they are improvident; that unlike the Bengalis they live together in a communal system, and that it is only by legislation of the kind proposed in this Bill that it is possible to save the Maghs from the results of their own thriftlessness. If this be the fact, Sir, I say that there is very little difference, if any, between them and other aboriginals to protect whom we desire to pass this legislation. It is true that Maghs have come over from the Burma border and have settled in Bakarganj, but they are still looked upon as semi-aboriginal. In the colonization area in Bakarganj district, a separate tract has been set aside for them for the double purpose of protecting them and of keeping them apart from the influence of the surrounding people in that district. I frankly admit that their case is not so strong as that of some other aboriginals, but still I think that their case is sufficiently strong to justify inclusion in the schedule. It is to be noted that under sub-clause (2) of clause 49A, no action is to be taken until Government have notified that the provisions of this Act will apply to one or other of the tribes mentioned in the schedule. I do not think that at the present moment the Hon'ble Member has sufficient justification for asking for their exclusion from the schedule."

AMENDMENT No. III.

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY moved that the following be inserted after sub-section (2) of section 49A, namely :—

"(2a) No notification under sub-section (2) shall come into operation in any district or local area until six months after the publication of such notification."

"(2b) Any landlord affected by any such notification may, within six months of its publication, object thereto before the Collector on the following grounds, namely :—

(i) that the education and material condition of the aboriginal castes or tribes specified in the notification are not of a lower standard than the education and material condition of the general body of non-aboriginal peasants inhabiting the said district or local area or neighbouring areas ; or

(ii) that a large proportion of the aboriginal castes or tribes specified in the notification is of a nomadic character."

"(2c) If an objection is preferred by any landlord on any of the grounds mentioned in sub-section (2b), the Collector shall hold an inquiry thereinto in the presence of such landlord or his duly authorized agent, and shall give his decision with regard thereto in writing."

"(2d) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner from any such decision of the Collector ; and every order by the Commissioner on appeal shall be subject to revision and modification by the Local Government."

He said :—

"Sir, at the last meeting of the Council when I objected to the passing of the Bill into law, I was charged by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming with having taken an 'unfair advantage' of a particular rule of business. I did not know that in raising the objection under rule 47, I could lay myself open to such a charge. If to avail ourselves of such little rights as we possess under duly promulgated legislative rules be unfair in the official eye, I wonder how to characterize gratuitous attempts to supplement the rules of business with so-called notes which lay down maxims like copy-books telling us what is right or wrong for members to do.

Sir, I do not mind the personal nature of the attack which the Hon'ble Member in charge thought fit to launch against me at the last meeting.

I am, moreover, prepared to concede a monopoly of fairness to the Hon'ble Member in charge if ....."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Is the Hon'ble Member in order ?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"No, he is not in order."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY continuing said :—

"Sir, the Bill immediately takes effect in the case of the Santhals of the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore who number 3 lakhs 32 thousand odd. But in its potential scope, this measure affects three lakhs more of Santhals in other districts, besides over 9 lakhs of people represented by the 18 aboriginal classes mentioned in section 49A, sub-section (2). Thus the potential scope of the Bill is about four times its immediate scope, so far as numbers go. I am perfectly aware that it is not the intention of the authorities to extend the provisions of the Bill to these classes all at once, or without any inquiry into the circumstances of each particular case. From all that we have heard and read about this matter, it appears to me that the authorities have for a few years been looking out for some such protective legislation for the Santhals, and that the idea of making it embrace other aboriginal classes is an after-thought. We know that some regular inquiry was made with regard to the Santhals, particularly of these districts, but no such investigation was ever undertaken in the other cases. Mr. McAlpin, the author of the Bill, has no doubt favoured us with an expression of his views after the Bill was referred to the Select Committee, in course of which he enumerates these classes of aboriginals as deserving to be brought within the prospective scope of the Bill. With due deference to the Director of Land Records, it must be said that we have a right to expect a thorough inquiry in the first instance, and an explanation from the Select Committee justifying the insertion of these names.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917.

Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray ; Mr. Cumming.

Sir, to put the matter briefly, we have to depend mainly on the testimony of Mr. McAlpin as to the necessity of investing Government with the power of extending this measure of doubtful wisdom to about 12 lakhs of people. And in giving a blank cheque to the executive with regard to 12 lakhs of aboriginals, what safeguards are we providing against any indiscriminate and unwise exercise of this extraordinary power? I propose in this amendment that the landlord should be given a chance of showing that in any particular case the circumstances do not justify the extension of the provisions of this Bill. Sir, I think I am right in saying that the intention of the legislature is to afford protection to the aboriginal against himself, not because he is an aboriginal, but because he is most backward and thriftless. And before any protection is extended to him, it should be made clear that he is actually worse off than the generality of the peasants of the non-aboriginal classes of the neighbourhood who cannot in any circumstances be brought under the operation of any such legislation. Sir, this represents the minimum that is due to the landlord in consideration of the great sacrifice he is being called upon to make in the name of humanity. And I hope the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming will see his way to accept this amendment on behalf of Government."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, the principle of previous publication has been adopted, as most Hon'ble Members are aware, in section 190 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. It is also used in connection with many other Acts, but I think that the case of the present Bill is somewhat different. It was urged by the Eastern Bengal Landholders' Association when submitting their opinion ; and undoubtedly that view had weight when there was no distinct definition of aboriginals in the Bill as then drafted, but as Government have now declared explicitly who in their view will be considered aboriginals and when a full description has been provided in this schedule, the argument, it seems to me, has nearly lost all its force. Indeed the inclusion of any particular tribe in this schedule is a warning that it is possible in the future that Government may deal with that tribe in the way in which it is proposed to deal with the Santhals. There is, moreover, an objection of form. The Hon'ble Member has drafted the amendment with the intention of making a prior inquiry obligatory, but there is no provision for giving effect to the decision of the Collector or Commissioner as the case may be. Then again there is an objection in principle, because in a matter of this kind, I do not think it is correct that Government should delegate their power to their officers ; the decision should remain with themselves. The Select Committee had some discussion on the point, but it was not considered necessary, in view of the form in which the schedule has been prepared, that there should be a prior publication. For these reasons, Sir, I suggest that the amendment of the Hon'ble Member should not be accepted by the Council."

AMENDMENT No. IV.

The Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI moved that the following be added at the end of section 49A, namely :—

"(5) The provisions of this Chapter shall not apply to Jhum cultivators."

He said :—

"Sir, in this connection I beg to state that certain sections of the aboriginal classes in the Eastern districts are known as Jhum cultivators. They are described by the Sub-Deputy Collector of Mymensingh thus : 'They generally clear the jungle, cultivate the virgin soil for two or three years and then shift to other jungles.' Speaking from my personal knowledge I can say that they do not generally pay any rent to the landlords for the first few years, and as soon as rent is about to be assessed on their fields, they move away to other quarters. In these circumstances, Sir, I submit that it will not be wise or fair either to lay down that once a Jhum horde have touched upon a land and left it for fresh field according to their wont, the landlord must have nothing more to do with it, than to wait for the arrival of another batch of wandering tenants. Again, as regards the interests of the Jhumias themselves, the Sub-Deputy Collector of Mymensingh rightly observes that : 'the Bill, as it stands, would do more harm than good to the Garo cultivators by making it difficult for them to make a profit by transferring their holdings to the more settled cultivators.' According to the present legislation the Jhumias, after they have cleared the jungles, must wait—nobody knows how long—for aboriginal purchasers to turn up, or they must desert their fields without gaining any return for their labour. I, therefore, urge that the Jhum cultivators should not be brought within the scope of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

'I quite appreciate the remarks of the Hon'ble Member; but it is obvious that if a Garo has no settled holding of any kind he would, under no circumstances, come under the provisions of this Bill ; while, on the other hand, if he has a settled holding, I ask the Hon'ble Member—why should the Bill not apply? Apparently, he bases his argument upon the opinion of the Sub-Deputy Collector of Mymensingh, who said that it would do harm to the Garos if they were subjected to such legislation. That opinion, however, is not supported by the Sub-Deputy Collector's superiors whom I have consulted. I recommend, therefore, that the amendment be not accepted."

The motion was put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. V.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI moved that the following be added at the end of section 49A., namely :—

"(5) the provisions of the Chapter shall not apply to such raiyats and under-raiyats as have not been in continuous possession of their holdings for at least three years previous to the publication of a notification under sub-section (2)".

He said :—

"Sir, the main purpose of the Bill, as stated by Mr. Beatson Bell was to secure the aboriginals against loosing their 'ancestral lands.' The clear intention of the Bill is, therefore, to protect those who are enjoying lands for a long period. I have fixed the period for three years as the maximum only to bring out the latent intention of the authorities."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"I understand the Hon'ble Member wishes to help the Government by causing the latent views underlying this section to be clearly expressed ; but I think he has overlooked one very salient fact, and that is that by an introduction of a provision of this nature the administration of the Act would be rendered more difficult. It would be always possible to plead want of jurisdiction under section 49N and raise a question as to whether any particular holding had or had not been in possession of the particular raiyat for the term of three years. Besides, I suggest one possibility to the Hon'ble Member. The term is three years previous to the notification which it is proposed to issue. Suppose for example a notification was issued in the year 1920 and a case came up for decision in the year 1927 or 1930. According to the terms of this clause, the aboriginal will have to prove possession not simply for 3 years but for 10 or 13 years, and so the evil would increase. I do not bas my chief objection on this which is a minor point. My main objection is that this proposal will only lead to difficulties. I say that this is a case of beneficent legislation, and I object to any further amendments which may be introduced to the impediment of the objects which the Bill has in view."

The motion was put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. VI.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI, with the leave of the President, withdrew the following motion which stood in his name :—

: If amendment No. V be not carried, the Hon'ble Babu Brajendra Kishor Ray Chaudhuri to move that the following be added at the end of section 49A, namely :—

:"(5) the provisions of this Chapter shall not apply to such raiyats and under-raiyats as have not been in continuous possession of their holdings for at least three years from the date of settlement of such holdings."

AMENDMENT No. VII.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY moved that the words " who is a settled raiyat of the village within which such land is situated " be inserted after the word " aboriginal ". in line 9 of clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 49H.

He said :—

" Sir, this is the sole survivor of about half a dozen amendments that I sent to the Secretary and I do not know what fate awaits it in the Council. Clause 49H gives unlimited power to the Collector to settle the land with any person he likes and on any terms he deems proper. I do not think it will be improper for a zamindar to object to an undesirable tenant, a stranger forced upon him about whom there will be no guarantee whether he will be able to pay rent regularly. That is why I move that the tenant may be a settled raiyat of the village. In this case, at least there will be this much guarantee that the person is known to the zamindar and is not a total stranger and moreover he has also a stake in the village and also I think some sort of preferential claim. Therefore, I hope, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will find his way to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

" Sir, at the risk of being tedious, may I shortly inform the Council what the procedure really is ? The Hon'ble Member has attacked a portion of that procedure which is at the very fag end of it. If a holding is transferred in contravention of the terms of this Bill, the Collector may eject the transferee and may restore the land to an aboriginal holder, and, failing such person, he may declare that the right of settlement is vested in the landlord. The landlord has then one year in which to make a settlement, and it is not till after this period that the provision to which the Hon'ble Member takes objection comes in. According to the terms of the section, the Collector may settle the land on behalf of the landlord on such terms as he thinks fit ; and if he is unable to make such settlement, he will then give up the right of settlement, and an unrestricted right of settlement will then vest in the landlord. I, therefore, put it to the Council that the Collector will only take action after the landlord has had one year to get a tenant to his liking. What then is the object of adding any further complication regarding the discretion of the Collector which is to be exercised after the landlord has failed ? The obligation of choosing a settled raiyat will only have the effect of creating a dispute ; and it is such disputes and such complications which I wish to avoid. Moreover, the very terms of the amendment seem to me to be irrelevant, in that the important thing is not whether the tenant is a settled raiyat or not, but whether he is an aboriginal. Therefore, I would ask the Council to reject this amendment on the main ground that the Collector's discretion need not be restricted, especially when the landlord who is most interested has had one whole year during which he can select a tenant to his own liking."

The motion being put, a division was taken with the following result :—

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 8.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING moved that the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1917, as amended by the Council on the 18th December, 1917. and as settled by the Council on the 22nd January, 1918, be passed.

He said :—

"I have already made remarks of a general nature regarding the character of this legislation ; and it would be trespassing on the forbearance of the Council if I were to make any further remarks at this stage. I can only repeat that this beneficent legislation is in the interests of the persons for whom it is being enacted and at their own request. It is not an attack upon landlords ; such restraints as have been put upon the action of landlords are such as landlords who themselves hold lands in the Santhal country are agreeable to accept. I think, therefore, that the Council need have no misgivings that legislation of this nature, whether as regards Santhals or as regards aboriginals of the description mentioned in the schedule to whom the Act may hereafter be applied, will do any harm ; nay, on the contrary, it will do a great deal of good."

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL (ALIENS) DISQUALIFICATION BILL, 1918.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS Nos. 9 and 10.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY moved for leave to introduce a Bill to disqualify certain persons from voting at elections of, or being elected or nominated as members of, or holding office in, local bodies in Bengal.

He said :—

"Sir, I beg to move for leave to introduce a Bill disqualifying certain persons from voting at elections of, or being elected or nominated as members of, or holding office in, local bodies in Bengal.

The Bill is brief and self-contained, and it requires but little explanation. Under the Municipal and Local Self-Government Acts in force in Bengal there is at present nothing to prevent aliens either from voting at elections for local bodies, such as District Boards, Local Boards, Union Committees and Municipal Boards. or from sitting as members of these bodies, or from holding responsible executive office under them. It is considered undesirable that aliens should have these privileges, and I believe measures have already been taken elsewhere to disqualify them. In Bengal three Acts are affected, viz., the Bengal Municipal Act, the Calcutta Municipal Act and the Bengal Local Self-Government Act ; and instead of amending these Acts it has been thought preferable to take the simpler course of having a direct and self-contained measure.

The Bengal (Aliens) Disqualification Bill, 1918.

Mr. O'Malley.

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

Mr. O'Malley.

The Bill provides for the disqualification of every person who is not a British subject or a subject of any State in India ; the latter expression does not include the subjects of foreign European States in India. Aliens are not to be eligible to vote at elections for local bodies and are to be debarred from obtaining seats by means of election. As membership can be obtained not only by election but also by nomination, the latter method of admission to membership is also blocked by the Bill. As the responsible offices of Chairman, Deputy Chairman and Vice-Chairman need not always be held by members of the Boards, they have also been brought within the scope of the Bill ; and it is provided that as soon as the Act comes into force aliens are to be deprived of their membership or of their offices if they happen to be members or to hold any of these offices at the time.

The general provisions of the Bill, which apply to all aliens, are subject to the important proviso at the end of the Bill which allows the Government of Bengal, with the approval of the Government of India, to make an exception in the case of any aliens or class of aliens. The reason for this proviso is that it is considered that the Armenians should not be deprived of the privileges which they at present possess. As long ago as 1688 an undertaking was given in a Charter granted to an Armenian merchant, Logee Phanoos Calander, by the Governor and Company of Merchants of London trading to the East Indies, that 'the Armenian nation shall be capable of all civil offices and preferments in the same manner as if they were Englishmen born.' This undertaking has hitherto been observed and it is intended to observe it. It is true that a considerable number of the Armenians, resident in Bengal, were born in British India, and are, consequently, British subjects, and the question of disfranchisement would not therefore arise in their case. It would, however, arise in the case of those who were born outside British India, unless they are excluded from the scope of the Bill. We feel that if they were deprived of their existing rights Government would lay itself open to a charge of breach of faith with a community of people who have proved themselves loyal and useful citizens, and some of whom have played a leading part in municipal life. It is therefore intended that all Armenians should continue to enjoy their existing civic rights ; and the Government of India have already given an assurance that they are prepared to exclude Armenians from the restrictions which the Bill imposes.

With these words I move for leave to introduce the Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that the said Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha, the Hon'ble Mr. Payne, the Hon'ble Mr. Panton, the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie, the Hon'ble Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy, the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray and the mover, with instructions to circulate their report in time for its consideration at the February meeting of the Council.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE SERAMPORE COLLEGE BILL, 1918.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 11.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY moved for leave to introduce a Bill to supplement, and in certain matters to supersede, the Royal Charter of Incorporation and the Statutes and Regulations of the Serampore College.

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

Mr. O'Malley.

He said :—

" Sir, If the Hon'ble Members will refer to the schedules of the Bill they will see that the Charter dates back to 1827 and the Statutes and Regulations to 1833. I trust that the Members of the Council will bear with me if I give a brief historical resumé in order to explain the circumstances which have led up to this Bill.

The Serampore College was founded a century ago by the little band of Baptist Missionaries known as the Serampore Missionaries. Serampore was then Danish territory and was known officially as Fridericksnagore. The College was incorporated in 1827 by a Royal Charter granted by the King of Denmark, which gave it the powers of a University for conferring degrees. If Hon'ble Members will refer to the translation of the Charter—the original is in Danish,—which is printed as Schedule I of the Bill, they will see that the object of the College was to 'promote piety and learning particularly among the Indian Christian population of India.' It authorized the College to confer degrees on the students that testify their proficiency in Science, and it provided for the making and establishment of Statutes and Regulations. The Statutes and Regulations, of which a copy is printed as Schedule II of the Bill. were drawn up in 1833. They laid down, in accordance with the terms of the Charter, that the Council of the College was to consist of a Master or President and at least two, but not more than four, members. They also laid down that,—' learning and piety being peculiar to no denomination of Christians'.—one of the members might belong to any denomination other than that of the Baptists.

In 1846 Serampore was transferred to the British by a treaty of purchase which recognized the Charter, for it provided that the rights and immunities which it granted to the College should not be interfered with but continue in force in the same way as if they had been obtained by a Charter from the British Government subject to the general law of India. I must pass briefly over the vicissitudes of the College during the next half century. In 1856 it was placed by the Council at the disposal of the Baptist Missionary Society for use in its educational work, both secular and theological, and next year it was affiliated to the newly found University of Calcutta.

In 1900 a movement was set on foot for the reorganization of the College on the lines laid down by its original founders. The objects contemplated were to provide facilities for theological study in conjunction with a liberal course of general education ; to secure that the scientific study of Christian theology and biblical literature after a sound preliminary course in literature. philosophy and science should receive academic recognition similar to that accorded in Western countries ; and to utilize the College Charter for the granting of theological degrees to students of all churches. In course of time it became evident. that the denominational limitations that the original founders inserted, would prove a serious obstacle to the realization of these ideals. Eventually the College Council came to the conclusion that powers should be obtained by legislation to enlarge its membership so as to allow inter-denominational co-operation in the government of the College and moved Government to undertake legislation.

The Bill I have the honour to introduce has been drafted in order to give effect to the wishes of the College authorities. Briefly, they desire to confer degrees in theology upon the students of the College under the powers granted by the Royal Danish Charter, and they are anxious to place the constitution on a wider inter-denominational foundation. The Bill consequently provides for an alteration in the constitution, the Council being enlarged to a maximum of fifteen members in addition to the Master, while one-third only of the members must belong to the Baptist denomination. There is to be a faculty which shall be responsible to the Council for the internal management of the College and a strictly inter-denominational Senate, which will frame the courses of studies and control the examinations.

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

Mr. O'Malley.

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

As regards the power to confer degrees, the College authorities are empowered by the Charter to grant degrees to the students who are proficient in science ; and according to the ordinary meaning of the word they are in a position to grant degrees in non-theological subjects. I understand that they intend to grant only theological degrees, but it has been thought advisable to subject their power of conferring degrees in other subjects to safeguards similar to those prescribed by the Universities Act. Accordingly it is provided in clause 13, that if at any time the Council of the College shall intend to grant non-theological degrees, such degrees shall be confined to students of the College, and that before it grants such degrees it shall satisfy the Government as to the adequacy of the establishment and the equipment of the College, the academic standard to be maintained and the financial provision made therefor.

I should explain that Government feel that the undertaking given in 1845 to maintain the rights and immunities of the College implied at least a moral obligation on the part of Government not to amend the Charter in this way without the consent of the College authorities. They were accordingly consulted about this provision, and it has been inserted in the Bill with their consent. I should further explain the use in clause 13 of the words 'Government as defined in section 2(b) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904, in relation to the Calcutta University.' That section says 'the expression "the Government" means in relation to the University of Calcutta the Governor-General in Council.' The Government of India will, therefore, have to be satisfied under the Universities Act as it now stands. It may, however, be in the recollection of Hon'ble Members that in the Convocation speech which His Excellency the Viceroy delivered last year he foreshadowed the possibility of a transfer of the control of the Calcutta University from the Government of India to the Bengal Government. He remarked :—

'It has been frequently urged that the time has come for the Government of Bengal to take the place of the Government of India and the Governor to take the place of the Viceroy in the constitution of the University. Since I assumed office I have been very conscious of the grave inconvenience of the distance which separates the University from its Chancellor and the Government of India. It is impossible for us to have that close and intimate knowledge of your affairs which only residence on the spot can give. But I do not think that the moment when we are setting up this Commission, whose recommendations we shall have to consider, is the moment for such a change. As soon as the Commission has reported and action has been taken on its report, that will be the moment when the Governor and the Government of Bengal may well take over charge.'

The words to which I have referred have, therefore, been used in the Bill so that if at any time hereafter the control of the Calcutta University is transferred to the Bengal Government and section 2(b) of the Indian Universities Act is amended to legalize the change, there will be no necessity to amend clause 13 and the functions assigned to Government in the matter of non-theological degrees will ipso facto devolve on the Government of Bengal."

The motion was put and agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 12.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the last batch of students of the Belgachia Medical School admitted in the year 1913, and those who failed for the first time in one or two subjects in the Faculty Examination held in November, 1916, be granted an opportunity to appear at the Licentiate Examination of the State Medical Faculty of Bengal as has been previously allowed in the case of other students".

He said :—

"Sir, the question was submitted to Government and it was discussed in the public press and I have had an opportunity of seeing the Government views in reply to a representation made in the columns of the Bengalee. When the State Faculty Examination was arranged for there was a notification that the provisional examination would be held for two years up to May 1916 and thereafter no examination for private students would be held. At the time this was done the case of the students who were admitted in 1913 for a four years' course was not considered. At the time it was open to the school authorities to dismiss and close those classes or to warn the students about it but nothing was done. Apparently there was an impression in the minds of the students as also the school authorities that when their case arises in 1917 it will be favourably considered and they continued with their studies under that impression. But subsequently when they submitted a petition for an examination to be held in 1917 it was not considered in their favour.

Sir, I need not, I think, make any very lengthy speech. The case of these students for whom I plead is sufficiently strong by itself to appeal to the good sense of Hon'ble Members.

I confess my utter inability to make out why it is that the Government have so long been persistent in their refusal to give these students an opportunity for registering themselves. I need not, I think, dwell at length upon the disadvantages of non-registration which, I am perfectly sure, every Hon'ble Member present here is well aware of. I might only say that the disadvantages are many and I really do not see why these poor students should suffer from any such disadvantages while equally qualified candidates were given the opportunity of qualifying themselves for registration.

I may briefly state the history of the unfortunate position so as to make it clear to this Council that the Government are labouring under an entirely wrong impression throughout on the question 'who is at fault?' And this wrong impression I have no doubt is at the root of the whole situation. The Bengal Medical Act was passed in the year 1914 by this Council. About the time when the Bengal Medical Act was passed negotiations were going on between the Government and the Belgachia Medical College authorities for converting that College into a first grade University College, as a result of which admission into the old college and school departments was stopped for the first time in 1914. But the existing classes started in 1912 and 1913 were not discontinued, which at least shows that everyone in the College, I mean the College authorities and the students, were under the impression that the already admitted students would be given opportunities of qualifying themselves for registration under the Act of 1914. And this view obtains support from a letter of Dr. R. G. Kar, the Secretary of the College, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal. I need only refer to a part of the letter which is as follows :—

'(2) These students were given to understand that they will be allowed to pass out as their predecessors and the school was debarred from admitting any new students under agreement with the Government of Bengal with effect from June, 1914.'

(Letter dated the 2nd October, 1916.)

Thus it is that these students are not to blame. The recent Government reply to the representation of the Indian Association which says that these students are themselves to blame thus proceeds upon a wrong hypothesis. In the course of the reply (published in the Bengalee, dated the 23rd December, 1917) the Government remark : 'The hardships from which the students referred to are alleged to be suffering are the result of the failure of these students to adapt themselves to conditions which were set out very clearly and in ample time to allow them to follow a course of study qualifying them to appear at the examinations of State Medical Faculty under its ordinary rules.' But may I ask, Sir, how could these students, after a year's course in the school, adapt themselves to the conditions set out except by the discontinuation of further studies in that Department ? If so, why were not the students given timely information and warning or the classes discontinued ?

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

It is of course true that the State Medical Faculty immediately after its creation notified that examinations under its transitory provisions will be held up to May 1916. But could it not be imagined by these students, if they knew of the notification at all, that this notification was only provisional and when the transitory provisions existed and were applied to some of the students that were already admitted before 1911 for a study of four years' course, this concession would also be extended to them when it would be pointed out to the authorities that the notification made did not cover their case and it was not possible for them to appear at the Final Examination held in 1916 ? Sir, it is only natural to imagine so. When they see that students admitted in 1912 are getting a chance it is impossible, Sir, I say it is impossible for them to imagine that they would not be given a chance. The fact, that this notification did not cover their case, they might have thought, was accidental by reason of a mistake or was only provisional. Surely, Sir, it is bad logic to say otherwise. To meet this it has been said that this concession—I mean the transitory provisions—was meant only for existing practitioners and not for students who had not passed out of the College. If that is so, how is it that some of the students were allowed to take advantage of these transitory provisions ? Is it by mistake ? The case, therefore, comes to this that some are allowed while others are not. And why this distinction ? I find no suitable explanation. Besides, why was the concession subsequently extended up to November, 1916 ? I do not really understand why ? One is, however, apt to think that this extension was made not to give the practitioners another chance, but only to meet the case of the students, because the existing practitioners had already got some chances.

Sir, one is naturally inclined to ask the question—how does the Government suffer if these students are given a chance to qualify themselves ? I am unable, my Lord, I confess, to answer this question. Is there any question of official prestige or anything of that sort in this question ? I think there cannot be any. Why then this persistent refusal on the part of the Government ? Sir, I appeal to you to remedy this grievance. The matter may be said to be petty, because the case of not more than 100 young boys is involved. But when you look at the matter for the future life of these 100 unfortunate students the matter certainly is very serious. By your refusal you take away some rights from some young persons, who will just begin their life, possibly for no fault of theirs. When it does not injure the Government in any way, on the other hand it gives certain people the rights to which they are reasonably entitled, surely, Sir, it is not proper for the authorities to refuse their prayer simply because a discretion is vested in them. I will say Sir, that to refuse these students will be an arbitrary and not reasonable exercise of discretion.

The Belgachia Medical Institution has been thoroughly investigated into by the Government and is admitted to be a well-staffed, well-equipped and well-managed institution. I may be permitted to observe that in the year 1898 the Government of Bengal appointed a Commission, with Colonel R. C. Sanders as President, to enquire into the standard of admission,

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

curriculum and equipment. The Commission came to the conclusion that their standard of admission etc., are the same as that of the Campbell Medical School and may be affiliated with a limited number of students. Besides the Government of India have by a recent notification in the India Gazette, dated the 12th January 1918 (Home Department No. 202-C), empowered the Belgachia Medical College to grant certificates up to 1918. The notification is quoted below :—

'In exercise . . . . . the Governor-General in Council is pleased to authorize the Institution now known as the Calcutta Medical School and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bengal, situated in Belgachia (Calcutta), to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to such students as shall have passed the fourth year examination of the said Institution prior to the 16th March, 1918, subject to the following conditions . . . . . '

That shows that the Government of India are also satisfied that students passed out of the Belgachia Medical College are fit to practise the Western medical science under the Indian Medical Act of 1916. I do not understand how it can still be said that the very same students who are thought fit by the Government of India are not fit persons to be registered under the provisions of the Bengal Medical Act, 1914. And, Sir, does it not create an anomaly between the workings of the two Acts, the Indian Medical Act of 1916 and the Bengal Medical Act of 1914? I regret very much, Sir, that these students are even now, that is, after the notification by the Government of India, refused registration.

Lastly, Sir, I may be permitted to refer in this connection to what happened in England when the Medical Act was passed there in 1858. The General Council were empowered to dispense by special orders with any provision of the Act in favour of persons who were already practising in the United Kingdom and also in favour of medical students who had commenced their professional studies before the passing of the Act. That is, Sir, what should be. Further, what was done by the Calcutta University when in 1911 the L. M. S. examination was abolished? In order to afford every chance to its unsuccessful L. M. S. students the University allowed the plucked candidates to appear at five chances till November 1913. That is the reason why I plead all the more strongly on behalf of the 1912 batch who got only one chance. In justice they ought to be allowed more chances. It is inexplicable, further, why the Bengal State Medical Faculty, did not consider the case of these students when they made the transitory provision. Is it because they were unaware of them? I do not think so. Or perhaps it was a mistake! If so, it is time that the mistake should be rectified."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"Sir, here is a case of real hardship. Here, as in Great Britain, before the passing of a Medical Act, there had been practising members as well as students engaged in studies. According to the Medical Act of Great Britain provisions were made for declaring practising members as qualified for registration, that is to say, members that had been previously practising. By the same Act also the students who had been engaged in medical studies had certain facilities for appearing at the examination and in the case of their passing such examination they were declared as holding registrable qualifications. Here we had our students and we had our passed students. I am speaking for Belgachia School which is, I suppose, the school mentioned in the resolution. As regards our passed students who were practising members and many of whom were also in some service—at the instance of the Hon'ble Mr. Norman McLeod an assurance was given to them by Sir William Duke in connection with the discussion on the Medical Act that the passed students of this school would have an opportunity of going in for an examination that would be instituted by the examining body that was to be formed for examining the students. Subsequently the State Medical Faculty was instituted and the State Medical Faculty ruled or a rule was made by the Government in connection with the institution of the State Medical Faculty to the effect that for two years passed students of such medical schools as Belgachia would be permitted to present themselves at examinations to be held by the State Medical Faculty, and if they passed they would be considered as holding the medical qualification for the purpose of the Registration Act. So far it was all right, but then the Belgachia Medical School was admitting students up to the year 1913, and the Government knew it and the Government knew that when the Medical Act was passed many of the students would not have obtained maturity as pupils at that time and that some of them must take a little time after the passing of that Act in order to attain maturity. Unfortunately no provision was made for such students. In fact two years ended by May 1916, that is the two years for which the State Medical Faculty was authorised to examine the passed students of the vernacular medical schools or indigenous non-official medical schools that ended by May 1916, but by that time many of our students did not complete their course in the school and the result was that many of them have been stuck. Subsequently another chance was given and that was in November 1916 and then also many of our students did not finish their studies and the hospital attendance, etc. The result is that many of them had no chance whatever to go in for the examination of the State Medical Faculty. However, I am only concerned with pointing out the inconsistency of the Government assurance on the one hand and the orders subsequently passed. What I am interested in is this : Here is a fairly good number of deserving young men who are in a way practically declared as quacks for no fault of their own. Of course they may have a school certificate, at least some of them have, but a school certificate is of very little use to a medical practitioner, particularly after the passing of the Medical Degrees Act. Under the circumstances if the Government kindly extend the transitory regulation to another year or two, giving one or two chances to these students, I think that would be helping a deserving class of young men. As regards lowering the standard of which we are all afraid and in which we are all interested, I think there is no fear of that, for the examination will maintain the same standard as in the past and nobody shall be declared registrable or as holding a registrable qualification before he passes an examination. The question is only one of giving one or two chances to students who have regularly attended their classes and regularly done their duty in the hospitals and prepared in every other way for the examination with the hope that they in their turn should have a chance of going in for the examination. But unfortunately they find now that there is no chance for them. In these circumstances I support the resolution which has been moved."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"Sir, I have great pleasure in supporting this resolution, and in doing so I do not propose to make any lengthy speech. I would only say this that a very strong case has been made out by both the speakers who preceded me, especially the views of my Hon'ble friend Dr. Sarkar are entitled to great consideration, and I therefore hope that the resolution will be acceptable to the Members of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Sir, the Hon'ble Members who have supported this resolution have made some reference to the recent legislation contained in the Bengal Medical Act, 1914, and the Indian Medical Degrees Act, 1916, but they have not quite considered the bearing of these Acts on the question now before us. The policy underlying these two Acts cannot be left out of consideration. The resolution now before us should be judged by its compliance with that

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

policy, and if it does not satisfy that test it is not justified by the mere fact that it extends to certain students who have previously failed, or to others who have not yet presented themselves, the favour of appearing either for a second or first time at the examinations of the State Medical Faculty. It is always easy to make concessions, but they must be justified by the general policy which is in view. It is always easy to say of any rule that it works hardly in a particular case and might be relaxed, but the purpose of the rule should not be frustrated. The whole basis of the two Acts I have mentioned was that, to secure the supply of properly qualified medical men, certain conditions had to be fulfilled, and it is inexpedient to allow men to call themselves qualified when the necessary conditions of qualification are absent.

As the Council is aware, the Bengal Medical Act, 1914, created a machinery for the registration of practitioners who had satisfied certain standards. By this Act unregistered men were not prevented from practising, but their status was in certain respects made inferior to that of those who were on the registers. Subsequent to that Act, under regulations of the 2nd March, 1915, a body was created, known as the State Medical Faculty with authority to hold examinations for its Licentiateship and Membership. These examinations are registrable qualifications under the Bengal Medical Act of 1914. Subsequently the Indian Medical Degrees Act of 1916 was passed. This Act prohibited the use of unauthorised degrees. It also restricted the right of conferring anything in the nature of degrees declaring that the recipient was qualified to practise western medical science to certain scheduled bodies only. These were bodies which were regarded as capable of giving an efficient medical training, and among them was the State Medical Faculty in Bengal. In addition, therefore, to the advantages of registration, this Act rendered it still more expedient that men who desired to practise western medicine should undergo a proper preliminary training, and that indeed was the intention. I do not wish to recapitulate the history of what may be termed the unrecognised medical schools in Bengal, but the legislation to which I have referred rested on the contention—which was accepted by the Legislature—that the instruction imparted in them was inadequate and that men who had not submitted to better tuition were not properly qualified. This is a most important point which affects the whole of the present resolution.

While the Bengal Medical Act and the creation of the State Medical Faculty were under discussion, however, attention was drawn to the position of men who were actually practising medicine, but who had not fulfilled the conditions of training which would enable them to secure a registrable qualification. The matter was referred to in the course of the debate in this Council on the Medical Bill of 1914. The consideration of the case of such practitioners led to the issue of what is known as the transitory provision in the regulations of the State Medical Faculty. I will read an extract from a letter of this Government, which explains the position. It is as follows :—

'There is in Bengal a considerable number of medical practitioners who have not been trained in the Government schools or college and they are, therefore, debarred from any possibility of registration, inasmuch as only the Government college and schools have been recognised in the schedule and, though others may be recognised in the future, the recognition will not apply to those who have already passed out. * * * There was a very strong feeling that it was a hardship to condemn * passed students * * * to be classed with quacks without giving them some opportunity of proving they were worthy of a higher place * * * *. The passing of a Bill like the Registration Act must eventually work some hardship in individual cases,' and it is usual to mitigate

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

that hardship as far as possible by exemptions of class and individuals. Should the State Faculty, therefore, be established His Excellency in Council proposes to provide that, while ordinarily it shall examine students only from colleges and schools approved by the Medical Registration Council, it shall be open to the Local Government in individual cases, after consideration of the training and antecedents of the candidate, to grant a certificate of eligibility for the examination.'

This recommendation was accepted by the Government of India with the remark—and this was based on the suggestion from this Government—that 'this system of certificates should not, however, be continued beyond the first two years of the Faculty coming into existence.' Before, therefore, I explain further the transitory clause I would emphasise that compliance with this resolution does not rest within the competence of the Bengal Government. If it was decided to act in accordance with it all that could be done would be to recommend that course to the Government of India and, as I shall presently show, that authority has definitely declined already to permit a relaxation of the rules.

It may be convenient to read the transitory provision as it ultimately appeared :—

'Any person who has undergone a full course of training in any medical college or school and has obtained a certificate to that effect from the head of such college or school may, at the discretion of the Governor in Council, be granted a certificate enabling him to appear at the Final Examination for the Licentiateship within two years from the constitution of the Faculty; and on his appearing at such examination and satisfying the Examiners, he shall be deemed eligible for election as a Licentiate of the Faculty.'

It will be seen that, as directed by the Government of India, this definitely prescribed a two years' term for the continuance of the special system. The reason of this time-limit was, firstly, that it was not expedient that this intermediate concession should be of indefinite duration, thus delaying the inauguration of the state of affairs which was deemed to be necessary in the interests of medical efficiency. Secondly, assuming the existence of actual practitioners whose medical qualifications were in reality satisfactory, despite the course of training by which they had arrived at them, it was thought that two years was sufficient for such a man to rub up his knowledge for the purpose of examination. This was the scope of the concession as originally contemplated, but the Bengal Government, in its wish to minimise individual hardships, made a slight extension in its terms. They allowed any one to compete under this clause who passed out of an unrecognised school prior to the 16th March, 1916, which was the date of passing of the Indian Medical Degrees Act. This privilege did, in fact, meet the case of those students who, at the time of the issue of the regulations, were at a fairly advanced stage of their studies and who might have found difficulty in restarting them elsewhere. Those who were then junior had ample opportunity of knowing what their precise position was, and if they did not desire to accept the disabilities entailed by continuing their training in these schools, of making other arrangements for their training.

However, in pursuance of their same wish to leave no reasonable ground of complaint, the Bengal Government took yet another step. Under the rules of the Faculty examinations were held twice yearly, in May and November, and the first examination was not held till May, 1915, although the Faculty was constituted on the 11th August, 1914. This meant that the term of two years from the latter date would not have included the fourth examination of November, 1916. It was thought, however, that a reasonable interpretation of a two years' period was four examinations, and the regulations were modified, with the assent of the Government of India, so as to include this examination of November, 1916. In making this fact known by communiqué and by direct communication to the schools it was explicitly said that this was the last examination under the transitory clause which would be held. There is no excuse, therefore, for any one to say that they did not know where they stood, while, as I have endeavoured to show, every effort was made to meet cases in which hardship might possibly be alleged.

However, despite these measures Government still continued to be pressed to do more and prior to to-day's debate eight representations have been submitted on the subject, namely :—

I. From the National Medical College, dated the 28th January, 1916, asking for an extended term of five years (in all) for the transitory provision.

II. From the National Medical Register of Coorg, dated the 2nd May, 1916, asking for a two years' extension of the transitory period, i.e., making four years in all.

III. From the Belgachia students of 1913, dated the 14th September, 1916, asking for leave to appear at the Faculty examinations.

IV. From the Belgachia students of 1912 and 1913, dated the 10th February, 1917, asking for leave to appear at the Faculty examinations.

V. From the Belgachia students, dated the 26th March, 1917, asking for leave to appear at the Faculty examinations.

VI. From those who failed in one or two subjects at the last examination, dated the 29th May, 1917, asking for leave to appear once again.

VII. From Dr. M. N. Banerjee, dated the 4th September, 1917, asking for two more chances to those who passed out of Belgachia before March, 1916.

VIII. From the Indian Association, dated the 19th October, 1917, asking that all passed students of the unrecognised schools should be given at least one more chance.

IX. From the students of the Belgachia Medical School, dated the 17th January, 1918, asking for the acceptance of this resolution.

To none of these the Local Government saw their way to accede, beyond the extension over the examination of November, 1916, to which I have already referred, while the fourth and sixth memorials were rejected by the Government of India.

This then is the position, and we now have the matter raised for the ninth time by the present resolution. To its acceptance I would urge the following objections.

In the first place the whole case for the Bengal Medical Act and the Indian Medical Degrees Act (which, I would repeat, has been accepted by two Legislatures) rests on the fact that the medical training of the unrecognised schools was utterly bad. These schools were treated with much patience; every effort was made to induce them to reform themselves, and it was not until these failed that resort was had to legislation. As regards Belgachia the school has, I must admit, since sought to attain a higher standard and I may mention that in so doing Government has given it liberal assistance, with the help of which we wish it all success in its future career. But even in that school there was delay in taking steps to reform. The rest declined practically to do anything. It is not reasonable, therefore, that we should now be asked especially to provide for those students who were content to continue in circumstances of which they could easily have foreseen the consequences. If the training of these schools was bad, then in allowing their students to compete at the Faculty examinations, we are merely facilitating the registration of ill-equipped practitioners. We have already made concessions, and in 1916 we said we could do no more. I submit that we have treated these men fairly, and we merely deprecate the value of the Licentiateship if we allow improperly trained men to take it. It is not a full answer to say that a man who can pass the examination must be competent ; if examinations are the sole test, the whole case for insistence upon efficient preliminary tuition (whether it be in medicine or anything else) disappears.

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald ; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

Secondly, as regards those who were in practice at the time of the Act, I have shown why a two years' term was adopted, how it was extended in order to give to it that full effect that it might be argued was meant, and how at that stage there was intended to be finality. For revising that decision no adequate cause has, I submit, been shown.

Thirdly, in matters of this kind there must be definite regulations, and probably no regulation has ever been framed under which it is not possible to argue a hard case. But that consequence does not justify the relaxation of rules to an extent which would practically nullify the object for which they were promulgated.

Fourthly, if we grant further concessions, where are we to stop? The facts regarding previous representations which I have given to the Council show that there is no unanimity as to the remedy. If we benefit the 1913 students then why not those of 1912? If we help the Belgachia men then why not those of the other unrecognised schools? I had a letter yesterday from Dr. Mullick and he raised this question. If the Belgachia students of 1913 were admitted to this examination, why should the students of his school not be admitted? And again if we give one more chance, then why not two, and so on? The path of concession is a slippery path.

For these reasons I cannot recommend the acceptance of the resolution even if its fulfilment lay within our power, which it does not. It must be remembered that there is nothing in these restrictions which prevents an unqualified man from practising; the object of this legislation has been merely to define the status of those who are accounted to be duly qualified and to prevent the assumption by those who are not fully trained of titles, etc., which might lead to the presumption that they were."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHUN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, I have submitted all that I have got to say and everything has been very clearly explained by my Hon'ble friend Dr. Sarkar. I really cannot understand the position of Government and from where the difficulty comes. I was referring to the Belgachia School which has been acknowledged after an inquiry and also by a Government notification to be a fit institution to grant certificates. The pass students who would be qualified under the provision of the Medical Degrees Act, 1916, will be considered as quacks under the Bengal Medical Act, 1914. As to the training, they have got sufficient training to undergo any examination under the provisions of the State Medical Faculty and a certificate granted by the school authorities should be quite sufficient. They do not claim that without an examination they should be registered They are fully prepared to sit for another examination. Just as a concession was made to the L. M. S. students of the Medical College a similar concession may be made for the students admitted in 1913 and who through no fault of their own are debarred from practising as registered medical practitioners. As far as I can see, there is no valid reason why Government should refuse this concession to them. I have been told that the final decision rests with the Government of India. That may be so. My proposal is that a representation be submitted to the Government of India setting forth the present situation. The recommendation of the school authorities may also be submitted to them. That is all I have got to say, and I hope the Council will support my resolution."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

The PRESIDENT said :—

The resolution which is now going to be moved consists of three parts, and I am going to put them separately to the Council ; but if the Hon'ble Member desires he can deal with the whole resolution in his opening speech.',

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI then moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—(i) early steps be taken to impart suitable instruction in improved methods of agriculture, and that demonstration farms be established in different centres in this Presidency ;

(ii) arrangements be made for teaching and giving practical training in elementary agriculture in primary schools with special reference to local needs ; and

(iii) a committee be formed of official and non-official members and experts to frame rules and regulations for agricultural education in all its branches and allied subjects.

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Ray Chaudhuri; Mr. Cumming.

He said :—

"Sir, the question of agricultural education involved in my resolution has now been taken up in right earnest by the Calcutta University. That it is not only desirable but it is necessary to take steps to promote the teaching of agriculture is, I can take it, an admitted fact. It is really the 'bread' question of the day. We want rapid spread of education but such education is necessary as will enable us to earn our livelihood independent of Government service. We must learn how to stand on our own legs. Bengal consists mainly of an agricultural population and the need for this branch of education is felt alike by the Government and the people. There was a Conference at Simla as to the means of spreading agricultural education and we hear conclusions were arrived at, but we do not know of anything that has been done as yet in this direction. I think it cannot be postponed any longer. Now that the University has drawn up a scheme for diploma, license and degree examinations in agriculture, it is urgently necessary that a thorough and practicable scheme well suited to the requirements of the province should be drawn up for the primary as well as secondary schools. The Agricultural Department has not been able to do much in this behalf. The reason is that it has not been able to create an interest for the general public. Whatever is done in the 'experimental' farms is not communicated and demonstrated to the agricultural class. Moreover, the costly experiments carried on in the experimental farms cannot benefit the people. Regular arrangements for theoretical education in agriculture supplemented by practical training in 'demonstration' farms are urgently necessary.

The scheme prepared by the University aims, it seems to me, at the establishment of a separate college. If it is not possible at present to have it, some of the colleges—e.g., the Dacca and Rajshahi Colleges—can be selected for affiliation in agricultural studies and additional arrangements may be made for proper training at moderate cost. The scheme, in my opinion, should be prepared in such a way as may enable the University to grant diploma or license on the result of the Intermediate Course and the Degree examination may be completed in two years like other Degree examinations. However, this is a suggestion only and it is for the University to consider the details. I propose that Government should accept the principle. A Committee should be formed for the preparation of a scheme with the help of the experts and in co-operation with the University, for agricultural training in the lower stages. My idea is that in the 'primary' schools agricultural education should be compulsory. But as there may be differences of opinion on that point I suggest that the proposed committee may be directed to consider the question. In the secondary stage it may be optional so that those who like to take up agriculture in their College education may take advantage of this optional branch. The real difficulty is in the practical training. As I have already submitted, 'demonstration' farms should be largely arranged for so that the pupils may get the practical training there at least for a term. These are things, however, for detail which should be dealt with by the Committee. All I want is that Government will be pleased to take up the matter and do the needful in furtherance of this movement, which has also been recognised by the Simla Conference and the Calcutta University.

The demonstration farms as soon as self-supporting may be made over to the local Committees."

The Hon'ble Mr. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, it certainly requires no words of mine to commend the improvement of agriculture in a country in which the chief industry is agriculture. The Hon'ble Member desires that Government should institute instruction in agriculture in colleges, in middle schools, and in primary schools. I shall deal with these in turn as the occasion arises; but, probably, the more convenient way of dealing with the resolution is to take the heads as they stand in the agenda.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

First of all, regarding the imparting of suitable instruction in improved methods of agriculture and the establishment of demonstration farms in different centres in this Presidency, I may say at once that Government accept that part of the resolution. But, I should like the Hon'ble Member to realise that the extent and nature of improvement in the methods of agriculture is only one of the many problems which lie before the Government in the Agricultural Department. It should also be realised that farms which are called demonstration farms are also experimental farms to a large extent for the purpose of investigation and research. At present we have six such farms in this Presidency, and it is in contemplation to proceed further, so that in due course there will be a small farm at the headquarters of each district.

Turning now to the second portion, as regards the teaching and the giving of practical training in elementary agriculture in primary schools with special reference to local needs, I fear that though the Hon'ble Member has referred to the literature on the subject, he is not fully acquainted with the conclusions to which the various Conferences have come. As regards his proposition that elementary agriculture as such should be taught in primary schools, the opinion which the advisers of Government have deliberately formed is that all attempts to teach agriculture as such in primary schools should be abandoned. This was one of the resolutions of the Conference on Agricultural Education held at Pusa in February 1916. The terms of that resolution were as follows : The Conference considered that all attempts to teach agriculture in primary schools should be definitely abandoned, and they desired to reaffirm a resolution of the Board of Agriculture passed at Coimbatore in the year 1913. The resolution passed at Coimbatore in 1913, was that the Board of Agriculture considered that the question of a sympathetic co-operation between the educational and agricultural departments in adapting rural education to rural needs was one of great importance. In other words, what they considered important was not the teaching of agriculture to the sons of agriculturists, but that in giving primary education to the sons of agriculturists, regard should be had to their environment and that the curriculum should be such as would appeal to the eyes and minds of agriculturists. During the proceedings of a later Conference held at Simla in June 1917, the Conference passed a resolution in the following terms :—

'The Conference also strongly insist on the desirability of adapting primary education in rural areas more closely to rural needs. Whilst agreeing that no attempt should be made in primary schools to teach agriculture or horticulture as such, the following suggestions are made towards the solution of this problem.'

Then follows a number of recommendations, with which I shall not trouble the Council ; but the purport of them all is that instruction in primary schools should be such that boys brought up in a rural atmosphere will appreciate. So, sir, regarding the second part of the Hon'ble Member's resolution, I fear that this Government cannot accept it. The proposal has been definitely rejected by two All-India Conferences and the Government of Bengal have in their turn also definitely endorsed the same decision. When the matter last came up for consideration, it was held by the Bengal Government that the attempt to teach agriculture in primary schools should be definitely abandoned ; that it was useless to repeat the arguments which had been used against the system, but that there was a decided advantage in making a definite declaration that the attempt was impracticable. I do not wish, however, that the Hon'ble Mover should infer from this that Government are in any want of sympathy with the interest that he has at heart. The obvious difficulty lies in the provision of suitable teachers. One of the most competent men in India to express an opinion on that point has stated that it is absurd to expect a boy to acquire any scientific knowledge worthy of the name in two years' time; and unless, he said, the teachers were fully trained any method of instruction was absolutely useless. The Hon'ble Member himself knows what class of primary teachers we have at present in our primary schools.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming; Babu Kishori Mohun Chaudhuri.

I now turn to the last sub-head of the Hon'ble Member's resolution that a Committee be formed of officials and non-officials to frame rules for agricultural education in all its branches. Undoubtedly, the subject is one which will always repay further investigation and further discussion; but at the present moment, we have to look back upon what has been said by the All-India Conferences which were convened for the very same object, namely, to lay down principles for agricultural education. One of these Conferences was held at Pusa in February 1916, the second was held at Simla in June 1917, and the third has just been held under the auspices of the Board of Agriculture at Poona, the record of the proceedings of which has not yet been forwarded to this Government. One of the points on which we hope to get further instruction from the proceedings of the Poona Conference is the question of the framing of a syllabus for agricultural middle schools, and until we receive that, we are not in a position to proceed any further in this matter. The question which the Government of Bombay have raised is that instruction should be given to the sons of agriculturists who after a period at the school should go back to their land. It has been suggested that similar schools should be established in Bengal, but so far there has been no local demand for any school of this description. On the other hand, the question of the provision of a short course of training in scientific agriculture for the sons of landlords, not of agriculturists, was raised in 1916. The proposal received a lukewarm support from the Landholders' Associations who were consulted, and, as the Eastern Bengal Landholders' Association were not prepared to guarantee even the small number of ten students to attend classes at Dacca for three months, the proposal was dropped. I need hardly repeat that Government have every sympathy with the motives which inspired the Hon'ble Member to bring forward his resolution; but I am not prepared to accept it as a whole. The acceptance of the first part has already been mentioned; the second portion is contrary to the universal opinion of experts, both agricultural and educational; and as regards the third part, I would ask the Hon'ble Member to be good enough to accept the assurance of the Government that the consideration of the question is in hand. But before I resume my seat, I would repeat to the Council, as regards the whole question of agricultural education with reference to the actual agriculturists, the wise words of the present Agricultural Adviser to the Government of India. He submitted an excellent memorandum to the Conference that was held on the subject of Agricultural Education at Simla in 1917, and therein he made the following remarks :—

'For the great illiterate mass of the population, it will probably be necessary for many years to come to rely on demonstration. As education and co-operation spread there will be a higher standard of instruction on which it will be possible to super-impose the various forms of agricultural education which have been introduced in other countries. But it is doubtful whether India should disregard the general experience of these countries and attempt to give an agricultural education otherwise than on the basis of a sound general education. For the present, perhaps, the wisest policy seems to be, by improved agriculture and co-operation, to raise the general standard of education. When that object has been achieved, it will be easy to add anything that may be required in the way of specialized training.' "

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHUN CHAUDHURI said :—

" Sir, I am grateful to Government for the acceptance of the principle set forth in the first part of my resolution. As regards the second part, that is to say whether in primary schools agriculture should be taught or not I am aware that there is good deal of difference of opinion on the point ; but I think that, as I have already said. we ought to create interest in the minds of the general public in agriculture—by general public I mean the agricultural class. Bengal consists mainly of agricultural population. Every gentleman in Bengal, at least in Northern and Eastern parts of Bengal, has got some land, and if a small farm, or even 100 bighas of land, could be properly managed and the suitability of the soil, manure, selection of seeds, drought-resisting methods and all such things can be taught properly, not only the wealthy agriculturists but also the middle class gentry would be much benefited. If any such thing is to be done it should be done from the primary pathsalas. The question may, however, be investigated.

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohun Chaudhuri.

My third suggestion is that a committee of official and non-official members with experts may be formed and a further investigation may be made as to how to make this branch of study interesting to the rising generation, and whether any good result can be achieved by imparting education in elementary schools. If this is not done, then how is it proposed to instruct the sons of agriculturists in the improved method of agriculture ? In Rajshahi, Murshidabad and Malda there is an arrangement of teaching sericulture through the help of overseers who have recently been appointed by the Agricultural Department but practically they have not been able to do much. My idea is that if anything is to be done some interest should be created at first and then, in the second place, it should be proved to the agriculturists and persons interested in agriculture that it can be made paying and this should be demonstrated. There are some experimental farms in Bengal. We have one in Rajshahi and I have some experience of the methods of work there. In these farms experiments are carried on, but the result is not communicated to the agricultural class and the method followed is also very costly. So when I suggested the formation of a committee my idea was that although there was some difference of opinion on the question it may be fully investigated and carefully inquired into whether or not good results can be expected by introducing agricultural primers in primary schools. Of course so far as secondary education is concerned the study of agriculture may be optional. There is some difficulty in obtaining teachers. My idea is that small farms on demonstration lines should be opened where boys having some theoretical knowledge in primary schools may go and see for themselves how it can be made paying, and if they realise that by following the improved method they can gain more a large number of people will be benefited. It is in that view that I suggested that an investigation be made by a committee composed of officials, non-officials and experts. Of course the question was dealt with in small conferences but I am not sure whether experts well acquainted with the method of agriculture or the system in which it is carried on were represented in these conferences. It is therefore that I suggest that Government should be kind enough to make further investigation with the help of a special committee consisting of non-official members also.

As regards the second branch of my resolution I am not very particular if there is an opinion of competent authorities that agriculture should not be taught in primary schools ; but, as I have submitted, I do not know how, if it is not done through the school, the instruction can possibly be given or made interesting. It would be very well no doubt for the landholding class to come forward to learn agriculture, arboriculture and horticulture and such other things. It is very profitable. and if they can be properly taught, it will not only be interesting, but will also prove to be a means of livelihood to a great number of people. If I get an assurance from Government to this effect, I will be fully satisfied. The question has been taken up by the University and this is the time when something should be done by Government. Whatever is done by the University can be supplemented by imparting agricultural education in schools and in that way the University scheme may be made fairly successful

This aspect of the question should also be considered. I hope Government will see their way to accept the suggestion that as soon as possible a committee may be formed and in co-operation with the University a regular scheme be framed for investigating this question."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member withdraw the second and third parts of his resolution ?"

Hon'ble Babu KISHORI MOHUN CHAUDHURI said :—

"As for the second part I shall withdraw it if I get an assurance from Government."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member had the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming's assurance on that point."

Clause (i) of the resolution was then put and agreed to and the Hon'ble Member then, by leave of the President, withdrew the second and third clauses of the resolution.

The following resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu KISHORI MOHUN CHAUDHURI :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to place the services of Mr. S. Milligan, Officiating Director of Agriculture, Bengal, permanently at the disposal of the Government of Bengal and that he be confirmed in that appointment.

He said :—

"Sir, as regards this resolution, I see there is a good deal of difference of opinion and in view of that I pray that I may be permitted to withdraw it." The resolution was then by leave of the President withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Government of Bengal do move the Government of India—

(1) to take steps for the encouragement of the manufacture of salt in Bengal ; and

(2) to allow the salt manufactured by people for their own consumption to be free from duty.

He said :—

"The question of the manufacture of salt has come prominently before the public on account of the great increase of price of this essential article of diet and in consequence to the large number of looting of hats and bazars which have taken place in some of the districts of this Presidency within the last two months and are taking place even now It appears that from the 27th November 1917 to 8th January 1918 reports have reached of 49 hat-looting cases. How is it that the people of this Presidency who are naturally of a peace-loving and law-abiding nature have taken to plundering ? These acts show that the masses of the people, who are generally very poor, have been greatly affected by the high price of salt now prevailing in the market and are unable to buy salt at the increased price. They have taken recourse to what I may call abnormal acts to meet with an abnormal state of things. In opening the trial of a batch of prisoners before the Special Tribunal at Rungpur, the Public Prosecutor said the other day, 'the loot was of cloth and salt only, and was due to the high prices of these things.' We find in the report on the Administration of the Salt Department in Bengal during the year 1916-17 that increase in the number of offences against salt laws was due to the high price of salt. In the Administration Report for 1915-16 we find that 'the high prices of salt have led to a recrudescence of offences against the salt laws in the Presidency.' We do not certainly minimise the offences of those who have taken part in this unlawful method of acquiring the article but we pity them. I have collected certain figures to show the price of salt from the year 1906 up to the present time. From the year 1906 to 1913 the price varied from Re. 1-7-6 to Re. 1-12 per maund. In 1914 before the war it was Re. 1-7-6, in 1915 Rs. 2-6, in 1916 Rs. 2-15, in the beginning of 1917 Rs. 2-15, in April Rs. 3, in September 1917 it was Rs. 3-11, in October it was Rs. 4-6, in the beginning of December 1917 it was Rs. 6-4, on the 16th December 1917 it was Rs. 4-15 and on the 13th January it was Rs. 4 per maund. It will thus be seen that the price of salt rose to more than four times its price and is even now sold for nearly three times the price in normal times.

That the war is responsible to a great extent for the rise in the price of salt no one can gainsay. Profiteers are also taking advantage of the present situation. But they have done so and have succeeded in doing so because they know that people are powerless, they cannot manufacture their salt and have to depend perforce upon the imported article. The result has been that the people have taken recourse to unlawful acts. They see that having salt in their own country which they could manufacture and use they cannot utilise the same on account of Governmental restrictions. They have to depend upon Cheshire, Liverpool and Germany, places 10,000 miles distant, for an article of indispensible diet whereas they know that the article is to be found at their very door. They know that for generations salt used to be manufactured in the country and that they have been unjustly deprived of that to which they believe they have a just right. It is not for a luxury they are craving for, but, as I have said, an indispensible food. No wonder there is discontent among the masses and discontent has most unfortunately manifested itself in these illegal acts.

At the present time Bengal obtains its entire salt by importation. The East India Company under Clive and Hastings introduced a system which was gradually matured and which survived till 1862. It provided for the control of the manufacture and sale of salt at the agency to the Company's servants. The people of Bengal always manufactured their own salt. In the Sunderbans, in Contai, in the Diamond Harbour Subdivision of the District of 24-Parganas, in Noakhali and Chittagong and also in Bakerganj, salt used to be manufactured in large quantities, at least, the people had not to depend upon imported salt for their daily consumption. Let me quote a few passages from a Government publication, 'The District Gazetteer of Bengal' (the volume about Midnapore), edited by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley in support of my statement, if any support were needed: 'The manufacture of salt was until nearly half a century ago a Government monopoly. Both under Muhammadan and English rule large areas in Hijili were kept under direct management by Government so as to afford fuel and facilities for the manufacture of salt. The Jalpai or salt lands which being exposed to the overflowing of tides were strongly impregnated with saline particles, and were subdivided into khalaris or working places. Mr. Grant's report on the revenue of Bengal, dated April 1786, states that each khalari on an average yielded 233 maunds of salt, requiring the labour of seven malangis or salt manufacturers, who by an easy process of filtration and by boiling the brine with firewood collected from the neighbouring jungle completed their operations between November and June before the setting in of the rains. The savings from these six months' wages enabled the salt workers to retire to their homes for the remainder of the season to cultivate their arable (madhuri) lands, which they held either rent-free, or under favourable terms, under the denomination of Chakran or service lands..... The nominal cost price of the salt was Rs. 60 for every hundred maunds. Mr. J. Grant, in his report of 1786 estimated the quantity of salt annually manufactured in Hijili at 850,000 maunds.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

In the year 1781 the East India Company established a salt department, and deprived the zemindars of the right to manufacture salt on their estates..... This monopoly continued in the hands of Government till about 1861, when the State relinquished the manufacture, leaving it to private parties, subject to the payment of a salt duty.'

The manufacture of salt has been discontinued in Bengal since 1898 and is now forbidden. We are now told that the Bengal coast is unsuitable for the local manufacture of salt, by reason of the dampness of the climate and the large amount of fresh water discharged into the Bay of Bengal by the Ganges and the Brahmaputra. Much fresh water has no doubt flowed from the hoary-headed Himalayas since the manufacture of salt was stopped but we cannot bring ourselves to believe that the water of the Bay of Bengal has lost its saline character and that it is no use trying to extract the salt from it. In the memorandum, dated the 5th April 1917, submitted by this Government on the production of salt in Bengal in answer to a question in the Imperial Council we find the following :—' The question of the revival of the manufacture of salt from time to time has been brought to the attention of this Government. It was last considered in the year 1908, when the Lieutenant-Governor of that time came to the conclusion that it would be useless to attempt to revive the industry that had at one time existed in the Province.' We find in that memorandum that the re-establishment of the industry on a permanent basis in Bengal could not be looked on as full of promise and that this Government saw no necessity for re-establishing the salt industry in Bengal in order to provide for the requirements of India. Circumstances have changed since the memorandum was submitted by this Government to the Government of India in April 1917. We do not want this Government to revive the industry in order to provide for the requirements of India. We require salt for the people of this province and this province only. In answer to a question at the last Council meeting we were told that the possibilities of the manufacture of salt on the Chittagong side of the Bay of Bengal had been brought to the notice of Government. Suitable brine was said to be obtainable at Cox's Bazar and to the south but difficulty existed in the task of easy communications to that area, while labour might not be readily available. We were also told that Government had ascertained that there was no immediate fear of any shortage of imported salt. The Government know full well whether there is shortage of salt in the Province or not, but we think that the situation is serious and that Government ought to grapple the question in a way the gravity of the situation demands. It is necessary that immediate steps should be taken to remedy the existing state of things from whatever cause or causes it might have arisen.

About a year ago, when there was a strike among the butchers of the Calcutta Municipal Market and there was apprehension of shortage of meat in the town for the European residents, what did the Corporation of Calcutta do? The energetic Deputy Chairman of the Corporation went to Dinapore and brought meat from that place by special train regardless of expenditure and probably without waiting for the sanction of the Commissioners of the Corporation, so that the European residents may not go without meat for however short a time. Why have the Government of India taken so much interest in regulating the rent of houses in Simla and have gone to the length of passing the Simla House Act? In the interests of how many people one is tempted to ask? The rise in the price of salt has affected a very large number of people and they are in distress. That is more the reason why Government should take immediate steps to relieve them. It is also said that the salt manufactured in the country would not be able to compete with the imported article. That may not be the case if salt is manufactured by Government agency, but it would be otherwise if the people were allowed to manufacture their own salt. Let me quote a passage from the Fourth Report of the House of Commons, 1853, in support of my contention : 'The present price of the Government manufactured salt in Bengal is very much raised to the consumer in the market by the necessary want of economy, not to say extravagances, connected with the Government system of manufacture and by those many peculations and extortions and corruptions which are inevitable in such a system, and carried on with such instruments. It has seemed almost certain under those circumstances to persons informed upon the subject, that if the Government were to withdraw, and if there were no duty imposed and the whole were left perfectly free, the native manufacturers in Bengal would forthwith completely and entirely undersell the imported salt, and there would not be a grain of salt imported into Bengal.' Mr. Frederick Halliday (afterwards Sir Frederick Halliday) who was Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department in the early fifties of the last century and who was shortly afterwards appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal gave it as his opinion that if Government monopoly was withdrawn and the people of India were allowed to manufacture their own salt, imported salt would have no chance in India.

The Government need not consider the question whether the manufacture of salt will be profitable to the people or not, all we ask for is that if the people want to manufacture it, all restrictions for doing so ought to be removed.

The decline in the manufacture of the salt in Bengal formed the subject of a memorial to Government by the British Indian Association so far back as the year 1882. The memorialists said : 'The manufacture of indigenous salt is practically dying out in Bengal simply because the home grown salt in consequence of the heavy charges thrown upon it by Government, cannot compete with imported salt. In the case of home made salt the cost of excise establishment, preventive establishment and warehouse establishment amounts to about Rs. 25 per hundred maunds, charges from which foreign salt is free. If this burden on excise salt is remitted, the Committee feel persuaded that it will have a fair chance in the market and the competition thus fostered will eventually lower the price of foreign salt.

The next serious drawback against the indigenous manufacture of salt in Bengal is the fixed warehouse establishment of Rs. 51 per maund. In Bengal, there is home manufacture of salt in the district of 24-Parganas and as the outturn here is small and the sales slow, this item of charge necessarily bears hard upon the manufacturers.'

I have been informed by a respectable gentleman of Chittagong that the people of that place could very well manufacture and sell salt at two or three pice per seer, and that if the present restraint were discontinued they could compete with the imported article. He informed me that Chittagong, Noakhali and Sonedwip are places which are pre-eminently fitted for the manufacture of salt. About three weeks ago we read in the papers that the people of Noakhali had petitioned to the Magistrate of the district to allow them to manufacture salt and that the Magistrate had forwarded their petition to the Government. We know that Government are fully alive to the gravity of the situation, but so far we do not know what steps the Government have taken to reduce the hardships of the poor people.

It is well known how bounty fed sugar of Germany competed with the sugar manufactured in this country, we know how even now Japan has been subsidising her manufacturers by bounties so that they may compete with those of foreign countries. We do not in the case of salt ask for any bounty from Government. All we say is that the Government may be pleased to remove all restrictions to its manufacture including where possible the duty on salt. Of late we have heard much about the development of industries of the country and the members of the Industrial Commission are making tour all round the country. We would respectfully ask Government to let a beginning be made to revive an industry which has been put a stop to by their orders, an industry the necessity of which is admitted on all hands. Let Government remove all restrictions to the manufacture of salt in Bengal so that it might be one of the cheapest articles for the people to obtain.

I would now say a few words with reference to the second part of my resolution, viz., that about making salt free from duty to consumers of salt. It is necessary to impress upon the Government the necessity of making the salt duty free especially at the present time. This Government will no doubt have to recommend to the Government of India to make the salt manufactured for the people of this country for their own consumption duty free. I do not want remission for the entire population of Bengal. That would be considered as a large order though that would be a step in the right direction. From the days of Adam Smith downwards political economists have condemned all taxation upon articles of necessary consumption. Professor Fawcett said that salt should be as free as the air we breathe and the water we drink. I need hardly say that salt to the generality of the people of Bengal, who are mostly agriculturists, is more than what potato is to an Irishman, or meat and tea combined to an Englishman or a Scotchman. In several cases rice and a little salt form the only meal of an agriculturist. Government probably have not failed to observe that the reduction of salt duty has invariably resulted in the larger consumption of salt. It is not only a necessary article of human diet but people put down the deterioration in our cattle at the present time because salt is not given to them.

The duty on salt was reduced from Rs. 2 per maund in 1903 to Re. 1-8 in 1905 and Re. 1 in 1907. It was, however, enhanced to Re. 1-4 per maund in 1917. It is admitted by every one that the duty on salt is largely paid by the poorer classes—it falls upon the poorer consumers. To satisfy some faddists (Messrs. Pease & Co.), crores and crores of Indian revenue have been sacrificed in the shape of opium revenue. Why should not Government take a bold step and in the interest of the teeming millions, in the interest of humanity abolish the duty on salt altogether? My present resolution is only to allow salt which is manufactured by the people for their own use to be free from duty. It may be that there will be not only illicit manufacture but illicit sale of salt by people, and in consequence there would be some loss of revenue to Government. What if it were so? Government must be prepared to make a little sacrifice of revenue. It is the poor people who will mostly be benefited. Government must be prepared to incur some losses at the present juncture. The salt duty question in India has been justly characterised by the late Mr. Gokhale as the poor man's question, for it is the poorer many and not the richer few who eat more salt when it is cheap and less when it is dear. It may be that Government have been taking some steps to remedy the grievances of the poor people, but it is necessary that wide publicity should be given to all that the Government has done up to this time and if it is the intention of Government to do more it must be done quickly. Prompt action on the part of the Government will go a great way to bring about the normal state of things in the country.

In my opinion this important question which has given rise to the looting in the hats can at once be solved and all looting stopped as soon as it is notified to the people that for purposes of domestic consumption only they can manufacture their own salt and this, in my opinion, should be done without delay."

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR moved by way of amendment that the resolution of the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray do take the following form—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Government of Bengal do move the Government of India to

Resolutions.

Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur.

allow free manufacture of salt in Bengal during the period of the war and for two years following the close of hostilities."

He said :—

"Sir, speaking for myself I am very thankful to the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray for the facts and figures which he has been able to put before the Council this afternoon. The amendment which I propose to his resolution is not simply of form, though it no doubt follows his line but it goes further. My Hon'ble friend would limit the use of the manufacture of salt but would not limit the time for which the salt would be duty-free. He does not say how long the salt manufactured by the people would remain free from duty but he says that this salt will have to be used by the manufacturers and the manufacturers alone and is not to be given away to other people by way of sale or gift. As the Council knows salt can only be manufactured in the sea-boards. You cannot manufacture it in the district of Rangpur or Bogra of which we hear so much in connection with the looting of shops and hats. However, the result of the acceptance by the Government of India on the recommendation of this Government of my friend's proposal would be that the raiyats of the Sunderbans or those residing in that part of the country and people residing in the sea-boards of Chittagong and Noakhali and Midnapore would alone have the benefit of the proclamation if the Government are pleased to notify that they would be able to manufacture salt for their own use and free of duty. That will not touch the root of the discontent. We have not heard much of the looting of salt in the Sundarbans. I do not think that if my friend's proposal or that of mine is accepted it will touch the interest of the British trade. The reason why this question has come before the Council is that there has been acts of lawlessness all over the province by poor people who suffer from the want of salt but are too poor to buy or pay the present price of salt. I do not mean to say that if you make the manufacture of salt duty-free without any condition as to whether they use it for their own consumption or they sell it to others all the population of Bengal will be benefited by it and that they will not have anything to do with the imported article. That certainly will not be the result if you make the manufacture of salt duty-free without imposing any condition that the manufactured salt is to be consumed by the producer. My proposal runs thus : That we may be allowed free manufacture of salt in Bengal during the period of the war and for two years following the close of hostilities. As I have said salt can only be manufactured in the sea-boards of Bengal so far as this province is concerned and that salt, judging from past experience, is dirty and unrefined and is not so good as the salt we get from Europe and Africa and not even so good as the rocksalt of the Punjab. But the fact of the Government passing an Ordinance to the effect that the salt produced by manufacturers in Bengal will be duty-free will be hailed with delight by the people of this province. It will not only have a moral effect but an economic effect also, for the price of the imported salt will be lowered, and from both the moral and the economical points of view it will have a gratifying effect. At the present moment, as I understand, the duty is Rs. 125 for 100 maunds, and the agents of the people who send out salt to this country are charging Rs. 240 per 100 maunds. Add to that the duty of Rs. 125, the price which is to be paid in Calcutta is Rs. 365, and the retail trader who buys a 100 maunds for that sum in Calcutta for taking the same to the mufassal has to incur certain charges for carrying it. So he cannot sell it in the mufassal at anything less than Rs. 400, and that accounts for the high price which the poor man in the mufassal has to pay for this article. If the poor man is told you are free to manufacture salt, you will not have to pay any duty though it may be that every poor man will not be able to avail himself of such a gracious proclamation, yet it will drive away from his mind the feeling which he nourishes against Government for not being able to manufacture salt at home and in having to pay an exorbitant price for salt imported from other countries. If you issue a proclamation of this kind the poor man will certainly be more attached to the Government than what he is now I put it in this way and I am not going to say that you deprive yourself of the revenue which you derive from salt duty. As I gather you get more than a crore of rupees by imposing salt duty in Bengal and if you allow people in the sea-boards to manufacture salt you will probably lose a few lakhs of rupees and the amount of your revenue will be little less. You will still be getting salt from other countries and you will probably be receiving almost the same revenue as the quantity of imported salt will not be reduced to a very large extent. As I have said the country-made salt being unrefined and dirty, the genteel folk will not go in for it, and it is only the poor man who would buy such salt. Therefore I think it is sound policy if you make it duty free. I am aware of what other people have said that salt ought to be as free as air and one would be glad to see that it is so. But all that I say now is make it duty free during the period of the war and also for two years following the close of hostilities as the country is not likely to resume its normal stage as soon as the war is finished. After normal conditions of tonnage are restored you will have salt as now from other countries. Salt comes, I believe, free of charge as ballast, so that not only the exporter but the importer too can afford to sell it at a considerably less price than he could have if he had to pay freight charges. I am not an idealist and I do not say you should suffer a loss and take off the salt duty for all time. I am quite sure that in course of time if you give facilities, say within a quarter of century, this country will be able to produce salt as good as we get from Cheshire but that requires time. You cannot have it done within three or four years. I submit my proposal is a modest one and hope the Council will accept it."

Resolutions.

Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur; Maulvi Abul Kasem.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"Sir, I beg to support the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray, and in doing so I do not think that much argument is needed to convince this Council or the Government of the necessity of taking some steps to meet the present difficulties.

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur has said that this question has been brought in this Council because of the hat looting cases in Eastern Bengal. I think, however, that the feeling was very keen for some time past long before the hat looting cases took place, owing to the fact that the price of salt had gone so high that a large number of my countrymen in this Presidency were deprived of that very necessary article of food. Certainly, the hat looting cases have accentuated this feeling and I trust that Government will see their way to accept the resolution as it stands, or the first part of it and for the second part the amendment may be accepted. So far as I am concerned, I would prefer that arrangement. In any case, salt should be very cheap to a large number of people in this country, and whether in doing so, the State loses some portion of the revenue or not, is a question which cannot be considered at the present moment. It has been said that all on a sudden peace-loving people have turned into rioters and have committed loots in open markets; and this fact is a sufficient ground for taking some steps. In these days the poor cultivators of jute find that their commodities are not saleable in the market; on the other hand, the articles they want, cloth and salt, are sold at a very high price. Those who have been to some of these places where hats have been looted, have told us that those cultivators who had brought back their bags of rice and their packages of jute threw them into the market and looted salt and cloth shops. Therefore, it is apparent that the situation is very grave and the Government, I hope, will take necessary steps to alleviate the misery and suffering of the poor and will be pleased to accept this resolution."

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"The history of salt industry in Bengal is the old but melancholy story of an important industry which we had but which has been extinguished. The abnormal rise in the price of salt and the manifold evils which have come in its train can however be no longer treated with indifference. The question has been raised whether an attempt should be made to revive the manufacture of salt in Bengal. The proposal—or rather the suggestion—emanated from the Government of India. What however is the attitude of the Government of Bengal? It is a matter of profound regret and disappointment that they have declared themselves opposed to it. They are not for reviving the industry. I propose to examine their grounds of objection here.

Now the most important objection is that salt could not be manufactured in Bengal except at a price which could be far higher than that at which it is imported or is manufactured elsewhere in India. This leads us to the question what would be the average price of salt if it were manufactured under existing circumstances? When the Government of Bengal expressed its considered opinion in reply to a suggestion of the Government of India, we had a right to expect that the opinion was based upon facts and figures ascertained upon due inquiry. But we have been seriously told in this Council chamber the other day that no calculations have been made by the Government as to the cost of manufacture and that even approximate figures could not be given. How could it possibly be said that the price would be far higher without knowing or ascertaining what that price would be? Was conclusion on a momentous question like this arrived at in such an irresponsible manner? Was it not their duty—duty to themselves, duty to the Government of India and duty to the people of the province—before submitting their report to calculate and ascertain as accurately as possible the cost of manufacture? How could they rush headlong into a conclusion without doing so much as to calculate the cost of manufacture? Are we to take it that the memorandum of the 5th April 1917 was based upon the intuitive knowledge of the official or officials who had the privilege of preparing it? The cost of manufacture here may be comparatively higher but do not the import duty and the cost of transit over thousands of miles from Liverpool and other places outweigh the higher cost of local manufacture?

Another ground of objection is that brine of good quality is not available. This position was challenged in an interpellation in which the Government was asked to state whether any inquiry was made as to the suitability of brine of Bengal. We were told in reply in the last meeting of the Council, 'suitable brine is said to be obtainable at Cox's Bazar and to the south.' So here is another point in which a sweeping observation was made without any reference to the actual state of things. Another difficulty suggested is that labour may not be readily available. This difficulty is as imaginary as the others already considered. India may be deficient in capital but it is preposterous to say that there is paucity of labour here.

All this naturally gave rise to a suspicion that the memorandum of the 5th April 1917 was submitted without any inquiry at all. But we did not like to condemn the Government unheard and on mere suspicion like the hundreds of youngmen whose liberty has been taken away under the Defence of India Act. And accordingly my Hon'ble friend Babu Brojendra Kishore Ray Chaudhuri gave the Government an opportunity to state whether any special inquiry had been made before the said memorandum was prepared. The reply only justified our suspicion, for we have been told that no special inquiry was necessary. So the memorandum was prepared without any inquiry. This explains the most unsatisfactory character of the facts stated and the conclusions deduced in the said memorandum. The situation has in all conscience been very grave. The feeling in the country is that revival of the salt industry in Bengal will tend to reduce the price of salt. Was it not, therefore, only fair and proper, sir, to institute a careful inquiry before summarily rejecting the proposal? Not only was there no inquiry made before the preparation of the memorandum, but our earnest prayers made since then for a proper inquiry have been treated with supreme contempt. On the 18th December last the prayer was formulated in the shape of an interpellation which ran as follows: 'Are the Government considering the desirability of directing an inquiry into how far the manufacture of salt in Bengal may tend to reduce the prices in the local salt markets?' The answer was in the negative. Verily, my Lord, the people have right to cry, 'Strike but hear.' An attitude of such absolute defiance to the wishes and feelings and vital interests of the people can be taken up by the Government only in a country where it is not responsible to the people. The attitude would have been absolutely different if our ministers had to depend upon popular votes for continuance in power. Our suggestions in the Council are received with such scant courtesy that when my friend Babu Brojendra Kishore Ray Chaudhuri asked in the last meeting of the Council, whether the Government were considering the desirability of making an inquiry as to the particular facilities for the manufacture of salt on the Chittagong side, no reply was vouchsafed to the question. The Hon'ble Mr. Donald did not condescend to give any answer to that question at all. Such is our vaunted right of interpellation. This is not an isolated instance. This is the ordinary fate of our interpellations. Sometimes they are rejected on grounds very difficult to appreciate, sometimes they are not answered even if admitted, and if they are answered, the answers typically illustrate the magnificent power of words in concealing thoughts.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

All the objections urged in the said memorandum apply admittedly to a scheme for manufacture on a large scale. The question of manufacture on a small scale for home consumption or for satisfying the local needs has not been at all considered. Even the memorandum does not go so far as to state, or to suggest that manufacture on a small scale is hampered by paucity of brine and fuel. Not to speak of the pre-British days, even in the early sixties of the last century a large quantity of salt used to be manufactured in the seaboard areas in Sitakundu, Kumuria, Kattoly, Alishahar, Bandar, Mathubari, Chakaria, Cox Bazar, in the islands of Kutubdia and Maheskhali in Chittagong district also in Hatia, Sandwip and other neighbouring places.

The descendants of the manufacturers of salt, who are still known as Moulangis, on the Chittagong side, have not yet forgotten the old indigenous methods of making salt. Though the Government do not allow manufacture in the lawful way, the contraband salt is still being manufactured on a scale which cannot be considered negligible. The following are the indigenous methods used in making salt in Chittagong :—

1. The scraping of the earth of the sea-beach, mixing it with water, filtering the solution and then boiling. This process yields, I am told, in the month of March and April half a seer of salt from one seer of earth.

2. The Nuna plants growing wild near about the seashore are kept immersed for a number of days in sea water and then taken out, dried in the sun and then burnt. The ashes are mixed with water and then by percolation and boiling the salt is obtained. In this case, the yield is, I am told, about half the quantity of the ashes.

3. The boiling of the seawater. But this process is less profitable than the above mentioned two.

It is not disputed that the manufacture of salt in Bengal was profitable before. Now the question is why it has now become unprofitable? Has not the operation of the Salt Acts of 1864 and 1882 contributed to this increased cost of manufacture? At all events, is not the fiscal system introduced by the said Acts one of the chief contributory causes? Salt is a primary necessary of life and should be as free as the air we breathe and the water we drink. But the Government wanted to raise a large revenue on salt and inaugurated a system of excise which sounded the death-knell of the industry in Bengal. Why was duty imposed indiscriminately on salt both imported from abroad and manufactured at home? Why no discrimination was made between salt manufactured on a large scale for commercial purposes and salt prepared by poor people for their home consumption? To raise the cost of manufacture by a system of excise and then to condemn it as expensive is to give the dog a bad name only to hang it. Abolish the duty and the people will certainly find it profitable to prepare salt for their home consumption. This is not a matter for speculation. Have we not had as many as 451 cases of offences committed against the Salt Act of 1882 in 1916-17? Have we not had in 1916-17 as many as 328 cases in which persons preparing salt were hauled up in the criminal Courts? Have we not had conviction in as many as 284 cases in one single year? Have not our people contributed in 1916-17 Rs. 1,656-4 to the public exchequer in the shape of fines for preparation of salt? Are not offences against the salt laws steadily on the increase? There is certainly a grim humour in the observation which we find in the Administration Report of 1916-17 that the number of cases detected in the 24-Parganas would probably have been much larger had not the preventive work been seriously hampered by the absence of the departmental launches and boats during the earlier part of the year. What is the moral loudly proclaimed by the record of prosecutions for manufacturing salt against the provisions of the salt laws? Need I point out that the people do find it cheaper to manufacture salt for their own consumption than to purchase it in the bazar. The very fact that such a large number of people who are otherwise law-abiding and docile do prepare salt even at the risk of criminal prosecution, goes conclusively to show that they do so because they find it cheaper. Instead of helping and encouraging them the Government have got a large establishment maintained at the rate-payers' cost only to persecute and to prosecute them. Now imagine the position of a poor man in Cox's Bazar. He is too poor to purchase salt at the bazar, but vast repositories of salt lie before him and behind him and beside him. But such is the Tariff wall built up by the Government between him and those repositories that he cannot get at them lawfully. But necessity knows no law and if under the pressure of necessity the poor man stretches his hand to seize the salt, the salt daroga at once stands up like the frankenskin of old and manages to lodge him into a place where he has neither to purchase nor manufacture salt for his own consumption, but where he has salt provided for him at the cost of the Government. Like the ancient mariner of Coleridge, he has salt water, salt water everywhere but not a drop for making salt.

Let us however consider another aspect of the matter. The salt water and the salt earth are lying there in vast quantity unused and unutilised without serving any purpose whatsoever. The poor people can draw any quantity of sea water and scrape out any amount of earth from the sea-beach as they like and commit any kind of waste with impunity. But as soon as an attempt is made to turn them to their use, down comes the Damocles sword over their head. It is said that manufacture is prohibited because in some cases the people manage to escape the duty. The position is, therefore, this, as the salt water and salt earth do not yield a full revenue to the Government, why let them remain absolutely unused? In other words, why should it be of any use to the people if it is of no use to the Government? The Government might of course think like this. So far as we are concerned they are not, as a matter of fact, yielding any revenue; why then deprive the people of the Nature's bounty? But that is a line of argument which never commends itself to the Government.

The salt problem is not merely an economic one. It has another very important aspect. The history of salt duty in this country has shown beyond doubt that the consumption varies inversely with the rise of price. The consumption is not even 10 lbs. per head, whereas according to medical opinion 20 lbs. per head is the minimum necessary for healthful existence. So the result of rise in price will inevitably be disastrous to the health of the people. I do not know whether the prospect of the health of millions of our people being undermined in this way at all appeals to the Government. I do not know whether the overwhelming importance of this aspect of the question has ever received that anxious consideration which the rulers of the country are in all conscience bound to bestow on it.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

But the problem is not merely economical and hygeological, but has of late become political to boot. The abnormal rise in price has driven the people to desperation and the result is the looting of hâts. The rioters are of course the worst enemies of the society and the State and they must be hunted down. But is that all that we have got to do? Is the prosecution of the looters all that the situation demands? Appetite for food is the most primary and imperative of all our impulses and no sane man should expect that hunger-striken people starving with their children will contemplate over the vices of theft and will refrain from touching food which they find in abundance in a neighbour's house. The same thing is more or less true with respect to salt. I am not here to justify or extenuate the looting of hâts. But this I do say that the responsibility is not all theirs. It has to be apportioned between the looters and those who have created the situation for them. Who, after all, are ultimately responsible for this state of things? I do not know what the orthodox official view is, but this I know that while the rising price of salt is pressing heavily on our people, the Government revenue on salt is steadily on the increase. In 1916-17 the net revenue was Rs. 30,70,723, which was greater than that of the previous year by Rs. 10,20,738, i.e., 8·4 per cent.

So the adversity of the people is quite synchronous with the prosperity of the Government. Such is the irony of fate that the sufferings of the people go on simultaneously with surpluses in the public exchequer. What wonder then that with this growing revenue the Government should maintain a department for the detection of offences against salt law and should be in a position to give fat fees to the advocates prosecuting the hât-looters before the special tribunals.

The Commissioner of Excise and Salt, in submitting his report of the year 1916-17, observes with remarkable accuracy that 'the report deals with the preventive operations in the saliferous districts of the Presidency and with the importation and issue of salt under the control of the Customs authorities.' That is all the vaunted administration of the Salt Department in a Province which was in pre-British days self contained regarding the supply of salt.

In 1888 Lord Cross, the then Secretary of State for India, said : 'The policy enunciated by the Government in 1877 was to give to the people throughout India the means of obtaining unlimited supply of salt at a very cheap rate.'

Two years later, Sir John Gorst, on his speech on the Indian Budget in the House of Commons, remarked : 'The tax on salt was no doubt a tax which ought to be removed and would be removed as soon as it would be financially possible to do so.' Lord Morley's (then Mr. Morley's) pronouncement on salt tax in 1906 encouraged the hope that the time was not distant when the tax might be done away with altogether. After all this declaration, is it too much to expect that the salt manufacture by poor people for home consumption will be made free from duty?

One word to the non-official European benches. The salt duty in India is essentially a poor man's question, for they eat more salt when it is cheap and less when it is dear. It has recently been said with a good deal of insistence and vehemence that the educated classes do not represent the masses of the country and they are the special trust of the Anglo-Indian community"—[Here the bell rang as the Hon'ble Member had exceeded his time limit and the Hon'ble Member resumed his seat.]

The Hon'ble MR. CARTER said :—

"I wish to oppose the resolution which has been brought forward by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, under headings (i) and (ii) and the amendment by the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur.

I would like to say first of all that I have been connected with salt, and my firm has been connected with the salt trade for a great number of years, and therefore I can speak with a certain amount of knowledge and confidence.

Owing to the formation of the littoral of Bengal, consisting as it does of vast mud flats caused by the great flood of fresh water from the Ganges delta, the influence of which is felt many miles at sea, it is well known to the salt trade that it is impossible to manufacture salt on a commercial scale, as is done in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies.

Salt can be manufactured in certain places in limited quantities only, but the process is very laborious owing to the weakness of the brine. Salt manufacture was carried on in Orissa when it was attached to Bengal for a great number of years. I believe that the British Government took over the manufacture of salt in 1804. Previous to that date it was in the hands of Rajas and other zemindars. The last Salt Factories in Orissa were closed in March 1902 as it was found that the climate was not suitable owing to the severe thunderstorms which visited that Province, and also the opening of the East Coast Railway afforded facilities for the import of Ganjam salt into Orissa and allowed of salt being sent down from Calcutta; and although the price of Government salt in Orissa was reduced to ½ anna a maund, there was found to be no sale for it owing to its poorness of quality In the report on the 'Bengal Salt Trade' for 1901-02, it is stated that the further manufacture of salt was considered by Government during the year, and finally held to be impracticable.

I need hardly say that at the present time it seems to me to be folly for Government to waste money in an attempt to revive an industry which could not live against imports from the Red Sea and those parts of the Provinces of India where salt can be manufactured to advantage.

The second resolution put forward by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray is to allow the salt manufactured by people for their own consumption to be free from duty. It is repeatedly put forward that the salt tax bears hardly on the masses; but as the consumption per head is estimated to be 12 lbs. per annum, the duty on which at its present rate of Re. 1¼ per maund amounts to 3 annas per head per annum only, it can hardly be considered excessive, particularly as this is the only tax which millions pay towards the revenue. It would be obviously unfair to allow a favoured few to manufacture salt for their own consumption free of a tax which the other millions of India have to pay.

There has been considerable agitation lately against the high price of salt ruling in Bengal. The price of Red Sea salt at the present moment can be taken roughly at Rs. 239 per 100 maunds plus the tax of Rs. 125 per 100 maunds equals Rs. 364.

For very many years the duty was at the rate of Rs. 250 per 100 maunds and taking the price of salt at that time at an average of Rs. 60, the price works out at Rs. 310 per 100 maunds, or a difference of Rs. 54 per 100 maunds, which means that the consumer now has to pay 1 anna 3 pies per maund per annum more than he did fifteen years ago, and this in spite of the vast increase in the cost of production and freight.

For the above reasons I wish to oppose the resolution."

Resolutions.

Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter.

The Hon'ble MR. PROVASH CHUNDER MITTER said :—

"Sir, the resolution is divisible into two parts and then there is an amendment to it proposed by the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur. I am very strongly in favour of clause (i) of the resolution moved by my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, but I am sorry to oppose the second part of the resolution and the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur.

As regards the consumption of salt in Bengal certain figures may be helpful. The total consumption of salt in Bengal is about 70 lakhs of maunds. and out of this, 24 lakhs are imported from Great Britain—I am speaking from the statistics as published in the latest Government Reports—the remaining 46 lakhs of maunds are imported from Masoa, Spain and Port Said—the last mentioned place being mainly the distributing centre of Red Sea salt. Therefore, so far as any question of conflict of the interests of Great Britain and the interests of India are concerned, that is only with regard to the 24 lakhs of maunds ; there is no such conflict with regard to the 46 lakhs of maunds of salt. Now, as regards the 24 lakhs, we may remember that salt is imported in bulk as ballast in ships and practically free from freight. So long as such conditions prevailed as enabled salt to be imported practically freight-free, there was not perhaps much difficulty ; but under the present state of difficulties of tonnage conditions have changed and perhaps even some time after the hostilities are over, we may not have the same facilities of tonnage as we had in pre-war days. In the meantime. the question has become very acute for the people of the country, as also for the Government and for all classes who are interested in the well-being of the people and the Government.

Now, Sir, it has been said that Bengal is not suitable for the manufacture of salt, and for that reason it has been suggested that it is not right that Government should risk its money for the manufacture of salt. I agree, for the sake of argument, that there may be much in favour of such statements. After all the Government must be guided by the advice of its experts. But, Sir, is that any reason why permission should not be granted to private manufacturers to manufacture salt ? It is their own look-out whether the climate of Bengal is good enough to carry on salt manufactories at a profit, and if that is so, is there any justification for preventing private manufacturers from manufacturing salt ? Well, there is no doubt that the climate of Bengal is damp, and that salt can be better manufactured in a dry climate. There is no doubt also that the sea-board of Bengal is more or less intersected by big rivers. But these difficulties have all along existed, and in spite of them. Bengal used to manufacture her own salt. If that be so, and if the Government does not feel justified in starting salt manufactories of its own, the least the Government could do, in order to remove the impression which exists and which is doing as much mischief to the Government as to the people, is to let the people, who wish to try the experiment, to do so for themselves. If they burn their fingers and find out to their own cost that they cannot manufacture salt in competition with foreign salt, then Government will have everything to gain and nothing to lose by according such permission. It is no good preaching about the difficulties of salt manufacture. The best thing is to let the people try and learn for themselves—for there is no school like the school of experience. Therefore, with regard to clause (i) of my Hon'ble friend's resolution, my suggestions are that private firms or private individuals be allowed to manufacture salt. Of course, they must pay the necessary duty and perhaps some amount of license fee. So far as I have been able to investigate into this matter, I do think that under present conditions the Government will be able to manufacture salt profitably ; but that is a matter which I would leave to Government and to its expert advisers.

Resolutions.

Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter ; Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

As regards the second portion of the resolution, I am sorry I have to oppose it, and I oppose it on three grounds. First of all, if the people are allowed to manufacture salt for their own consumption it will lead to a good deal of friction between the subordinate officials of the Salt Department and local people and the benefit, perhaps, will be a questionable one. It will be difficult for the superior officers of the Salt Department and the Government to remedy acts of oppression, real or fancied. My second point is this : How will the loss of revenue be compensated for? It is no good saying that Government will bear a loss of revenue ; but there is such a thing as the Budget with which most of my friends are familiar. Even if it means a loss of revenue of two lakhs, how is that loss going to be met? From what other department is the curtailment to be made? Now, the third reason is that it is perfectly well known that the population of the seaboard of Bengal is very small ; out of a total of 45 millions, perhaps at the highest, the population of the seaboard of Bengal is not more than quarter of a million. If you let these people to manufacture salt for their own use, you benefit a few ; but you leave the door open for illicit manufacture. Therefore, both on grounds of loss of revenue and on grounds of differential treatment, I am opposed to the second branch of my friend's resolution.

As regards the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghosh Bahadur, I am sorry that, after giving it my best consideration, I have to oppose it. My first reason is that free manufacture of salt in Bengal will not be of any the slightest benefit to the consumer. Taking the total consumption of salt in Bengal to be 70 lakhs of maunds, if you allow free manufacture from to-morrow not only duty free but with a subsidy of say one pice to the maund, even then, I take it, during the next three or four years they will not be able to manufacture say more than 8 or 10 lakhs of maunds. If that be so, will the manufacturers be selling at a price lower than the market price of salt? Well, my answer is an emphatic 'no'. Who then will benefit by this manufacture? The consumers will not be benefited but the manufacturers will benefit to the detriment of the revenue to the State. The second reason why I oppose that amendment is that although my Hon'ble friend has suggested free manufacture of salt in Bengal, what about the competition with the rest of India? There are no high tariff walls round Bengal. Supposing that 8 or 10 lakhs of maunds of salt are manufactured in Bengal, the market price of salt being subject to the market conditions of the whole of India, the manufacture of salt free of duty will not benefit the consumer because the manufacturer will sell at the prevailing market rate.

The third ground is what I have already dealt with, namely, the question of loss of revenue. That being the position, I submit—and submit with some amount of confidence—that Government will be pleased to consider the matter very carefully and should, at any rate, allow private manufacturers a chance to realise whether the theory of Government experts is correct or not. If that chance is not given in these days when every act of Government is looked upon with suspicion and when there are people who see fit to ascribe all sorts of motives to acts of Government, where no such motives really exist, the Government will be doing a highly impolitic thing. It will enable mischievous people to carry on an agitation by ascribing improper motives to Government."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

" Sir, much of what I wanted to say has already been referred to by the previous speakers and I do not think I need repeat what they have said. I belong to one of the most important districts which is on the sea and I have got a right to say something on the questions that have been raised by the resolution and the proposed amendment. My own idea is that the best thing to do would be to make the salt duty free for all people and for all time. That would be the ideal state of things and I want to go much further than the

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq ; Khan Sahib Aman Ali ; Mr. Donald.

Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray and the mover of the amendment, the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur. The question that has been raised is not due to the consideration of a state of things brought about by the war, but it is a very large economical question which has been engaging the attention of public men in India for several years. I think that in order to arrive at a satisfactory solution, Government must be prepared to make any sacrifice that will be necessary. My Hon'ble friend Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter has referred to the difficulties with which we would be faced were we to ask Government to make a sacrifice in the revenue, and he has put the question to the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray as to what he is going to suggest to Government in order to make up for the loss of revenue which would result in making salt duty free at least for some years. It may be that if that course is adopted there will be a deficit of a few lakhs of rupees, and if any suggestion were needed, I would suggest that the deficit can be made up by reducing the expenditure on one department and abolishing at least two departments. I need not specify what departments I mean. Most of the Hon'ble Members will be able to guess to what departments I am referring. Surely the way in which a question like this is to be met is by considering the comparative importance of either refusing relief to the people not by adopting the course suggested, or by granting the reasonable prayer of the people at the cost of a little sacrifice. If the advantage that is gained counterbalances the small deficit in the revenue, I for one would earnestly request Government to take the course which offers a satisfactory solution of a very knotty problem which has been engaging the attention not of the educated few but in this case at least of the mass of people. It is always said, whenever any of these economical problems are discussed in public platforms, that it is the professional agitator, and he and he alone who makes any complaint. But so far as this matter is concerned, the question affects the people who have taken up not merely arguments but cudgels and lathis in order to make others understand how they feel over this matter. I think, Sir, the situation is serious and I earnestly support the resolution of my Hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray."

The Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI said :—

"Sir, I come from Chittagong and my home is very near the sea which is full of salt water and the people in my part of the country used to manufacture salt before. They know how to manufacture salt and some of them have told me that if they are allowed to manufacture it, they will be able to sell salt at one anna per seer. If an opportunity is given to them, they will be greatly benefited thereby. With these words I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Sir, the Hon'ble Members who have spoken on these resolutions have not, I think, fully appreciated the conditions which led to the high prices that prevailed a short time ago and to the loot of bazars and hâts. Before proceeding to deal with the actual issue raised in the Hon'ble Member's resolution, it will be convenient if I give the Council a brief account of the situation as regards salt, the circumstances which led to the large increase in price a short time ago, and the present position.

I do not know how far Hon'ble Members have studied the quarterly reports published on the state of the salt market which give statistics of imports, clearances and stocks, but a perusal of the last report, issued on the 30th November, 1917. for the quarter ending the 30th September last, would have shown that on the latter date the stocks were considerably lower than they had been at the close of the previous quarter. The fall was temporary, but although there was no fear that ample stocks would be forthcoming, an idea that there might be a shortage seemed to have seized the minds of certain merchants in Calcutta, and the demand was so considerable that prices rose rapidly from the middle of October, culminating in a very high figure on the

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

26th November. It is to this speculation that the high retail prices that prevailed throughout the Province, and led in part to the loots in hâts and bazars, are due. As to stocks there was a feared shortage in Chittagong, but Government took very early measures to meet the situation. Difficulties of tonnage to this port had affected the position and it became necessary to send salt from Calcutta to replenish the stocks there. This probably accounted in part for the anticipations of a shortage in Calcutta. However, the former position has again been restored, the fall that occurred has been made good and the stocks on the 31st December were over the figure of the 30th June. Large shipments are expected in the coming months. An ample supply is already assured to cover the requirements of Bengal and the neighbouring Provinces, which are dependent on Bengal for their supplies. and Government are making further arrangements which will ensure that these supplies are maintained, both at Calcutta and at Chittagong. I have alluded to the rise in price that followed on an anticipation of shortage in November last, and it will interest the Council if I mention what actually happened.

On the 3rd November the price of salt in the import market was Rs. 302. It rose to Rs. 321 by the 8th November, to Rs. 431 on the 19th, Rs. 451 on the 20th, and eventually reached Rs. 501 on the 26th of that month. It went up no further but dropped on the 1st December to Rs. 350. It has since then gradually fallen and at the present time is Rs. 240. I might also mention that while imported salt was sold at Rs. 350 on the 1st December and thereafter no business was done till the 17th December, when small quantities were sold at Rs. 300, yet on the 6th December Madras salt was offered at Rs. 200 and could find no purchasers.

The Hon'ble Member has quoted the wholesale prices per maund of imported salt. But he is not quite accurate in his figures. The highest price was reached in the last week of November, and was as much as Rs. 6-7. On the 1st December it fell to under Rs. 6, and at the present day it is Rs. 3-14. The retail price in Calcutta of imported salt rose to three annas, but is now two annas per seer. In the mofussil it averages a little over this figure. Both these rates—wholesale and retail—followed the sale price in the import market. and it was almost solely due to the speculation in Calcutta that the prices rose in the mufassal and led to the looting of hâts and bazars. Government made enquiries as to how far profiteering was prevalent in the mufassal, and the reports are practically unanimous that the Calcutta wholesale dealer was responsible and that there was no speculation amongst the retailers.

The present price of imported salt is now more in accord with conditions arising out of increased freight charges. As this price is very high for the poorer classes of consumer the remedy of local manufacture is put forward. Reference has been made to the memorandum published in the proceedings of the Imperial Legislative Council as regards the possibilities of local manufacture in Bengal. This memorandum was prepared by this Government with the assistance of officers who had full knowledge of the subject, but as all Hon'ble Members may not have seen it I shall briefly explain the position.

There are three possible methods of salt manufacture :—

First, Panga under which salt is educed by process of boiling from brine which has been obtained by filteration from salt earth.

Secondly, the Karkatch system under which salt is obtained from brine by means of solar evaporation, the brine being sea water or brackish water such as that found in the Chilka Lake.

There is also the Vacuum process, which need not be considered here, as it involves the establishment of a huge plant.

Previous to 1863 the Bengal Government carried on a system of direct manufacture, both by the panga and karkatch methods. But the system had to be abandoned owing to the competition of Liverpool salt which undersold it. In 1865 manufacture was resumed under private enterprise under both methods, the karkatch system being confined to the neighbourhood of the Chilka Lake. In the beginning of the eighties salt from Ganjam came into competition, and soon after this it became apparent that manufacture according to the panga method could not be carried on with due regard to the interest of the revenue. Production by this method is costly, cheap fuel is an essential necessity, and with the clearance of jungles and the cultivation of jungle sites, the facilities for manufacture rapidly disappeared. It soon became evident from the high cost of production that it was not possible to carry on panga manufacture at a legitimate profit without recourse to illicit practices, and it was therefore finally decided in 1887 to prohibit in future manufacture according to this method. Panga manufacture is still more impossible to-day. There are no longer extensive saline deposits as in the olden days to which the Hon'ble Member refers when vast swamps were reserved for the industry by landlords. I shall presently refer to this in connection with certain applications for manufacture that have been received.

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

Manufacture according to the karkatch method was continued at the Chilka Lake, but this had eventually to give way to Ganjam salt. The climatic conditions of Ganjam were far more favourable to salt manufacture and better and cheaper salt could be produced in that area. As the Hon'ble Mr. Carter has already mentioned, the opening of the East Coast Railway brought the two into competition and eventually it was found unprofitable to continue the manufacture at Chilka. A similar fate befell three factories which had been opened by Government in Orissa; nowhere north of this has the karkatch system been continued. The question of resuming manufacture has been considered on more than one occasion, but on all the grounds mentioned it was held to be impracticable. Conditions in Bengal are even worse than they were at the Chilka Lake. The Chilka Lake itself was even below the density of ordinary sea water. But the sea water at the north of the Bay is largely charged with silt, while it is weak in brine owing to the large influx of fresh water from the numerous rivers. The climatic conditions too are unfavourable—the thunderstorms in March and April would repeatedly retard production and also destroy salt in the process of manufacture.

These are difficulties, but notwithstanding them, Government are prepared to give favourable consideration to any scheme which may be put forward for the manufacture of salt under conditions which will ensure the necessary supervision and safeguard the revenue. The Hon'ble Babu S. N. Ray refers to a statement that the people of Chittagong could very well manufacture and sell salt at 2 or 3 pice per seer, and, if the present restraint were discontinued, could compete with the imported salt. Other members have also commented on the possibilities of manufacture in Chittagong. Now we have had applications for permission to manufacture salt in Chittagong. In the beginning of December Government received applications to manufacture locally from certain merchants in Chittagong. One of them stated that he had resources enough to manufacture salt on a large scale. The Excise Commissioner was recalled from tour and sent down to Chittagong to see the applicants, find out exactly what they proposed to do, and assist them in working out their proposals. Mr. Moberly found that the applicants had very vague ideas as to how they wished to proceed; they had worked out inadequate proposals and not even made any preliminary enquiries as to whether the venture, which was to be on a permanent footing, would be profitable or otherwise. One of the applicants intended to collect salt earth, but he had never seen the soils on which he intended to operate and their extent. The advice and assistance of the Salt Department were placed at their disposal and in the light of the information given they have been considering whether they would proceed. We are still awaiting their decision.

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

Their difficulty may be realised when I read the following extracts from a report, received only yesterday, from the Superintendent of Salt in Chittagong, who was instructed to assist them. I may mention that the Superintendent of Salt, Chittagong, placed his launch at the disposal of the petitioners, and the best saline soils in the district were visited by them. The Superintendent had also shown them the saline survey registers of the district (prepared roughly about ten years ago) and pointed out to them the vast changes (in the disappearance of salinity from many areas) which had occurred in recent years. The entries in the registers themselves gave no hope of areas large enough for that purpose. This is what the report says :—

'We found the vast plain, on which he (the applicant) relied, was overgrown with grass. Residents said a little saline would effloresce in Choit if the rain held off. Small patches of saline sand were pointed out at the margin of the sea, too small to deserve mention. It was admitted that this sand did not yield even 10 per cent. of its weight of salt when filtered. He was convinced that the site was worthless.'

This is rather different from the 50 per cent. quoted by the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

'Again on the 29th December, I accompanied two of the applicants to Kutubdia Island and on the 30th to the sea-face of Khankhanabad and showed them what soils there were. The western shore of Kutubdia Island has a belt of saline sand on the margin of the sea about 5 yards wide and extending the full length of the island at intervals. The sand gets its salinity from the spring tides—not from sub-soil brine. A square yard of this sand was collected by them. They admitted that it did not yield even 10 per cent. of its weight of salt. I pointed out to them that this sand could only be scraped about twice a month for about three days at a time. They then proceeded to inspect the saline soils mentioned in the survey registers as lying along the Pilotkata Khal. These were found to have lost their salinity. No fuel was found anywhere in situ.'

'The next day the soils near Khankhanabad were inspected. These were also patches of saline sand, very poor in quantity. The applicants at once saw that the locality was hopeless for their purpose and expressed a wish to examine the soils at Gohira during the neap tides on 7th January before coming to a decision.'

'On the 7th January 1918 I accompanied one of the applicants and inspected the coast between the mouth of the rivers Karnafuli and Sanko, a distance of about 8 miles. An almost continuous belt of saline sand averaging 5 yards in width was found to contain very extensive scrapings, but the only area containing salt earth was a small patch near Gobadia village on the Karnafuli left bank which we visited on our return. The applicant took samples of both the sand and of the earth and promised to let me have his decision on the 15th instant positively, but I have received no communication from him till now.'

"The deposits of salt earth, which would afford a perennial source of the raw material required for manufacture, are almost entirely absent. Along the extensive coast line is found a narrow stretch of what may be termed saliferous sand. The spring tides impregnate patches of sand of slightly lower level than the margin of the sea with salt. The quantity of salt in this thin cake of sand may be roughly stated to be about 10 per cent. of its weight.'

These extracts show that Chittagong seems hardly so pre-eminently fitted for the manufacture of salt as the Hon'ble Member's informant would submit, and that panga manufacture on the old lines is out of the question. But, as I have said, if the applicants will put forward a workable scheme, Government will consider it favourably.

The Hon'ble mover would go further. He asks that we should allow the salt manufactured by the people for their own consumption to be free from duty. I am afraid we cannot agree to this. It must be remembered that salt is one of the items of taxation, and so long as it is a dutiable article, it is impossible to relieve any particular section of the community to the exclusion of the others. Manufacture for local consumption will be possible only in certain localities—those bordering on the sea—but if the people in these places are not required to pay the salt tax, why, as the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur has remarked, should those in, say, Northern Bengal not be exempted, and why not the peoples of Bombay, Madras and the Punjab, in which provinces there is a considerable production of salt? As long as the salt tax subsists as an item of taxation, preferential treatment cannot be accorded to any particular province or locality. And again general freedom to manufacture is open to the objection that the concession would certainly be abused—illicit practices would soon prevail—illicit manufacture for sale, illicit sales and the like. Government cannot, on these grounds, agree to any proposal to permit manufacture duty free. In one direction, however, a slight relaxation of the existing instructions has been made. Under old orders Magistrates were enjoined to exercise discretion in the prosecution of poor persons for first offences in the manufacture of salt for domestic consumption. Government have gone a little further and some time ago directions were issued to the salt preventive establishment to ignore for the time being manufacture on a small scale for personal and domestic consumption only. But we cannot, for the reasons I have mentioned, agree to the adoption of a general policy on the lines suggested.

Government will then, as I have said, give favourable consideration to any workable proposals to manufacture salt that may be submitted, and are assisting would be manufacturers in working out their proposals. It is impossible for us, however, to accept the policy outlined in the resolution in the second part of the amendment. We have gone some way already to meet the case of the very few. Government are in the closest touch with the situation and they are doing all in their power to prevent the recurrence of conditions which led to the looting that has taken place. The position is to-day, as the Hon'ble Member himself has shown, far better than it was two months ago: prices have dropped, salt stocks are better and ample supplies are assured, and I may add that Government are giving serious consideration to the question of regulating prices and other measures for preventing speculative operations. In the light of these observations, the Hon'ble Members will probably be willing to withdraw the resolution and the amendment. But I would again repeat that we cannot accept a proposal that would allow general manufacture of salt without payment of duty."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said:—

"Sir, in fact what I had to say in reply to the Hon'ble Mr. Carter's speech has been said by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter, who has told you why Government ought to encourage the manufacture of salt—that is the first part of my resolution—but whether the manufacture of salt will be profitable to the people or not is no concern of Government. What the Government ought to do and what I also said in my opening speech is, let not Government interfere with the private parties manufacturing their own salt. On the other hand, it is the duty of Government at a juncture like this to encourage the manufacture of salt. We want salt for our own use; we do not want to make salt for profiteering. Sir, the Hon'ble Mr. Carter has said that salt duty is the only tax which the millions of people of India pay to the Imperial Exchequer. That has been the argument not only of Mr. Carter to-day in this Council but that also was the argument of officials in the Imperial Council when this question was discussed in the year 1905 and again in the year 1907. They said that it is the only tax which the millions of people of India pay and that they pay no other taxes. I can only say this that the millions of the people of India pay the land tax and the land tax in India is a very large amount of Government revenue. Every agriculturist has to pay for the land he tills to the landlord whether the landlord be zamindar or the Government, so that it is not a fact that the salt tax is the only tax which is paid by the millions of India. My Hon'ble friend Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter has asked how the loss of revenue was to be recouped. At a critical time like this Government must be prepared to make some sacrifice, and as a matter of fact my resolution is a very modest one. It is only this, that to those who will manufacture salt for their own use, it may be duty-free. The loss to Government won't come up to a very large amount after all. Both the Hon'ble Mr. Carter and Mr. Donald said that the conditions have changed and that there is now much fresh water in the mouth of the Bay of Bengal and that we do not find patches of earth full of saline water now. All I can say is that it is news to me that within the last 30 or 40 years the water of the Bay of Bengal has lost its saline character. At one time salt used to be manufactured in very large quantities in Hijli in Midnapore. I have quoted a passage from Mr. O'Malley's book which shows that in the year 1776 Mr. Grant reported that 850,000 maunds of salt used to be manufactured in that subdivision of the Midnapore district alone, but we hear now that channels have been cut and there is much fresh water there. I really cannot understand why we cannot manufacture salt now so as to make it profitable and paying to the poor people. I am very much thankful and the country will feel thankful to the Hon'ble Mr. Donald for the statement that he has made in this Council that Government has already been trying to assist one gentleman of Chittagong who is going to manufacture salt."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Three or four gentlemen."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY continued—

"This, I say, is a move in the right direction. It is necessary that Government should give publicity and a wider publicity to all that Government intend to do in this matter. I also understand from what the Hon'ble Mr. Donald said that there has been some order by Government not to prosecute those who will manufacture salt for their own domestic use. That is exactly what I wanted, that poor people may be allowed to manufacture salt for their own use and that they may not be prosecuted for it. I did not want anything more. My resolution does not go so far as my Hon'ble friend Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur's. I want to say that this is a time when Government ought to do all that they possibly can to help the poor people and to give publicity to all their intentions with reference to them. I should like to make one request, and that is that Government should give as wide a publicity as they can to the order that Government will not prosecute those who will manufacture salt for their own use. We are very much thankful to Government for their statement to-day in Council."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, will not the resolution be divided into two parts? There are really wo resolutions."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I will ask that the two parts of the resolution may be put separately."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Yes, it can be done under rule 22."

List of Business—Item No. 17.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that arrangements be made for the cash sale of publications of the Government of Bengal at the Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta.

He said :—

" Sir, I do not wish to burden the Council with too many details, as the resolution speaks for itself. The exact position may be realized, if I could mention one or two facts in this connection.

Formerly all Government publications were available at the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt. The customer had to go to the depôt and apply for the book he wanted. A chit was given to him with which he had to go to another office at the other end of the same building to deposit money there and bring a receipt, on production of which the book was delivered to him. This, of course, meant a little delay, but the remedy has been worse than the disease. Now, in most cases, the agents for the sale of Government publications do not care to replenish their stock, with the result that the intending purchaser has, in the first instance, to go to the depôt to inspect the book and then to come to one of the agents to book his order. The depôt people naturally feel chary to allow inspection, as since 1914, they have stopped the cash sale of books to customers direct, having appointed several agents in Calcutta, allowing them a commission of 33⅓ per cent. on the sale-price of books. When the agent has not got the book in stock, he generally accepts the price and writes out an order on the printed form of his firm and hands over the same to the customer who has again to run to the depôt and take delivery of the book there, on behalf of the agent. It is true, in some cases, the agents send their own messenger to the book depôt to get the books, but this they hardly care to do in cases where the value of the books ordered is small. The inconvenience of the customers may be better imagined than described. In the office of the Superintendent of India Government Publications, Hastings Street, Calcutta, books are sold direct to the customers on payment of the price without any delay. Inspection of books is freely allowed there. This system, if followed by the Government of of Bengal, would result in the removal of an inconvenience from which purchasers of publications of this Government suffer at present. I, therefore, hope that my resolution may be accepted by the Council."

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, I am somewhat surprised that such a trivial matter should be brought before this Council by my Hon'ble friend. My Hon'ble friend complains of the present system by which one is obliged to get his book supplied as regards Government publications from one of the booksellers of the town and he considers that it is more convenient to get these things from the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt. I happen to be a resident of Calcutta while my Hon'ble friend comes from Hooghly. Probably he does not mind the inconvenience which a messenger from Hooghly is put to in getting a book from the Secretariat Book Depôt under the conditions of former days. Speaking for myself I think the present system under which Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., Newman & Co. and Cambray & Co. are permitted to sell these publications is most convenient to the public. Besides they are very obliging in serving their customers, more than a Government office is expected to be. You have only to send a letter to one of these shops and you get your book as soon as possible. Probably they will send it by post to Hooghly. If you write to them for a book on inspection they will send it to you and if you do not like to buy it you can return it. I, therefore, oppose the resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Sir, the present arrangement was the result of action taken on a complaint made some years ago that to pay for a book purchased in the Book Depôt one had to go to the other end of Writers' Buildings. That complaint was considered and the arrangement which now exists was adopted. It is not however a satisfactory arrangement and as the Hon'ble mover has said the remedy is almost worse than the disease. We are prepared again to make arrangements for sale at the Book Depôt and Government will accept the Hon'ble Member's resolution."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Resolutions.

Adjournment.

List of Business—Item No. 18.

The following resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to remodel the sluice in the Damodar left embankment on the western border of mauza Gazipore in thana Amta, in the district of Howrah, by widening the size of the existing narrow vent and lowering the floor of the said sluice with a view to draining out the stagnant rain-water from the paddy fields and preventing any further damage to the winter rice crop of mauzas Sonamukhi and Gazipore.

He said :—

"Sir, may I ask for the postponement of this resolution for discussion at the next meeting? The reason is that it is already late and consequently if this view is acceptable to you, Sir, I request you to postpone it."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, postponed till the next meeting of the Council.

List of Business—Item No. 19.

The following resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. IRWIN :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(i) the teaching of Hygiene and Sanitation by duly qualified teachers be made compulsory in all State aided schools, both for boys and girls. in the Province ;

(ii) these subjects be included as compulsory subjects for the University Matriculation Examination ; and (iii) provision for the above be made in the next Budget.

He said :—

"Sir, the resolution which stands in my name is, I know, considered of very great importance to the people of this country by many members of this Council and it is quite evident that at the present hour and in the present state of the House it is hopeless to expect a good debate upon it. I would, therefore, request your permission to postpone it until the next Council meeting."

The resolution was then. by leave of the President, postponed till the next meeting of the Council.

Adjournment.

The Council was then adjourned to Tuesday, the 19th February, 1918, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1917-18.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1915-16, the area under Sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 9·2 per cent. of the total area under Sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the Season.—Since the issue of the second forecast, the weather conditions have been favourable on the whole. Excessive rainfall and flood accompanied by storm in October caused considerable damage to the crop in the Northern and Western districts. In the Eastern districts, however, a good crop is expected.

Acreage.—The area planted with sugarcane this year is estimated at 207·400 against 203·600 acres last year (now revised) and 220·200 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report it will be seen that twelve districts report a crop between 90 and 100 per cent, eight districts between 80 and 87 per cent., and five between 70 and 77 per cent. The districts of Howrah and Darjeeling report a crop as low as 63 and 62 per cent. of the normal respectively.

According to estimates of district officers, the total outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 89 per cent. of the normal against 80 per cent. last year.

Taking 35½ maunds as the normal rate of cane-gúr per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 4,814,300 cwts. against 4,248,200 cwts. last year (now revised), and 4,594,500 cwts. as reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gúr likely to be obtained this year from date palm juice is estimated at 2,022,400 cwts. and from palmyra palm juice 1,400 cwts. against 1,994,600 cwts. and 1,400 cwts., respectively, last year. The total quantity of gúr in the Province from all sources this year is thus returned at 6,838,100 against 6,244,200 cwts. (revised) last year and 6,590,500 cwts. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1917-18.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1915-16, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 18·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the second forecast in December the weather was dry and the season was generally favourable for harvesting.

Acreage.—According to the estimates furnished by the District Officers, the total acreage for the Province amounts to 15,515,500 acres against 15,667,400 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The decrease in area, as explained in the preliminary forecast, was due to the weather being too dry during the transplanting period.

Outturn.—From the appended summary of the district returns it will be seen that seven districts, viz., 24-Parganas, Khulna, Burdwan, Bankura, Malda, Dacca and Bakarganj have returned a crop above the normal; eleven districts a normal crop and eight districts crops varying from 80 to 96 per cent. The Chittagong Hill Tracts have reported a crop as low as 75 per cent.

According to the above estimates the provincial outturn works out to a normal crop, i.e., 100 per cent., as compared with 94 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of the last year.

Taking 12 maunds as the normal yield of clean grain per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 136,789,700 cwts. against 129,841,200 cwts. in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Third and final report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1917-18.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1916-17).	This year (1917-18).	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	529,700	880,400	92	117	November; normal ...	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to more land having been brought under cultivation owing to reclamation in the Sunderbans. The weather was favourable on the whole. Slight damage was reported from Diamond Harbour and Barrackpore Subdivisions owing to heavy rain in October.
Nadia	136,800	117,400	123,800	83	83	End of November; normal.	The weather was favourable. Some damage was done to the crop by flood in Meherpur and Ranaghat Subdivisions and in Sadar Kaliagunge and Nakashipara thanas in the Sadar Subdivision. The outturn was below the normal owing to want of timely rain.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	306,500	312,100	83	92	Middle of November; normal.	The weather was favourable. Heavy rain and flood in October caused damage to the crop to the extent of about 8 per cent.
Jessore ...	568,100	455,500	463,000	92	96	November; normal ...	The decrease in area as compared with that of the second forecast is due to revision of estimates made by the Subdivisional Officer, Jhenidah, and some thana officers in Sadar Subdivision. The weather was favourable. Slight damage was done to the crop by flood. The good outturn is due to fair distribution of rain throughout the season.
Khulna ...	748,300	748,300	750,000	85	108	Ditto	The outturn was above the normal owing to favourable weather and timely rainfall.
Burdwan ...	874,800	580,000	716,000	83	108	Beginning of November to beginning of December.	Heavy rainfall at the end of October was to a certain extent injurious to the crop. Damage to the extent of 9 annas was done to the crop in the flooded area by the floods of the Damodar and the Adjai and to the extent of 2 annas in Asansol Subdivision by heavy rainfall and insect pest. On the whole, a good outturn was harvested.
Birbhum ...	604,600	595,000	601,500	100	100	Beginning of December; normal.	The increase in area as compared with last year was due to good rainfall at the beginning of the year. The heavy rainfall in September and October considerably damaged the crop over wide areas by causing a disease commonly known as "Bhopu." On the whole, a normal outturn was reaped.
Bankura ...	510,600	510,600	520,000	133	117	Ditto	The weather was favourable. Making allowance for the slight damage done by "Bhopu pest," the outturn was above the normal owing to weather being very favourable throughout.
Midnapore	1,579,400	1,640,000	1,637,000	94	100	End of November; normal.	The weather was favourable except in the low-lying areas which suffered from floods and water-logging. The outturn was however normal.
Hooghly	276,700	200,900	196,000	68	100	Middle of November; normal.	Since the submission of the second forecast the weather was favourable. About 4 annas crop was damaged by floods in Arambagh Subdivision. A normal outturn was harvested.
Howrah	125,300	112 000	119,300	75	87	Ditto ...	There has been a slight improvement in the outturn as compared with the second forecast.
Rajshahi	697,000	566,300	562,600	80	80	First week of December	The decrease in area as compared with the area shown last year was due to want of rainfall at sowing time. The weather was favourable. Slight damage was reported to have been caused owing to the heavy rainfall and storm in October. Hence the outturn was below the normal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1917-18.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1915-16 the area under the Cotton Crops in Bengal has represented some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.)

Explanatory.—The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh. The late crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore districts only.

Character of the season.—Weather conditions during the season are reported to have been generally unfavourable for cotton owing chiefly to excessive rainfall in June, July and October. The early crop has suffered most and a reduced outturn is expected. The condition of the late crop is reported to be fair.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is estimated at 69,130 acres as against 70,806 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The area sown with the late variety is returned at 2,103 acres, the figures being the same as last year's.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn from the early crop works out at 17,786 bales of cotton as against 18,849 bales reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The outturn from the late crop is estimated at 1,068 bales as against the same figure last year.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charge of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.	(a) In consequence of the general revision of assessment enforced from the beginning of the current financial year, the income from taxes on holdings has increased to the extent of Rs. 885 per annum, thereby considerably improving the financial position of the municipality.
(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenue of the municipality.	(b) The Government in approving the scheme under Notification No 806M., dated 26th March 1915 (which was sanctioned under Notification No. 1674M., dated 19th July 1915), directed that "the water-rate will be levied at 6 per cent. on the value of holdings", and estimated the annual maintenance charge at Rs 7,000. The Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, in his letter No. 117, dated 12th January 1916, has guaranteed that the annual maintenance charge would not exceed Rs. 6,000 per annum on account of the improved pattern of machinery to be supplied by the contractors. Under the circumstances while the probable annual income from the water-rate as per newly revised assessment would be Rs. 8,000, approximately Rs. 6,000 only would be required as maintenance charge, leaving a surplus of Rs. 2,000 which will facilitate the repayment of the loan.
(c) A statement of all outstanding loans, specifying in respect of each loan, the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charge involved, and the amount still payable.	(c) Nil
(d) Any explanation in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.	(d) The ordinary average surplus as shown in column 20 does not indicate the present improved financial position of the municipality—Vide remarks under notes (a) and (b).

(2) Such sketch may be drawn up—

(a) by the Sanitary Engineer at the request of the local authority; or

(b) by the District Engineer; or

(c) by any other engineer in the employ of the local authority or specially appointed for the purpose, subject in either case to the selection of such officer being approved of by the Sanitary Engineer; or

The revised estimates and plans must be prepared—

(a) in the case of schemes prepared and carried out by the District Engineer or any other Engineer in the employ of the local authority under rules 5, sub rule (1), clause (b), (i) and (ii) and rule 10, sub-rule (2), clause (a),—by the District or other Engineer entrusted with the work and scrutinised by the Sanitary Engineer ;

(b) in the case of schemes prepared and carried out by an Engineer specially appointed for the purpose or by a firm of Engineers of established reputation under rules 5, sub-rule (1), clause (b), (iii) and (iv), and rule 10, sub-rule (2), clause (b),—by the Engineer so appointed or the firm of Engineers and scrutinised by the Sanitary Engineer ;

(c) in all other cases—by the Sanitary Engineer.

Taking over of complete supervision and control by Sanitary Engineer.

9. (1) When requested by the local authority concerned, the Sanitary Engineer shall, if he considers that he can so arrange without detriment to the public service, take over the complete supervision and control of the work of carrying out any such project on the local authority undertaking to pay the percentages prescribed in rule 28. Such works are to be considered as contribution works and are to be carried out by the Sanitary Engineer's Department under the rules regarding such works in paragraphs 861 to 865 of the Public Works Code, except that the provision made for establishment, etc., may be the percentages prescribed in sub-rule (1) of rule 28 of these rules, or such percentages as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe, and need not be the established percentages laid down for the Bengal Presidency.

(2) In addition to the above percentages, the local authority shall bear all law charges on behalf of Government in any suit brought by contractors or others in connection with the execution of any project entrusted to the Sanitary Engineer, in which Government or its officers may be joined as parties with the local authority or its representatives :

Provided that no charge will be paid by the local authority under this sub-rule, if, in the opinion of the Government, the suit is due to the malfeasance or negligence of the Sanitary Engineer or an officer subordinate to him.

Conditions as to detailed engineering supervision.

10. (1) Where the cost of the projected work is estimated to amount to Rs. 10,000 or more, adequate provision for detailed engineering supervision shall be a condition precedent to the grant of final sanction by the Government.

(2) In the absence of special sanction to the contrary, one of the following arrangements shall be made :—

(a) that, with the previous approval of the Sanitary Engineer, the work be carried out under the supervision of the District Engineer or any other Engineer in the employ of the local authority ;

(b) that the work be carried out under the supervision of an Engineer specially employed for the purpose, assisted by an adequate establishment of properly qualified overseers, the name and qualifications of the Engineer having been previously submitted to the Sanitary Engineer and approved by him ; or

(c) that the work be carried out under the complete supervision or control of the Sanitary Engineer under the arrangement provided for in rule 9.

(3) In the cases of conditions mentioned in clauses (a) and (b), of sub-rule (2), work while in progress shall be subject to the inspection and control of the Sanitary Engineer.

Report by local authority to the Commissioner in case of small work.

11. Where the estimated cost of works amounts to less than Rs. 10,000, but more than Rs. 5,000, the local authority shall report, for the information of the Commissioner of the Division, the agency by which it is proposed to have such works carried out, and shall follow the instructions issued by him in the matter.

Tenders and Contracts.

12. In the case of any work to be carried out in accordance with condition mentioned in clause (a) or clause (b) of sub-rule (2, of rule 10, procedure prescribed by rules (rules 13 to 24) shall be followed.

Preparation of drawings, specifications, forms of tender, etc.

13. When requested by the local authority the Sanitary Engineer shall prepare working or contract drawings, specifications, estimates, bills of quantities, forms of tender, or other documents or plans required for the execution of sanitary engineering works which have been duly sanctioned and which are to be let out by contract, as well as forms of advertisement inviting tenders for such works.

Approval of Sanitary Engineer to drawings, specifications, forms of tender, etc

14. When drawings, specifications, bills of quantities, forms of tender, and other documents referred to in rule 13 are not prepared by the Sanitary Engineer, such drawings, specifications, etc., shall be submitted to the Sanitary Engineer for his approval in writing before tenders for the contract of such work are advertised for in the public press.

Advertisements inviting tenders.

15. Every advertisement for tenders shall briefly describe the works required to be carried out, the place or places where plans and drawings can be seen, and copies of the specifications and forms of tender obtained, the deposit to be paid by any person making a tender, and the date and hour up to which tenders shall be received by the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority.

Approval of plans, drawings, specifications, forms of tender, etc., by the local authority.

16. The plans, drawings specifications, bills of quantities, forms of tender and advertisements shall be formally approved by the local authority. Whenever the said authority desires to make any alteration in any one of such documents, the Sanitary Engineer shall be informed and his advice obtained with regard to such alteration.

Submission and receipt of tenders

17. All tenders shall be submitted in sealed covers addressed to the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority, and such officer shall attend in person at the office of that authority or at any other place to which it may be directed that tenders shall be forwarded at the latest hour specified in the advertisement for the receipt thereof. Any tender received after such hour shall be out of order and shall not be accepted.

Opening and numbering of tenders.

18. The Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority shall himself open the tenders, shall number each tender, and shall note thereon the exact time at which it was opened.

Check and scrutiny of tender

19. After the tenders have been opened, they shall be sent for check and scrutiny to the Sanitary Engineer, or, in cases where the District Engineer or any other Engineer in the employ of the local authority is entrusted with the work, to the District Engineer, who shall, in case of difficulty or uncertainty, consult the Sanitary Engineer.

Return of tenders after check and scrutiny

20. The Sanitary Engineer, or the District Engineer in charge, as the case may be, shall, after checking and scrutinising the tenders, return them to the local authority with his remarks and recommendations.

Consideration of tenders

21. The local authority shall thereafter consider the tenders and either accept one of them provisionally or, if necessary or desirable, refer the question to the Sanitary Engineer for further advice.

Acceptance of tender.

22. No tender shall be accepted which is not in order, is not fully priced out and is not in every way in accordance with the instructions contained in the advertisement inviting such tenders. Any alteration or reduction in a tender made by the person making the tender after the same has once been submitted shall (except in the case of a palpable arithmetical error) at once render the tender out of order.

Discharge of tenders and advertisement for fresh tenders.

23. If it is found that none of the tenders submitted is satisfactory, or if for any reason it is believed that the conditions of tendering have not been properly understood, so that fair tenders have not been received, all such tenders shall be discharged and fresh tenders shall be advertised for.

Provisional acceptance and submission of a tender to the Sanitary Engineer.

24. After a tender has been provisionally accepted, it shall be submitted to the Sanitary Engineer for final approval, together with all other tenders received for the work, and until such approval has been received no tender shall be finally accepted by the local authority:

Provided that, in case of difference of opinion between the local authority and the Sanitary Engineer in regard to the acceptance of a particular tender, the matter shall, if the local authority so desires, be referred to the Chief Engineer, Roads and Buildings, whose decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

25. Cases of works carried out under the complete supervision or control of the Sanitary Engineer in accordance with the condition mentioned in clause (c) of sub-rule (2) of rule 10 shall be governed by the rules contained in Chapter VIII of the Public Works Department Code. For the purposes of the said rules the Sanitary Engineer shall have the powers of a Superintending Engineer.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1917.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Land Revenue.

CALCUTTA, THE 11TH FEBRUARY 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 1464L.R.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending 30th September 1917.

WAR economy restricted the operations of the Survey and Settlement Departments, and no new district was taken up for major operations. In Government and temporarily-settled estates no resettlements were undertaken unless there was a likelihood of an increase of revenue sufficient to cover the expenditure within a year. The result was a large number of summary settlements extending the terms of previous settlements.

It was, however, realized that unless new operations were undertaken, the highly trained staffs of the Survey and Settlement Departments would have to be disbanded, and the greatest difficulty would be experienced not only in finding employment for the parmanent staff and establishment, but also in re-constituting the departments when normal conditions returned. The Governor in Council, therefore, while giving full weight to the need for economy, came to the conclusion that sufficient work should be provided in future to ensure the continuous employment of three survey and settlement parties. Accordingly arrangements were made during the year to start the traverse survey of Nadia district at the end of 1917 and to resume the operations in Jessore and Bankura, the Asansol subdivision of Burdwan district being combined with Bankura for the sake of expediting the preparation of up-to-date maps in the coal district.

2. The traverse operations comprising 903 square miles were mainly carried on in Tippera district, and in the Ganges diara in connection with the settlement operations in Rajshahi. An area of 717 square miles in thanas Muradnagar, Chandina, Comilla, Laksam and Chaudagram was surveyed in Tippera. This completed the traverse survey of the district. The traverse survey of the third and last block of 186 square miles of the Ganges diara, including the chars and low lands in the districts of Murshidabad and Malda, was also completed. Lost stations in parts of Bankura and Jessore districts traversed in 1914-15 were re-fixed in an area of 493 square miles in view of the inception of cadastral operations in those districts in the present field season.

3. Considerable progress was made in comparative mapping of diara areas and plotting for jurisdiction maps. There was an output of over a million and a half of copies of cadastral village maps in addition to the production of standard sheets for 3,786 square miles. Miscellaneous work connected with the survey and mapping of municipalities and scattered areas in various parts of the Presidency was also undertaken.

4. The Government Survey School near Comilla was put on a permanent basis. Exclusive of the ordinary students five district Kanungos and seven selected candidates for Kanungoship completed their course of training. The result of the annual examination was satisfactory.

5. As a result of deputation at the India Office in 1916, Major Hirst compiled a fuller and revised edition of a memoir of James Rennell's surveys of Bengal made between the years 1764 and 1777 in which the technical value of Rennell's maps is examined. The memoir is illustrated by a new atlas containing important unpublished maps by the first Surveyor-General of India.

6. Major cadastral and settlement operations were in progress in Dacca, Mymensingh, Midnapore, Rajshahi and Tippera-Noakhali. Altogether 1,211 square miles of country were cadastrally surveyed against 1,811 square miles in the previous year. Records for 1,891 square miles were attested; and final records for 3,468 square miles were prepared against 3,632 and 5,302 square miles, respectively, in the previous year. In minor operations 28 square miles were surveyed and records of 112 square miles were finally published. The total area for which a record-of-rights has been completed in the Presidency is 24,404 square miles.

The settlement of Dacca district is practically completed, but cannot be closed yet on account of an abnormal accession of case-work. The diara operations in Faridpur, Dacca, Pabna and Tippera carried out by the Settlement Officer of Dacca were approved and gazetted in Notification No. 442T.R., dated the 2nd May 1917.

In Mymensingh attestation, disposal of objections, final scrutiny of the record and compilation of statistics for the whole district were finished. Fair progress was made in most of the other branches of work. Over 63,000 cases for settlement of fair rents were decided, the landlords obtaining the substantial increase of 35 per cent. on their existing rental mostly on the ground of assessment of excess areas. The long-standing disputes relating to the nature of the jotes in Patiladaha pargana were settled. Most of the suits were compromised : the landlords on their part recognized the tenants as occupancy raiyats, while the tenants admitted the occupancy rights of the sub-tenants by custom. In a few cases the jotes have been declared on appeal to be permanent or temporary tenures. The revision of land revenue in 76 estates with an area of 36 square miles was effected, resulting in an increase of 76 per cent. mostly due to increase of area.

Attestation and disposal of objections were finished in Midnapore, and it is hoped that the settlement in this district will be completed in the financial year 1918-19. The year's result of applications for settlement of fair rents in zamindari areas was an increase 20 per cent. in the rent of cultivating tenants. Good progress was made in diara resumption.

Field work from cadastral survey to bujharat (field-to-field verification of map and record) is now complete for the whole of Rajshahi. In the course of attestation of the diara area of the fourth block there came up for decision the contentious question of the status of utbandi tenants, to which allusion was made in last year's resolution. Landlords were found to be in the habit of letting out all lands which came into their khas possession as subject to section 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The Director of Land Records discussed the question at a meeting with the leading landlords of Nadia, Murshidabad and neighbouring districts ; and Government after consulting the Advocate-General have approved of rules for dealing with utbandi tenancies during settlement operations. Stated very briefly the position is as follows : an utbandi tenant under certain special conditions stated in section 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is restricted in his acquisition of occupancy rights : the rules seek to ensure that tenants designated as utbandi tenant shall only be restricted in their rights where the incidents of their tenancies make the term utbandi truly applicable and where those special conditions in fact exist.

In Tippera-Noakhali the work is well advanced. The physically awkward area of 745 square miles comprised in thanas Matlabbazar, Daudkandi, Nabinagar, Brahmanbaria, and Kasba passed the stages of survey, preliminary record-writing and attestation. Much difficulty was found in dealing with the lands of the Sarail Ward's Estate, where most of the tenants had several unamalgamated holdings within one estate. Attestation in the second block (Lakhmipur, Ramganj, Hatiya in Noakhali and Chandpur and Hajiganj in Tippera) proceeded smoothly.

7. Recovery of costs progressed successfully in the five major settlements, the amount collected being Rs. 28¾ lakhs out of Rs. 37¾ lakhs outstanding at the beginning of the year in the six districts concerned. Over 98 per cent. of the demands against raiyats was amicably paid in the Dacca district. Coercive measures were sparingly used in Mymensingh, and indeed, except in Midnapore against tenure-holders and petty landlords, were not required to any considerable extent. A sum of Rs. 14,153 on account of the completed settlements of Faridpur and Jalpaiguri remained to be realized by certificate procedure.

8. Satisfactory progress was made with cess revaluation undertaken by the Settlement Officers of Rajshahi and Tippera-Noakhali.

9. It is evident from his careful financial analysis of each settlement that the Director has, as in previous years, kept close watch over expenditure ; and His Excellency in Council notes with satisfaction that in no case has it exceeded the estimate, while at the same time the progress of work has been maintained in accordance with programmes. During the year Government dealt with the Director's report on the increase in expenditure in Midnapore settlement as compared with the sanctioned estimate. It disclosed the fact that the incidence of the actual total number of plots and interests was 1,449 plots and 449 interests to the square mile against 1,294 plots and 339 interests on which the original estimate was based. This increase of 32 per cent. in the number of interests apart from the increased number of plots was large enough to vitiate the sanctioned estimate. A revised estimate based on actual data was sanctioned.

10. The revision of the record-of-rights of the Fatehsingh Estate belonging to the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad was completed. The landlord's copy of this revised record will henceforth be maintained at the Nawab Bahadur's expense by Government agency on terms and conditions already approved, with a view to the application of the Certificate procedure for realization of rents. Maintenance has started and the working of this first experiment of the procedure provided for in section 158A of the Bengal Tenancy Act will be watched with much interest.

11. The Director of Land Records gives a gratifying account of the increasing popularity of the settlement records and maps in all departments of the administration and among the public. A considerable quantity of villages and thana maps was issued. In Mymensingh alone the sale of printed khatians fetched Rs. 33,000.

12. Mr. J. C. Nixon officiated as Director of Surveys till Major Hirst's return from furlough on the 18th December. Major Hirst temporarily reverted to military duty on the 20th May, and was succeeded by Mr. C. A. O'Donel who promises to be a capable administrator of the Department. Mr. M. C. McAlpin, I.C.S., held charge of the Settlement Department throughout the year. The Governor in Council has much pleasure in again acknowledging his valuable services and takes this opportunity of thanking him for his assistance to Government in framing the amendments to the Bengal Tenancy Act for the restriction of alienation of land by aboriginal tribes, which were passed into law by the Bengal Legislative Council on the 22nd January 1918. This amendment of the law was the direct result of an enquiry held by Mr. McAlpin into the condition of Sonthal tenants, and his first-hand knowledge of the problems involved has been of the greatest value. The Governor in Council has read with satisfaction Mr. McAlpin's remarks on the work of Messrs. Sachse, Jameson, Nelson and Thompson, who fully maintained the reputations which they have earned on settlement duty. Their names and those of the officers mentioned in the last paragraphs of the Survey and Settlement reports will be noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of it together with copies of the two reports be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1916-17.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 391S.R. —The 9th February 1918.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt on the Administration of the Excise Department in Bengal during the year 1916-17 are published for general information.

J. DONALD,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 6397E., dated Calcutta, the 22nd December 1917.

From—A. N. MOBERLY, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the administration of the Excise Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1916-17.

I was in charge of the Department throughout the year,

* * * * * *

5. Temperance teaching in schools.—The following has been communicated to me in compliance with Government Memorandum No. 1850 S.R., dated the 24th September 1915, for incorporation in this report :—

No specific steps are reported during the year. * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * Lessons on temperance have already been included in readers for the lower classes of schools, and the question whether more advanced lessons should be included in the readers for higher classes, is under consideration in connection with the revision of the syllabus.

6. Temperance movements.—The temperance movement at Teknaaf continued, and the liquor shops were not reopened, although another case of illicit distillation occurred during the year. The Collector of Rajshahi reports that some of the Oraon immigrants in the Godagari and Neamatpur thanas became Bhakats and gave up the habit of drinking pachwai. The tribe is, however, divided as regards this movement, and it does not appear to have made much headway.

7. Excise Advisory Committees.—Excise Advisory Committees were convened for all municipalities outside the Calcutta district and for all rural areas.

* * * * * *

8. Licensing Boards.—In order that the Boards might be associated with the proposals for settlement at the earliest possible date the lists under section 30 of the Bengal Excise Act were prepared by the 1st September and submitted to the Boards for discussion and provisional approval before publication.

Each of the Boards held two meetings during the year.

10. Total revenue and charges * * * .—The Excise revenue and charges of the Presidency for the last five years are shown below :—

* * * * * *

12. Actual receipts.—Deducting the advance collections (Rs. 9,74,320) for 1917-18 and adding the revenue (Rs. 11,95,502) which was collected in advance in previous years and adjusted in 1916-17, the actual receipts on account of 1916-17 were Rs. 1,46,28,850 against Rs. 1,51,46,484 (after similar adjustment) of the preceding year, showing a decrease of Rs. 5,17,634 or 3·4 per cent.

* * * * * *

14. Revenue under different heads * * *.—The chief increases in receipts occurred under the heads "Duty on wines and spirits manufactured in India and excised at the tariff rate" (Rs. 1,62,706) and "Hemp drugs license fees and warehouse dues" (Rs. 92,686). There were large decreases under "Country spirit" (Rs. 6,20,228), "Opium" (Rs. 2,64,754) and "Pachwai" (Rs. 1,12,597). The only other considerable variations were an increase of Rs. 23,803 under "Tari", and a decrease of Rs. 41,643 under "License fees for sale of foreign liquor (general)".

15. Demand and collection * * *.—Taking the population of the Presidency of Bengal, according to the census of 1911, to be 45,329,247, the incidence of Excise revenue (exclusive of revenue derived from issues of excisable articles to other provinces, Native States and foreign countries) was 5 annas 1 pie against 5 annas 3 pies in the previous year.

16. Result of settlements for the current year up to 31st May 1917.—

* * * * * The settlements for the current year show an increase of Rs. 44,075. This comparison, however, gives an erroneous idea of the relative financial position in the two years as the greater part of the loss under country spirit license fees in Hooghly, Howrah and 24-Parganas will probably be recovered in the form of duty. The settlements may be estimated to produce an actual increase of about 2 lakhs over the settlements for 1916-17

The results under the different heads were as follows :—

	Rs.		Rs.		Rs.
Country spirit...	– 2,73,700	Fermented tari	+ 35,599	Hemp drugs...	+ 2,14,372
Foreign liquor...	– 27,582	Pachwai retail	+ 32,968	Opium ...	+ 62,418

License fees for country spirit decreased in 21 districts and increased in the remaining six districts. The decrease of Rs. 1,85,818 in Hooghly, Howrah and the 24-Parganas was due to the enhancement in the rate of duty and the introduction of the fixed fee system ; that in Calcutta automatically followed the heavy decrease in consumption in 1916-17. Elsewhere the decreases were generally due to the stricter observance of the instructions, which were again repeated during the year under review, that bids should be stopped when they showed a tendency to rise beyond a figure at which a vendor could make a fair profit by honest dealing without infringing the conditions of his license.

The decrease under foreign liquor was due to the decreased consumption which resulted from higher prices in the year under review. The greater part of the increases under tari and pachwai were contributed, respectively, by Calcutta, where some advance has been made towards the accurate valuation of tari shops, and Burdwan, where the increase represents a partial recovery from the heavy decrease in 1916-17. The increases under "Drugs" were fairly general. They were largest in the 24-Parganas (Rs. 99,091) and Hooghly (Rs. 54,300) and also exceeded Rs. 20,000 in Howrah, Dacca (where however, there was a decrease under "Opium"), Mymensingh, Dinajpur and Rangpur. The only heavy decrease was in Calcutta (Rs. 73,940) where it was the result of large decreases in consumption in 1916-17.

SECTION II.—Country Liquor.

* * * * * * *

Country Spirit

18. System.—The system of contract supply was the only system in force in this Presidency during the year under report.

19. Country spirit licenses.—The number of licenses for the sale of country spirit was 1,158 as compared with 1,164 in 1915-16, a decrease of 6. One shop was abolished in each of the districts of Burdwan, Khulna, Faridpur, Rajshahi, Malda and Darjeeling and 2 in Chittagong. On the other hand 2 new shops were opened in consultation with the Advisory Committees, one in Birbhum in a village, remote from other shops, where the demand was being met by illicit distillation, and the other in Dacca in an area between two large rivers in which there was no shop and of which the inhabitants had great difficulty in obtaining the supplies which they required from the existing shops, none of which were near. One shop on the boundary of Malda and Dinajpur was transferred from the former to the latter district on the principle that, when a shop is on the boundary of two areas in which the rates of duty vary, it should be located in the area in which the rate of duty is higher.

20. Consumption.—The total consumption of country spirit in the Presidency amounted to 626,454 proof gallons against 665,023 proof gallons in the preceding year, a decrease of 38,569 proof gallons. The most striking fluctuation was the fall of 65,030 proof gallons (23·9 per cent.) in Calcutta. With the introduction of the fixed fee system and the increase in the rate of duty the unhealthy competition of the previous year at once ceased, and in order to recoup themselves for their losses in 1915-16 the vendors raised their prices considerably. This sudden rise caused a very heavy decrease in the first quarter, after which the rate of decrease became slower. The fixed fee system has so far achieved its objects. It has checked the practice of pushing sales by undesirable methods, a fact which is reflected in the decrease in the number of cases of illicit sale of country spirit detected during the year, and the conduct of the vendors showed general improvement. The success of the system has justified its extension to a wider area from the 1st April 1917. At the same time the decreased consumption in Calcutta must be regarded as abnormal in so far as it was due to the suddenness of the rise of prices, to excessive dilution and to the fact that the demand must inevitably have been met to some extent from the neighbouring areas, in which the rate of duty was much lower than in Calcutta, owing to the decision with regard to Calcutta having been made when it was too late to adjust the rate of duty elsewhere. But although it cannot be expected that consumption will remain at the low level of 1916-17, Government are, now that strengths and prices have been fixed, in a far better position to check an abnormal increase by adjustments in the rate of duty than they have ever been before.

Outside Calcutta consumption increased by 26,461 proof gallons or 6·7 per cent. Agricultural conditions were generally better than in 1915-16 except in the eastern part of the Burdwan district, in Birbhum and Hooghly and in the Chittagong Division, and a tendency towards increase had already shown itself towards the end of that year. The largest increase, both actual and proportionate, amounting to 4,693 proof gallons or 27·9 per cent., occurred in Bankura, where famine conditions had prevailed in 1915-16, and there was an increase of 1,803 proof gallons in the adjoining district of Midnapore. The increase of 2,402 proof gallons (5·2 per cent.) in the 24-Parganas occurred in the Barrackpore subdivision and was probably due in part to smuggling into Calcutta. The increases of 1,114 proof gallons (14·? per cent.) in Murshidabad and 572 proof gallons (17·1 per cent.) in Jessore followed larger decreases in the previous year. The increases in the Dacca Division were partly due to the replacement of foreign liquor by country spirit owing to the high price of the former. In Dacca and Mymensingh, where they amounted to 1.163 proof gallons (8·6 per cent.) and 1,667 proof gallons (11·0 per cent.) respectively, better prices were obtained for jute, whilst in the latter district a large number of coolies were employed on railway construction. In Bakarganj sustained efforts to deal with the very prevalent offence of illicit distillation contributed to the increase which amounted to 602 proof gallons or 15·4 per cent. The improvement in economic conditions was most marked in the Rajshahi Division and consumption increased in every district, the largest increases occurring in Rangpur (4,006 proof gallons or 27·5 per cent.), Dinajpur (3.046 proof gallons or 27·3 per cent.), Malda (2,924 proof gallons or 22·8 per cent.), Jalpaiguri (2.614 proof gallons or 5·8 per cent.), Darjeeling (2,064 proof gallons or 6·9 per cent.), and Bogra (1,370 proof gallons or 17.7 per cent.). In Jalpaiguri the pressure of preventive operations on the illicit traffic in outstill liquor from Bhutan seems to be making itself felt to some extent and part of the increase must be attributed to this cause. An increase of prices would be desirable in this district if smuggling could be checked, but with a large labouring population, whose demand is for cheap spirit, irrespective of its source, any step in this direction would, under present conditions, merely lead to the substitution of illicit for licit liquor to an extent with which a much larger preventive establishment than that now employed would be unable to cope. In each of the other districts consumption is still far smaller than it was before the outbreak of war, and the consumption in the Rajshahi Division (excluding Jalpaiguri) was less by 25 per cent. in 1916-17 than in 1913-14.

The largest decrease outside Calcutta occurred in Hooghly and amounted to 3,177 proof gallons or 10 per cent. Part of this decrease properly belongs to 1915-16, as the vendors in the Serampore subdivision laid in large stocks in March 1916 just before the warehouse at Serampore was closed. Consumption in Burdwan decreased by 1,001 proof gallons, notwithstanding a small increase in the Asansol subdivision, as the crops were bad in the other parts of the district and were affected by floods. Elsewhere the chief decrease was one of 496 proof gallons (12·2 per cent.) in Chittagong, where economic conditions continued to be unsatisfactory and where the molasses spirit supplied from Asansol seems to be becoming increasingly unpopular among a population which prefers rice spirit.

21. Total revenue from country spirit.—The total revenue—license and distillery fees and duty—from country spirit was Rs. 57,13.259 against Rs. 63,33,487, a decrease of Rs. 6,20,228. The revenue derived from duty and distillery fees increased by Rs. 3,84,376, and that from license fees decreased by Rs. 10,04,604. The greater part of these fluctuations occurred in Calcutta, where duty and distillery fees increased by Rs. 2,62,020, owing to the enhancement in the rate of duty from Rs. 6-4 to Rs. 9-6 per proof gallon, whilst license fees decreased by Rs. 9,35,017, owing partly to their reduction on account of the increased rate of duty and partly to the fact that a larger proportion than usual had been realized in advance, whilst only half a month's fees instead of two months' fees were realized in 1916-17 as advance for 1917-18.

22. Convictions for drunkenness and action taken against licensees for permitting it.— * * * * In Calcutta 6,965 persons were convicted of drunkenness as compared with 6,763 in the previous year. Four cases have been reported—two from Calcutta and one from each of the districts of Faridpur and Bogra—in which vendors permitted drunkenness on or near licensed premises. All the cases were compounded under section 65 of the Bengal Excise Act on payment of sums of Rs. 200 and Rs. 100 in Calcutta, and of Rs. 50 and Rs. 20 in the districts of Faridpur and Bogra, respectively.

23. Distilleries and warehouses.—All the contracts for the supply of country spirit expired on the 31st March 1917. The contract for supply to Calcutta and the Sadar subdivisions of Howrah and the 24-Parganas was given for five years from the 1st April 1916 to Messrs. Haji Ismail Sait and Sons, who have taken over and remodelled the Russa Distillery and erected two Coffey stills, each of a capacity of 1,200 gallons of wash per hour. There are thus now three modern distilleries in the Presidency. The contracts for the remaining areas were divided between Messrs. Carew & Co. of Asansol and the Bengal Distilleries Company of Konnagar. The former were given a contract for five years from the 1st April 1916. The latter originally tendered for five years, but as they subsequently modified their tender they were given a contract for one year on the revised terms. This contract, which expired on the 31st March 1917, was extended for a further period of one year during the year under report.

Supplies from distilleries to the various bonded warehouses were generally adequate. Stocks occasionally fell below the prescribed minimum, but there were no instances in which they fell so low as to cause difficulty in supplying retail vendors.

Tari.

* * * * * *

25. Statistics.—The total number of licenses issued for the sale of fermented and fresh tari increased from 1,742 to 1,954 and the total receipts from Rs. 4,52,863 to Rs. 4,76,666 or by Rs. 23,803.

26. Fermented tari.—The number of fermented tari licenses decreased from 690 to 649. The chief reductions were effected in the 24-Parganas and Calcutta, where 12 and 10 shops, respectively, were abolished.
